

EDUC 8336 : Theories, Models, and Practice of Student Affairs

This course focuses on various contemporary theories and models of leadership in student affairs as well as key issues relating to student engagement and success, including the development and oversight of programs and services as well as resource management, enrollment, advising, and counseling.

Credits 3

Course ID

009445