

CRIM 5303 : Criminology Theory

This course determines the major theories used in Criminology. Special attention is given to the theory's history, hypothesis, assumptions, empirical validity; Catholic social justice applications to theories along with policy recommendations. Classical, biological, sociological, and integrated theories are critiqued and examined.

Credits 3

Course ID

009239

Semester Offered

Fall semester