

CU 2205 : Church History

This course seeks to give students a comprehensive summary of church history. Church History will survey development of the Church from its Jewish roots through the period of the Church Fathers on through the Vatican II era of the present day; attention will also be given of the American Catholic Church, including the early missionary period to the present. This course will include lecture, discussion, and primary source readings.

Credits 2

Course ID

002432