

HIST 3311 : Indo-Pacific History & Culture

Students in this course will study the rise and influence on world events of the vast but inter-connected Indo-Pacific region, geo-politically, economically and militarily, examining the international connections and tensions between Australia, Malaysia, Indonesia, South East Asia, India, New Zealand, and China.

Credits 3

Course ID

009267

Requisites

HIST Upper-Div Requisites: Second-semester sophomore standing (45+ credit hours).

Semester Offered

Fall semester, odd years