MATH 3346 : History of Mathematics

Evolution of mathematics from earliest to modern times. Major tends in mathematical thought, the interplay of mathematical and technological innovations, and the contributions of great mathematicians. Appropriate for prospective and in–service teachers. Prerequisite: Successful completion of a University core mathematics course.

Credits 3
Course ID
006157
Requisites
MATH 3346 Prerequisite: Successful completion of any lower-division MATH course.
Semester Offered

Fall semester