

MGMT 3320 : Business Communications

A practical, experienced-based introduction to business and professional communication using career-and-self-assessment and case studies on ethics, leadership, and diversity. Self-led student teams design and present a final project with a focus on oral and written communication skills. Fall, Spring.

Credits 3

Course ID

006913