

NURS 3553 : Holistic Nursing: Care of the Childbearing Family

This five-credit course focuses on the care of the childbearing family from a holistic nursing perspective and is grounded in the university philosophy that nursing is a caring ministry. A conceptual framework, derived from nursing science, life, behavioral and social sciences, humanities, theology and philosophy provides a foundation for clinical reasoning in providing family-centered holistic nursing care for women and their families throughout the childbearing process.

Credits 5

Course ID

007408

Requisites

NURS 3553 Requisites: Student Group NURS; Prerequisites: NURS 2342, 2642