NURS 4251 : Nursing Informatics

This two-credit course introduces students to basic concepts and tools associated with the structure, management, and communication of information to support the role of the nurse as a knowledge worker. Emphasis will be placed on use of clinical information systems, electronic health records and telecommunication technologies in nursing. This is a fully online course.

Credits 2
Course ID
008072
Requisites
NURS Course Prerequisite: Student Group NURS