

PE 1150 : Weight Training

Instruction will provide the student with an understanding of the theory of weight training principles through demonstration and examination. Practical on-site training through participation will include terminology, muscle groups and proper lifting techniques.

Credits 1

Course ID

001513