

CU 2225 : Anthropology

Course will provide a study of the human person in the light of Christian revelation as created in the image of God, fallen through original sin and restored in Christ, to include a systematic discussion of grace, justification, good works and merit in the history of theology with an orientation to contemporary ecumenical dialogue.

Credits 2

Course ID

009322

Semester Offered

Offered as needed