UNIVERSITY OF ST. THOMAS HOUSTON

2026-2027

The University of St. Thomas makes every effort to include in the Undergraduate Catalog accurate and current information on policies, programs and courses. However, the University reserves the right to make changes considered expedient for its general well–being or that of any of its constituencies. Furthermore, the provisions of the Undergraduate Catalog do not constitute an irrevocable contract between any student and the University, and all provisions of the Undergraduate Catalog remain subject to revision at any time for any reason and without prior notice.

Note: For archived copies of previous catalogs, please contact the university library at circulation@stthom.edu or the university registrar at registrar@stthom.edu.

The University

The University of St. Thomas (UST) is Houston's Catholic University, committed to the religious, ethical and intellectual traditions of Catholic higher education.

Mission Statement

We are the University of St. Thomas, the Catholic University in the heart of Houston. We are committed to the Catholic intellectual tradition and the dialogue between faith and reason. By pursuing excellence in teaching, scholarship and service, we embody and instill in our students the core values of our founders, the Basilian Fathers: goodness, discipline and knowledge.

The University of St. Thomas is a comprehensive university, grounded in the liberal arts. Committed to the unity of all knowledge, we offer programs in the traditional liberal arts, professional, and skilled-based disciplines. Graduates of the University of St. Thomas think critically, communicate effectively, succeed professionally, and lead ethically.

History of the University

The University of St. Thomas admitted its first freshman class, 40 men and women, on September 22, 1947. Of the ten faculty members, four were members of the Basilian Fathers, to whom the work of founding and operating the University had been entrusted. The Basilians, a congregation founded in France in 1822, had been working in the Diocese of Galveston–Houston since 1900, when they established the College of St. Thomas, now St. Thomas High School.

Bishop Christopher E. Byrne of Galveston–Houston had long hoped that a Catholic university might be established in his diocese, and in May of 1945 he announced that such an institution was about to become a reality. For that purpose the T.P. Lee mansion, located in the 3800 block of Montrose Boulevard, was purchased as a home for the new University, to which a science building and classrooms were soon added. From here a series of non–credit courses was taught from November 1946 until Easter 1947 to introduce students to what would be the University of St. Thomas.

With experience that was both practical and theoretical, the Basilian Fathers, led by Father Vincent J. Guinan, first president of the University, and Father Wilfrid Dwyer, vice president, shaped the initial curriculum. Influenced by the writings of Cardinal John Henry Newman as well as by their Basilian experience in Canada at St. Michael's College, the Pontifical Institute of Mediaeval Studies and Assumption College, they determined that all students should pursue a broad program in liberal studies intended to serve as a solid basis upon which to build their lives and their careers in the community.

As a Catholic institution of higher learning, the University of St. Thomas is inspired by the teaching of Pope John Paul II'sapostolic constitution Ex Corde Ecclesiae, and abides by the application norms prescribed by the American Bishops. Because of the University's institutional commitment to the Church, "Catholic ideals, attitudes and principles penetrate and inform its activities in accordance with the proper nature and autonomy of these activities," (Ex Corde Ecclesiae, 14). In its teachings and research, the University of St. Thomas is dedicated to the cause of truth and fosters the integration of knowledge, the dialogue between faith and culture, the ethical and moral implications of learning and the unique orientation to all study given by theology.

Basilian Tradition

The Basilians at the University of St. Thomas, by their spirituality, philosophy of education and esprit de corps, promote a lively sense of the University's mission as a Catholic institution. Among the distinctive characteristics of the Basilian approach to higher education are:

- Recognition of the continuing significance of the Catholic intellectual tradition in shaping Western civilization;
- Commitment to an integral Christian humanism that embraces the liberal arts as well as all other areas of knowledge;
- Fidelity to the authoritative teaching of the Church;
- Respect for the contribution of St. Thomas Aquinas to the Church's intellectual life, especially to philosophy;
- Healthy respect for the life of the mind, a passion for the discovery of truth in every area and a conviction that faith must begin and end in a knowledge that bears fruit in love; deep appreciation of human dignity that calls for the education of the whole person: physically, intellectually, morally, socially and spiritually;
- Close association with and availability to students;
- Genuine concern to assist students who are economically or otherwise disadvantaged;
- Willingness to provide counseling and pastoral care, especially through sacramental celebration;
- Collaborative spirit that gratefully recognizes that the University is a common intellectual venture of students, faculty, staff and administration as well as other supporters and friends;
- Trust in God's grace and a willingness to carry out whatever labors are required for the good of the University without seeking recognition. In all their endeavors, the Basilian Fathers seek to enrich the University of St. Thomas with their presence, their talents and their prayer.

Commitment to Faculty Excellence

Pursuing excellence in teaching, scholarship and service is a hallmark of the University of St. Thomas. In keeping with this commitment, the Center for Faculty Excellence was established. The mission of the Center is to provide faculty with resources and services that foster and support their success in teaching, research and service throughout all stages of their careers. The directors and participants of the Center for Faculty Excellence seek to develop a community of teachers and scholars to work collaboratively with all sectors of the University to accomplish that mission. Activities of the Center include conducting new faculty orientation, supporting faculty development workshops, facilitating faculty study days, hosting forums to discuss teaching practices, and providing support for individual members of the faculty.

SACSCOC Accreditation Statement and Other Accreditations

SACSCOC Accreditation Statement

The University of St. Thomas is accredited by the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools Commission on Colleges (SACSCOC) to award associate, baccalaureate, masters, and doctoral degrees. The University of St. Thomas also may offer credentials such as certificates and diplomas at approved degree levels. Questions about the accreditation of the University of St. Thomas may be directed in writing to the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools Commission on Colleges at 1866 Southern Lane, Decatur, GA 30033-4097, by calling (404) 679-4500, or by using information available on SACSCOC's website (www.sacscoc.org).

University Seal

UNIVERSITY OF ST. THOMAS HOUSTON

The colors of the University of St. Thomas are red and gold. On the seal, the golden cross of our faith symbolizes the divinity of Christ the King, while the background of red is for the humanity of Christ.

The dove and rayonnant sun in the first quarter are symbols of St. Thomas Aquinas. In the second quarter, the star is for the "Lone Star State" and for the Mother of Christ under the title "Star of the Sea." The hyacinth in the third quarter reminds us of San Jacinto, the river and battlefield near Houston where Texas won its independence. The second dove in the last quarter is the symbol of St. Basil, patron of the Basilian Fathers, who founded the University of St. Thomas.

Thereby, on the shield, St. Thomas and St. Basil, Doctors of the Western and Eastern churches, respectively, represent the universality of the Church. The motto, "Crescamus in Christo," reminds us that as we advance in knowledge and wisdom, we should also grow in love and service of Christ.

Admissions Policies

Undergraduate Admissions

The Office of Undergraduate Office of Admissions responds to all requests for information on undergraduate programs and is responsible for the admission of all new undergraduates as well as for the readmission of former students. The Office of Undergraduate Admissions recommends campus tours and class visits to prospective students as a way to experience the academic, spiritual and physical characteristics of the University. Tours and visits may be easily arranged by contacting the Office of Undergraduate Admissions at 713–525–3500 or via email at visitust@stthom.edu or online at www.stthom.edu/admissions.

Application for Undergraduate Admission Requirements for All Degree-Seeking Applicants

1. A completed, signed application for admission; a copy can be found online at www.stthom.edu/apply
2. There is no application fee.

Standard Requirements for Freshmen Applicants

1. An official transcript of high school work, home school program or an official copy of a GED certificate.

2. Standardized test scores for either the SAT or ACT (UST school code for SAT is 6880 and for ACT is 4238) The Classical Learning Test is also accepted. Students seeking test–optional admission should speak with a UST Admissions Counselor
3. A one page personal essay discussing why the applicant is interested in UST, what he/she plans to study, and why he/she will be an asset to the UST community.
4. Students five years, or beyond, high school/high school equivalent completion who have not taken a standardized test are not required to submit test scores.

Academic Credentials Recommended/Required for Admission as a Freshman

1. Graduation from an accredited secondary school, home school program or successful completion of the GED.
2. Competitive grades (minimum high school GPA of 2.80 on a 4.0 scale) in a minimum of 18 college preparatory high school units *, including:
    a. Four units of English
    b. Three units of social science, including one unit of history
    c. Three units of mathematics (algebra, geometry, trigonometry, or calculus)
    d. Three units of science, including two units of laboratory science
    e. Two units of the same classical or modern language other than English
    f. Three units of electives in college preparatory classes
3. Competitive official SAT or ACT scores of those students not seeking Test Optional candidacy.
4. Proof of English language proficiency may be required of some international applicants.
5. If appropriate, an official transcript of home school coursework. Home schooled students may also need to submit course descriptions, reading lists, or other information if requested.

 1 unit equals 1 year or 2 semesters*

Requirements for Transfer Applicants

1. An official transcript from every institution of higher education attended.
2. For transfer applicants with fewer than 24 semester hours of earned college credits, an official high school transcript and scores from either the SAT or ACT if applicant has graduated from high school within the past five years.
3. A cumulative grade point average of 2.5 on a 4.0 scale or higher for all college work completed.
4. Applicants with 24 or more transferable academic hours will be evaluated solely on their college work, evidenced by final official transcripts from every institution of higher education attended. Applicants with fewer than 24 transferable academic hours will be considered on the same basis as freshmen applicants except that they must submit a final official transcript from every institution of higher education attended to complete their application.
5. Transfer applicants must be eligible to return to the last institution attended.
6. Unless they have earned an Associate Degree, transfer students with fewer than 63 credit hours who seek financial aid may be required to provide an official high school transcript to establish eligibility for federal financial aid programs.
7. Proof of English language proficiency may be required of some international applicants.

Readmission of Inactive Students

Students previously enrolled full–time or part–time will be moved to “inactive” status if they are not in attendance after the add/drop date in any regular (fall/spring) term. Any students who have had inactive status for four (4) consecutive (fall/spring) terms will have their enrollment discontinued.

1. Students who have inactive status and are in good standing and have not attended another institution will be required to complete an abbreviated readmission process. The abbreviated application is available from the Office of Admissions. No application fee will be charged for readmission.

2. Students who have inactive status who have attended another regionally accredited institution will be required to complete the full admissions application process and submit official transcripts from every regionally accredited institution they have attended since leaving UST. Failure to do so will be considered falsification of records. No credit will be granted for coursework completed at other institutions while the student was inactive at UST unless the student received prior approval to do so or completed the formal withdrawal process.

Acceptance of Transfer Credits from Inactive Students

Inactive students are considered to be enrolled until they formally withdraw. The current policy regarding acceptance of transfer of credit for enrolled students applies to inactive students. No credits will be accepted without prior approval or the student has officially withdrawn from the University. Only the Academic Committee can grant exceptions and only for documented unavoidable emergencies.

Readmission of Discontinued Students

Students on inactive status for four consecutive regular (fall/spring) terms will have their enrollment discontinued. Students on discontinued status will be required to complete the full admission application process. Discontinued students who have attended another regionally accredited institution will be evaluated as transfer students.

Dismissed students will not be considered for readmission until one year has elapsed from the time of dismissal.

Admission of Visiting Students

Visiting students are those who wish to take courses for credit but are not seeking a University of St. Thomas degree. Those applying for this status must provide an official transcript verifying that they meet admission requirements and are in good academic standing at the last institution attended. Visiting students may take a maximum of 30 credit hours, after which they will be required to apply for admission to the University. Students who wish to complete more than 30 credit hours as a non– degree seeking student should consult with the Academic Advising Center and may petition the Admissions Committee for approval on an individual basis.

Continuing visiting students who wish to change their status to degree–seeking must apply to the University according to the application deadline prior to the start of the semester in which the status change will take effect.

Required for Admission Consideration:

1. Completed, signed application form.
2. An official transcript from the last institution attended, although transcripts from all institution may be necessary to meet requirements for course registration.

Immunization Requirements

Texas law requires students under the age of 22 (unless they are enrolled in a fully online program) to submit proof of a Bacterial Meningitis vaccine within the last 5 years or submit the appropriate exemption form. The immunization record can be submitted to the Office of the Registrar. Records can be emailed to immunizations@stthom.edu or faxed to 713.942.3498.

Please contact the Office of the Registrar at 713.525.2150 or immunizations@stthom.edu for questions concerning the Bacterial Meningitis vaccine or the exception process.

For students living on campus, proof of Tdap, MMR, and a negative TB test (skin or blood test) is also required. Please contact Residence Life at 713-525-3836 or residencelife@stthom.edu for any questions concerning housing immunization requirements.

For specific immunization requirements for undergraduate nursing students, please see the Bachelor Science of Nursing (BSN and ABSN) Progression Policies page.

UST Graduate Students: Concurrent Enrollment in Undergraduate Courses

University of St. Thomas graduate students who wish to apply for concurrent enrollment in undergraduate courses must contact the undergraduate Office of Admissions to indicate their intent and to verify that all required information is on file.

Admission of Undergraduate International Students

International applicants in or seeking F-1 student visa status will be considered for admission only as full–time (minimum 12 credit hours per semester) degree–seeking students at the University of St. Thomas.

The Office of Undergraduate Admissions and the Office of International Student Services coordinate the admission process for undergraduate international students. The Office of International Student Services advises each F-1 visa status student's compliance with United States immigration requirements.

Required for Admission Consideration

1. Completed, signed University of St. Thomas application.
2. There is no application fee. (excluding Transfer Nursing applicants)
3. If applicable, a personal statement from the applicant may be requested by the Admissions Committee. Official transcripts certifying completion of secondary and/or post–secondary (college/university) levels. Academic records not issued in English must be in the original language and include a certified literal English translation prepared by either the Ministry of Education, Consulate/Embassy, Education USA, or a certified translation service.
4. The Registrar's office will provide a GPA evaluation of foreign credentials for students who have applied to the University of St. Thomas. These evaluations will be an internal document, permanently retained in the student's record, for the sole purpose of admissions at UST. The results of the evaluation will be available to review upon request. If there is a disagreement about the conclusion of the evaluation, the student will be asked to have an outside evaluation performed at their own cost, by a NACES-approved evaluation company. Alternatively, the student may choose to decline UST's internal foreign credential evaluation and provide an academic credentials evaluation conducted by a NACES-approved evaluation company at his or her own expense.The University requires a GPA evaluation of all foreign transcripts. If a program requires or a student wishes to bring in specific course credit, a course-by-course evaluation would need to be performed by a NACES-approved evaluation company.
5. Official Test score of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL) (minimum paper–based score of 550 or internet-based of a 79) or ELS certificate of successful completion of Level 112 or 6.5 on the IELTS exam. TOEFL or equivalent is not ordinarily required of students from English–speaking countries. (The University school code for the TOEFL is 6880).
6. For international transfer students only: English proficiency examinations may be waived if a student has completed both English Composition I and II at a U.S. college/university.
7. Exceptions to the above requirements may arise if the university has an existing MOU agreement with a partner international institution.

Immigration Requirements

Upon acceptance, international students are required to submit the following to the Office of International Student and Scholar Services in order to receive form I-20.

1. International Student Information Form
2. An Undergraduate Affidavit of Financial Support Form
3. Proof of financial responsibility in the form of a current bank letter written on bank letterhead, or in the form of a legally binding notarized affidavit of support from a sponsor. Documentation should be written in English, dated within the past six months, and indicated in U.S. dollars
4. Copy of passport
5. Admitted students who are already in the U.S.in F-1 status will need to provide a copy of their UST acceptance letter/email to their current/previous schools international student office and request to transfer their SEVIS record to UST (School Code HOU214F00102000). In addition, submission is also required of a copy of previous I-20s, F-1 visa if available and form I-94.

Admission of Veterans or Dependents of Veterans

The University of St. Thomas is approved to offer eligible veterans and dependents of veterans the academic courses of study published in the University catalog and bulletins. Eligible students must apply for admission to the University following the procedures for their appropriate academic category.

The Director of Veteran Services is the first point of contact for students who are veterans or dependents and can be reached at 713–525–2101. The Director of Veteran Services will assist the eligible applicant in processing the documents pertaining to veteran educational benefits, including the initial application for benefits. Once admitted, continuing students who receive these benefits are required to contact the Veteran Success Center each semester prior to or during the registration process. The veteran/dependent must also have the approval of the Veteran Success Center when making changes to his/her approved courses during any semester of enrollment.

Additional Requirements for Admitted Students

Following acceptance, and prior to registration, students must submit:

1. Enrollment deposit: A $200 enrollment deposit is required for students planning to attend the University. The deposit will apply toward the first semester's tuition. For students entering in the fall semester, the deposit, upon written request to the Director of Admissions, is refundable until May 1.
2. Housing Application: Students wishing to reside in campus housing are encouraged to submit an Application for Housing by contacting the Office of Residence Life at 713–525–3836 or you can apply online.
3. Financial Aid Application: To be considered for financial aid a student should complete the FAFSA.Financial aid is not offered until admission to the University is granted.

Admission to Special Sessions

Applicants wishing to enroll in any of the University's special sessions (study abroad programs, summer sessions, and the compressed track) must follow the formal application process as previously described under Application Procedures.

Applicants for visiting status (not seeking a degree) who are interested in being considered for summer session or study abroad only must complete the Application for Admission and submit a transcript from the last high school, college or university attended. Students who initially apply for these sessions as visiting students but later decide to become degree– seeking must contact the Office of Undergraduate Admissions in writing to request a change in status and complete the entire application process. Students admitted for regular sessions are automatically admitted to other sessions.

Dual Credit Courses for High School Students

Junior and Senior high school students have the opportunity to enroll in college-level coursework at UST. Students must have taken the PSAT, SAT or ACT test and have at least a 3.00 GPA on a 4.00 scale to qualify for enrollment in the program. Courses are available at the freshman and sophomore level in the fall, spring and summer. Students may take one or two courses during each summer session and one during each regular semester at 50% tuition. Students seeking dual credit enrollment with unique circumstances must contact the Office of Undergraduate Admissions. These cases may be reviewed individually as exceptional with the approval of the Provost. Current available courses are listed online at www.stthom.edu. Interested students should consult the Office of Undergraduate Admissions 713.525.3500, or admissions@stthom.edu.

Articulation Agreements with Community Colleges

Articulation Agreements between the University of St. Thomas and area two–year community colleges enable the community college student to make a smooth transition from the two–year college to the University. Students work with an academic counselor at the two–year college along with transfer counselors at the University of St. Thomas to select courses appropriate to the individual degree plan. Typically, students complete the first two years of study at the community college, although transfer to the University of St. Thomas may occur at any time. For further information, contact the Admissions Office at 713–525–3500, or admissions@stthom.edu.

Credit by Examination (A.02.01)

Scope

All Undergraduate Students.

Purpose

The University participates in several programs, including but not limited to – AP (Advanced Placement), CLEP (College Level Examination Program), IB (International Baccalaureate), and ACS (American Chemical Society) – that recognize college-level academic achievement before matriculation and encourage students to pursue areas of special interest at an advanced level. This policy describes the tests, scores and hours that are acceptable by the University.

Policy/Procedure

01. Hours Accepted

The maximum number of credit hours the University will grant by examination is 30. Students are responsible for making sure that their test scores are received by the Registrar's Office.

For transfer students, the University accepts as transfer credit examination credit applied to students' transcripts at other institutions. These credits are counted towards their total amount of transfer credit (72 for community college credits or 90 of university level credits), not towards the examination limit of 30. No additional test transcripts are required.

02. Posting, Reviewing, and Amending Examination Articulation Rules

The specific examination credit articulation rules this policy governs are published annually in the relevant academic catalog. These rules are subject to change and will be reviewed annually by the departments under which the examination subjects reside. Amendments may be made to the rules by Deans, Program Directors, or Chairs can recommend to the Curriculum Committee for approval as needed, following best practices in their respective academic fields.

Undergraduate Transfer Credit (A.04.04)

Scope

All undergraduate students.

Purpose

To allow the consideration of transfer credit from regionally accredited colleges/universities.

Policy

The University accepts undergraduate transfer credits from other regionally accredited colleges or universities (Potential transfer credits from non-regionally accredited colleges and universities is covered under UST Policy A.02.14: Transfer Credits from Non-regionally Accredited Colleges/Universities.).

Bachelor Programs

No course with a grade lower than "C" (2.0 GPA) is accepted for transfer. Transferred course work will not be calculated in determining the grade point average at UST.

Credit hours will be considered as lower– or upper–division according to their level at the institution at which they were earned. Credit hours earned at two–year colleges will always be treated as lower–division credit hours.

No more than 90 transferred credit hours may be applied toward a bachelor's degree from the University of St. Thomas. The number of credit hours accepted in transfer from two–year colleges will not exceed 72. The evaluation of transferable credits and courses is normally completed by the time of initial registration. Credit will be transferred only based on official transcripts from the originating institution. Current students wishing to transfer in new coursework from another institution must submit a Transfer of Credit Approval for Current Students form with department chair approval. Students must take the last 36 credit hours in residence unless the Academic Committee grants an exception. The Petition Form is available from the Office of the Registrar.

The Registrar's Office assigns the appropriate UST equivalencies/credits typically based on the Texas Common Course Numbering. If questions arise about a subject area, course description, etc., the Registrar's Office will check the course description/syllabi and/or contact the appropriate UST academic chair/director. Transferable courses will not necessarily apply toward the requirements for a degree or major. A student transferring into a new program should consult with an academic advisor, or the department chair if pursuing a second bachelor's degree, to develop a detailed degree plan outlining the courses and requirements that remain to be completed for the degree.

Associate Programs

No course with a grade lower than "C" (2.0 GPA) is accepted for transfer. Transferred course work will not be calculated in determining the grade point average at UST. Technical courses must have been completed in the last five years to be considered for transfer.

Credit will be transferred only based on official transcripts from the originating institution. The maximum number of credit hours that may be applied toward an associate degree differs by program. This information is available to students in the catalog.

The evaluation of transferable credits and courses is normally completed during initial registration. To transfer credit from previous coursework, newly admitted students should request a course transfer to the Department Chair. The Department Chair will determine which courses will be transferred and submit the Transfer Credit Form to the Registrar's office. If the courses were taken at the University of St. Thomas, the Substitution Waiver Form will be used to indicate credits and courses for transfer. Transfer credits will be reflected in the student's Degree Plan.

In some cases, the Department Chair may request that the student send the course description or syllabus for a course that was previously completed to determine equivalency for transfer.

Transferable courses will not necessarily apply toward the requirements for a degree. A student transferring into a new program should consult with an academic advisor or the department chair to develop a detailed degree plan outlining the courses and requirements that remain to be completed for the degree.

Transfer Through Articulation Agreements

The University of St. Thomas has articulation agreements with sister universities that grant transfer credit for certain courses. These agreements are developed by the academic department overseeing the relevant programs, the Assistant Vice President of International Relations & Engagement, the Registrar's Office, and the Sister University.

Amendments to Policy
Amendments to these rules may be proposed by Deans or Chairs as needed following best practices in their respective academic fields. These amendments are sent to the Undergraduate Curriculum Committee for final review and approval.

A.04.06 Credit for Prior Learning

UNIVERSITY OF ST. THOMAS HOUSTON Academic (A) Credit for Prior Learning (A.04.06)	Approved by: President Issued: 12/20/2024 Revised: n/a

Scope

All students.

Purpose

The University of St. Thomas (UST) acknowledges the value of what students have learned outside formalized collegiate study, including through work and military experiences. UST defines Credit for Prior Learning (CPL) as translating students' prior education, career, or military experience into credit toward classes in their academic degree program at UST (In accordance with SACSCOC Standard 10.8, UST publishes policies for evaluating, awarding, and accepting credit not originating from the institution. The institution ensures (a) the academic quality of any credit or coursework recorded on its transcript, (b) an approval process with oversight by persons academically qualified to make the necessary judgments, and (c) the credit awarded is comparable to a designated credit experience and is consistent with UST's mission.).

Policy Statements

Through its CPL program, UST grants university-level credit for the successful completion of one or more of the following, up to the maximum of credits accepted at UST:

- Credit by Examination/Standardized Exams
- Evaluation of Non-College Education and Training
- Discipline-Specific Challenge Exams
- Discipline-Specific Portfolio Assessment

Refer to UST Transfer Credit policy for graduate programs and for undergraduate programs for maximum accepted credit by transfer into UST degree programs.
Credit for prior learning will not satisfy the University's residency requirement for a student's degree program.

Students will not receive credit for prior learning and credit for equivalent UST courses, transfer courses, or any other source of equivalent credit. For example, a student who received credit for ACCT 1341—Principles of Accounting I through completion of the course at UST or transfer credit will not receive credit through a prior learning assessment for the same course (ACCT 1341).

A student seeking credit for prior learning within their chosen degree program at the University should consult with the Office of Academic Advising and/or the chair of the academic department offering the program to discuss the exact degree requirements.

The Procedures for determining and awarding Credit for Prior Learning are available at: Credit for Prior Learning Procedures.

Credit by Examination/Standardized Exams

Please refer to Credit by Examination policy (A.02.01).

Evaluation of Non-College Education and Training

UST recognizes the value of learning that occurs in formal instructional programs offered by non-collegiate entities and informal experiences, such as voluntary work (for example, marketing work for a non-profit organization). When available, UST relies on the evaluation of such programs from reputed and established organizations (for example, the American Council on Education (ACE).

If such evaluation is unavailable, students should submit materials following the guidelines for Discipline Specific Portfolio Assessment; please see the section below.

Discipline-Specific Challenge Exams

Challenge exams are developed and administered by UST's academic departments. Each department determines courses for which they would offer challenge exams. The cost is set by the Office of Academic Affairs in consultation with the Business Office and reviewed annually.

Discipline-Specific Portfolio Assessment

A student may prepare and present a portfolio of work reflecting the knowledge and skills gained outside of the classroom. Each department determines courses for which they would accept portfolios for assessment of prior learning. The portfolio will be evaluated by faculty or external subject matter experts, as determined by the department chair or program director, to assign credit for prior learning. The Office of Academic Affairs, in consultation with the Business Office, sets the cost for portfolio assessment, which is reviewed annually.

Payment of Accounts

Students should check the status of their account online through myStThom via the website. Tuition, fees and other charges not covered by loans, grants, scholarships or other means must be paid by the last day of regular registration for the term for which the student is registering. Students not meeting these deadlines or making these arrangements for payment may be subject to administrative dismissal from the University. The University also reserves the right to dismiss students administratively should they not honor payment arrangements.

The University of St. Thomas e–mail account is the University's primary means of contact with the student. Students should check their UST email regularly for important University updates.

Refunds

Refunds of tuition and refundable fees will be made to students officially withdrawing according to the schedule posted on the University website. Please see the website for other refund dates.

Refunds

Refunds will be made to students officially withdrawing according to the schedule posted on the University of St. Thomas website under Academic calendars. https://stthom.edu/registrar/

Students may set up direct deposit for refunds via their myStThom account by accessing the jUSTPay link through their Student Center page. Direct deposit refunds will be processed Monday-Friday. Paper checks will only be processed on Wednesdays and will be mailed out to the student address on file. Students will not be able to pick up refund checks from the Cashier's Office.

Payment of Tuition and Fees

Terms and Conditions

By enrolling at the University of St. Thomas, students understand that they must follow the formal add/drop and withdrawal procedures of the University and that non– attendance does not automatically withdraw them from a course or from the University. Furthermore, enrollment indicates that students agree to pay all collection expenses, including reasonable attorney's fees, which the University may incur if they do not fulfill the payment obligations as set for them by their enrollment. The cost of collection expenses may be up to 50% of the balance due.

Payment or payment arrangements are due prior to the start of the semester. Tuition, fees and other charges not covered by financial aid or other means must be paid by the due date. Students not meeting payment deadlines, not making sufficient payment arrangements or not honoring payment arrangements made will be subject to a late payment fee and/or administrative withdrawal from the University.

Checks

The University accepts checks with the proper identification. Checks returned for any reason will be charged a $30 returned check fee.

Credit Cards

Credit card payments (American Express, MasterCard, Visa and Discover) may be made online via mySt Thom at www.stthom.edu through a third–party servicer. A convenience fee will be assessed for each credit card payment. The University of St. Thomas does not accept credit card payments directly.

E–Checks

E–check payments are available online via mySt Thom at www.stthom.edu without a convenience fee. E–checks are utilized with the banking information available on most paper checks.

Payment Plans

The University offers a monthly payment plan option administered by a third party for tuition, fees, campus housing and meal plans. The plan is an interest-free way to pay educational expenses in monthly installments during the academic term. There is a $50 participation fee for each payment plan and a $30 missed payment fee when applicable.

Payment plans must be set up prior to the start of the semester. Payment plans are set up online through the student's mySt Thom account via the University's website at www.stthom.edu. The student must be registered for the term and have a balance for the term to set up the payment plan. Any anticipated financial aid for the term is deducted from the charges, and the balance is divided among monthly payments for the rest of the term. Payments are made directly via direct debit or direct credit card charge. Credit card payments will be assessed a convenience fee for each transaction. Students who fail to fulfill the obligations they have agreed to under a payment plan are ineligible to enroll in the payment plan in subsequent semesters and may be administratively withdrawn from the University.

Company Deferments

The University allows students to defer tuition and fee charges until the end of the term if they are eligible for employer tuition reimbursement programs. At the time of registration, eligible students must submit to the Office of Student Financial Services a letter from the employer certifying eligibility for the program for the current term as well as the percentage of reimbursement granted. Any percentage of tuition not covered by the employer reimbursement must be paid at the time of registration. Students are required to sign a promissory note and pay a non–refundable $75 fee per deferment by cash or check. Students who fail to fulfill the obligations they have agreed to under a company deferment plan are ineligible to enroll in a company deferment plan in subsequent semesters and may be administratively withdrawn from the University.

Financial Aid

The University of St. Thomas believes that qualified students who wish to attend should not be prevented from doing so for financial reasons. Through extensive financial aid programs, the University seeks to put educational costs within the reach of every student qualified for admission. Although the University expects students and families to finance the cost of education to the fullest extent possible, it makes every effort to assist those who need help.

Demonstrated financial need is the difference between the cost of attending the University of St. Thomas and the amount the student and parents can reasonably be expected to contribute toward these costs. Costs include actual tuition and fees, housing and food, books and supplies, personal expenses and transportation. The estimate of a family's ability to contribute is determined in accordance with the federal need analysis as established by the U.S. Department of Education.

Eligibility for each type of assistance varies, depending on the source of funds. All students attending the University who meet the eligibility requirements listed below qualify for some form of financial aid. Assistance offered by UST includes institutional scholarships as well as federal, state and institutional grants, low–interest loans and work–study.

The Office of Scholarships and Financial Aid has counselors available to assist families as they complete the application process. For additional information concerning application procedures, the determination of need, or financial aid programs, contact the Office of Scholarships and Financial Aid at 713–525–2170 or by e–mail at finaid@stthom.edu.

All students who believe they will need assistance to attend UST are encouraged to submit financial aid applications. Application procedures are outlined below.

Applying for Financial Aid

To apply for financial aid, all applicants must complete the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA). The FAFSA form is available beginning Oct.1. Normal processing time of the FAFSA by the Department of Education is approximately 1 week.

FAFSA on the Web is a free U.S. Department of Education Website for completing a FAFSA online and submitting it via the Internet. Students must file the Free Application for Federal Student Aid online at www.studentaid.gov. UST's school code, 003654, must be entered on the form. The FAFSA is signed electronically after the student (and parent, if applicable) first obtains a U.S. Department of Education ID, also at www.studenaid.gov.

Applicants selected by the Department of Education for verification must also submit additional documents to the Office of Scholarships and Financial Aid, which may include IRS Tax Transcripts and Verification Worksheets, before any offer of financial aid can be prepared.

Other supplemental information will be requested as needed by the Office of Scholarships and Financial Aid. Students must have a completed financial aid file with all necessary documents, be regularly admitted to the University, and have met the minimum Satisfactory Academic Progress before any financial aid awarding may begin.

Financial aid awards are not made prior to admission to the University. Students are encouraged to pursue admission at the earliest possible point but should not wait for an admission decision before beginning the financial aid process.

Eligibility Requirements

Students seeking need–based financial aid must:

1. Have a high school diploma, Home School Equivalent or GED equivalent
2. Be admitted as a degree–seeking student
3. Be enrolled for at least half–time (6 credit hours, minimum)
4. Be a U.S. citizen or eligible non–citizen (I–551, I–151, I–94, I–688) or have certificate of naturalization
5. Maintain satisfactory academic progress (details in following section)
6. Not be in default on a federal loan or owe a refund on a federal grant

Satisfactory Academic Progress (SAP)

At the University of St. Thomas, all students applying for federal financial aid must meet the satisfactory academic progress guidelines as established and be in accordance with regulations. Students should be aware that their entire academic record will be considered when determining eligibility for financial aid regardless of whether aid has previously been awarded. The University's satisfactory academic progress guidelines have all elements and components of the regulation. This policy is as follows:

Satisfactory academic progress for financial aid purposes is defined as meeting all of the following:

1. Successful completion of 75% of all credit hours attempted
2. Minimum grade point average
    1. Undergraduate – first semester GPA, 1.70-1.99; second semester Cumulative GPA, 1.80- 1.99, third semester Cumulative GPA, 1.90-1.99, fourth and subsequent semesters Cumulative GPA, 2.00 and above.
    2. Graduate: 3.00 Cumulative GPA
3. Requirements for degree must be completed within a specified time: 180 credit hours attempted for undergraduates and 54 credit hours attempted for graduates.

"W", "I", and "F" grades will be calculated into the GPA as credit hours attempted with zero qualifying points earned. Courses passed with "P" grades will be counted into courses attempted but not into the GPA.

Grants (Ugrd)

Grants are awarded on the basis of financial need and do not require repayment. Grant funds are provided by the University of St. Thomas and by the federal and state governments. Financial aid award packages will include grant funds whenever regulations, University policies and funding levels permit.

Federal Pell Grant: For undergraduate students who have not yet completed a baccalaureate degree. The exact amount of the student's award will be determined based on the cost of education, result of FAFSA application, and the student's enrollment status.

Federal Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grant (FSEOG): For undergraduate students with exceptional financial need who have not yet completed a baccalaureate degree. Priority is given to Pell Grant recipients. FSEOGs are contingent on federal appropriations.

Tuition Equalization Grant (TEG): A state–sponsored program for Texas residents who meet state–specified eligibility requirements. Maximum award amount is established annually. TEG awards are contingent on state appropriations.

Teacher Education Assistance for College and Higher Education (TEACH) Grant: For students who agree to serve as a full–time teacher for a minimum of four years in a high–need field in a public or private elementary or secondary school that serves low–income students. Grant will be converted into a Federal Direct Unsubsidized Stafford Loan for any student who does not fulfill the teaching obligation within the required timeframe.

University Grants: Funded by the University of St. Thomas for undergraduate students with exceptional need. The amount of each grant is based on individual need and awarding policies.

Loans (Ugrd)

Loans are often a part of a financial aid offer. The following long–term, low–interest loan programs provide students with an opportunity to defer the cost of their education.

Federal Stafford Loan: Subsidized and unsubsidized low–interest, long–term loans provided by the William D. Ford Federal Direct Loan Program. The federal government pays the interest on subsidized loans while the student is enrolled at least half–time. Repayment begins six months after graduation or when the student ceases to be enrolled at least half–time.

Parents Loan for Undergraduate Students (PLUS): The PLUS loan program is designed to assist parents of dependent students who are not eligible for need–based assistance or who need funds in addition to their Federal Stafford Loan eligibility. Parents may borrow up to the cost of education less any estimated financial aid each year. Repayment begins 60 days after disbursement.

Jewish Family Services Loan Fund: A short–term, interest–free loan program available to all students for any related educational expense. The maximum loan amount is $600. Applications are available in the Business Office.

Scholarships (Ugrd)

The University of St. Thomas recruits exceptional students who wish to be challenged creatively and intellectually in their education and who, in return, will contribute to the quality of the University community with their talent and dedication to excellence. At the time of admission various criteria are considered in the scholarship award process, including grades and standardized test scores. Scholarship awarding begins in November. First–time freshmen, readmitted students and transfer students are selected for scholarship consideration through the admission application process.

Continuing students who would like to be considered for scholarships based on their University GPA must apply online at https://stthom.academicworks.com/ .

Scholarships are awarded annually and are renewable providing the student meets eligibility requirements. Scholarships are applied to the fall semester, the spring semester, and may be applied to University study abroad programs.

Students are strongly encouraged to apply for additional financial aid by completing the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) to complement scholarship awards with state or federal funding.

Scholarship recipients ordinarily may not hold more than one University of St. Thomas scholarship concurrently. If selected for more than one scholarship, recipients will retain the scholarship with the greatest value.

Scholarship recipients will be notified by letter about the amount, terms and conditions of their scholarship. Scholarship awards will be considered in the awarding of federal and state aid.

Prospective students may receive additional information about scholarship opportunities described below by contacting the Admissions Office at 1–800–856–8565, locally at 713–525–3500, by e–mail at admissions@stthom.edu or by visiting the UST Website at www.stthom.edu/admissions.

Requirements for Maintaining Scholarship Eligibility

In addition to establishing eligibility for university scholarships, first–time freshmen, readmitted, and transfer scholarship students must:

1. Be degree–seeking
2. Carry a full–time course load
3. Maintain Satisfactory Academic Progress

Scholarship recipients will also be required to write a thank–you note to the donor(s) of the scholarship if they are notified by the Office of Scholarships and Financial Aid that their scholarship award has been funded by a specific donor.

Deferral of Scholarship

A one–year deferral may be granted to new incoming and continuing scholarship recipients who request to defer enrollment for up to one year due to serious medical difficulties, military service, serious and unforeseen family emergency, or to make a volunteer service commitment not to exceed two semesters. Students seeking a deferment should submit a written request along with supporting documentation to the University Scholarship Committee. During the deferment period, scholarship recipients may not accrue more than eight university credit hours from any post–secondary institution. Continuing students who request a deferment may not be enrolled elsewhere without an approved UST Transfer of Credit Form.

Full-Tuition Scholarships for Incoming Freshmen

Work-Study/Campus Employment

The work–study program provides on– and off–campus jobs for students who need help to meet a portion of their living and educational expenses. Funding for the work-study programs is provided by the federal and state governments as well as the University of St. Thomas. Work-study awards are based on need.

- Federal Work-Study: A federal program that provides on–campus jobs for qualified students based on demonstrated need and is awarded by the Office of Scholarships and Financial Aid. Students receive paychecks for work performed.
- Texas College Work–Study Program: A state funded work-study program for eligible Texas residents. Students receive paychecks for work performed.

- Campus Employment: A number of positions are available on campus for students who desire to work. Such positions can be secured through the Career Services Office and are not part of financial aid awards.

Financial Aid Appeals (Ugrd)

Students who do not meet the satisfactory academic progress guidelines will be notified and will receive additional information regarding appeals. Students who believe that extenuating circumstances have affected the denial of financial aid have the right to appeal in accordance with the Financial Aid Appeal Process. In order to appeal, the student must complete an appeal form. All appeals must be submitted prior to the twelfth day of classes (census date) for the term in which the student is seeking financial assistance. The Financial Aid Appeal Committee will review the appeal forms and will decide whether to reinstate student eligibility. The committee reserves the right to restrict the number and types of courses a student may take.

Following a reinstatement, the Office of Scholarships and Financial Aid will review the student's grades at the end of the period of reinstatement. The student will be required to complete each semester with a 2.0 GPA. A student who fails to meet this requirement will be denied financial aid for the upcoming semester, and appeals will not be accepted a second time. Repeated appeals are considered a violation of the intent of the satisfactory academic progress guidelines. If a student's appeal is denied, the student will be required to successfully complete 6 credit hours (of an academic nature) using his or her own financial resources before the committee will review the student's academic transcript again.

The decisions of the Financial Aid Appeals Committee and the Scholarship Appeals Committee are final, and subsequent appeals for the current academic term will not be accepted. The Financial Aid Appeals Committee's decisions may stipulate conditions and restrictions. If they are not followed explicitly, individuals forfeit their financial aid and/or scholarship eligibility for the remainder of the academic year.

The Scholarship Appeals Committee and the Financial Aid Appeals Committee are scheduled to review completed appeal forms prior to the academic year or pending term. Students wishing to participate in the appeals will be notified of their eligibility to appeal and must submit the Scholarship appeal form or the Financial Aid appeal form to the Office of Scholarships and Financial Aid by the date listed on their notification.

REPAYMENT POLICY

The federal government mandates that students who withdraw from all classes may keep only the financial aid they have "earned" up to the time of withdrawal. Title IV funds that have been disbursed in excess of the earned amount must be returned by the University and/or the student to the federal government.

The Office of Scholarships and Financial Aid will perform a calculation to determine the amount of aid earned by the student that he or she may keep (for example, if the student attended 25% of the term, the student will have earned 25% of the aid disbursed). The unearned amount (total aid disbursed minus the earned amount) must be returned to the federal government by the University and/or the student. Thus, the student could owe aid funds to the university, the government, or both. The Office of Scholarships and Financial Aid will notify and provide instructions to students who are required to return funds to the government.

EXIT INTERVIEW

Loan recipients who graduate, withdraw from the University, or who cease to be enrolled at least half–time are required to complete an exit interview. It is the student's responsibility to complete his/her interview. Loan exit interviews must be completed online at studentaid.gov, under the loan repayment menu.

REVISION AND CANCELLATION OF AID

The University reserves the right to review, revise or terminate financial aid awards at any time due to changes in the student's financial and/or academic status; failure to comply with federal/state laws and regulations, including financial verification/audit procedures; or University policies, including those expressed in these publications, The Student Handbook or The Financial Aid Policies and Procedures Manual. In addition, financial aid awards are subject to revision should the annual allocation of funds to the University from the federal government or the State of Texas be reduced below anticipated funding levels or should limitations be placed on funds intended for student financial aid purposes.

PROFESSIONAL JUDGMENT

While the method for determining a student's need for federal student aid is defined by law, the law does give the financial aid administrator the opportunity to use his or her professional judgment in some limited circumstances. Special circumstances might be loss of employment, reduction of earnings, estrangement from parents, divorce or death of parent/spouse. If students believe they have a special circumstance that should be reviewed, they are encouraged to visit with their financial aid counselor.

AID DISBURSEMENT PROCEDURE

Financial aid funding is posted to the students account upon verification of enrollment and continued satisfactory academic progress (see Satisfactory Academic Progress), with the exception of Work–Study funds, which students must earn through actual employment. All financial obligations owed to the University will be deducted from any accepted student assistance. Financial obligations are the total amount owed regardless of any existing plan. The Business Office will issue any resulting credit balance to students via direct deposit to their bank account, or by check.

Since refunds may not be available until after classes have begun, students should be prepared to pay any initial expenses from other sources.

Repayment Policy

The federal government mandates that students who withdraw from all classes or otherwise fail to complete any attempted classes during a semester may only keep the financial aid they have "earned" up to the time of withdrawal or non attendance. Title IV funds that have been disbursed in excess of the earned amount must be returned by the university and/or the student to the federal government.

The Office of Scholarships and Financial Aid will perform a calculation to determine the amount of aid earned by the student that he or she may keep (for example, if the student attended 25% of the term, the student will have earned 25% of the aid disbursed). The unearned amount (total aid disbursed minus the earned amount) must be returned to the federal government by the university and/or the student. Thus the student could owe aid funds to the university, the government, or both. The Office of Scholarships and Financial Aid will notify and provide instructions to students who are required to return funds to the government.

Exit Interview

Loan recipients who graduate, withdraw from the University, or who cease to be enrolled at least half–time are required to complete an exit interview. It is the student's responsibility to complete his/her interview. Loan exit counseling should be completed online, at studentaid.gov under the Loan Repayment tab.

Revision and Cancellation of Aid

The University reserves the right to review, revise or terminate financial aid awards at any time due to changes in the student's financial and/or academic status; failure to comply with federal/state laws and regulations, including financial verification/audit procedures; or university policies, including those expressed in these provisions, The Student Handbook or The Financial Aid Policies and Procedures Manual. In addition, financial aid awards are subject to revision should the annual allocation of funds to the University from the federal government or the State of Texas be reduced below anticipated funding levels or should limitations be placed on funds intended for student financial aid purposes.

Professional Judgment

While the method for determining a student's need for federal student aid is defined by law, the law does give the financial aid administrator the opportunity to use his or her professional judgment in some limited circumstances. Special circumstances might be loss of employment, reduction of earnings, estrangement from parents, divorce or death of parent/spouse. If students believe they have a special circumstance that should be reviewed, they are encouraged to visit with their financial aid counselor.

Aid Disbursement Procedure

Financial aid funding is posted to the student's account upon verification of enrollment and continued satisfactory academic progress (see Satisfactory Academic Progress), with the exception of Work–Study funds, which students must earn through actual employment. All financial obligations owed to the university will be deducted from any accepted student assistance. Financial obligations are the total amount owed regardless of any existing plan. The Business Office will issue any resulting credit balance to students in the form of a refund. Refunds are not generally available until three or four weeks after classes have begun, students should be prepared to pay any initial expenses.

University Life

Athletics

In 2006, UST returned to intercollegiate athletics by launching a women's volleyball program. After one season, the Celts were joined by a men's soccer team. The University further expanded its athletic offerings and now sponsors 19 intercollegiate teams along with Cheer and Dance.

The University was formerly a member of the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics (NAIA) and the Red River Athletic Conference (RRAC) until the fall of 2019 when St. Thomas began competing in the National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA) and Division III. After receiving an official invitation to join the Southern Collegiate Athletic Conference (SCAC), UST became a full-time official member of the SCAC in the 2023–2024 academic year.

The UST Athletic Department remains committed to creating a first-class environment by recruiting, developing, and retaining outstanding student–athletes who maximize their potential intellectually, socially, and athletically while at St. Thomas. The department provides the necessary resources and leadership for student–athletes to succeed in competition and in the classroom. UST proudly graduates champions.

For more information about athletics, contact the Athletic Department at 713–831–7214.

Career Services Center

The University Career Services Center (UCSC) provides comprehensive career support to students and alumni across all majors and degree levels. Services include individualized career advising, resume and cover letter development, interview preparation, and strategies for job and internship searches. UCSC also facilitates career assessments, graduate school planning, and hosts a variety of career-related events such as job fairs, employer information sessions, and networking opportunities. These resources are designed to assist individuals in making informed career decisions and achieving professional success.

For more information, call 713–525–3160, or email career.services@stthom.edu.

Access and Disability Services for Students

Access and Disability Services (ADS) provides academic accommodations for students with disabilities. The University abides by the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990 (ADA) and the ADA Amendments Act of 2008, Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973 and other legal mandates that stipulate qualified students with disabilities receive accommodations to provide equal access to programs and opportunities at the University. If a student has a documented disability, reasonable and appropriate academic accommodations for students who qualify under the law are available.

Disabilities may be defined by the following:

- learning disabilities
- health impairments
- physical limitations
- psychiatric disabilities

Students should set an appointment with professional staff at ADS to review the nature and history of the disability as well as present concerns related to the educational environment. For information regarding the procedures required to obtain academic accommodations at UST, please contact the ADS Office.

Jerabeck Activity and Athletic Center

The Jerabeck Activity and Athletic Center (JAAC) serves as the central hub for intercollegiate athletics, campus recreation, and physical wellness at the University of St. Thomas. It is home to the Department of Athletics and the Department of Recreational Sports.

Indoor Facilities

- Main Gymnasium with bleacher seating for over 800 spectators
- Racquetball Court
- Men's and Women's Locker Rooms
- Weight Room equipped with free weights and machines
- Cardio Room featuring a variety of cardiovascular equipment
- Multi-Fitness Room used for group fitness classes and the UST dance program

Outdoor Facilities

- Swimming Pool

- Sand Volleyball Court
- Turf Field for recreational and club sports activities
- Batting Cages

The University encourages all students, faculty, and staff to take advantage of the JAAC's diverse amenities to support their physical and recreational well-being.

Sport Clubs at UST

The Assistant Director of Recreational Sports serves as the advisor to the Club Sports Association, which oversees various student-run sport clubs on campus. Club sports offer students the opportunity to stay active, compete, and build community in a less formal environment than varsity athletics.

For questions about club sports, intramurals, or recreational trips, email the Club Sports Association at: ustclubsports@stthom.edu

Current Recognized Sport Clubs

- Badminton
- Baseball Hitting Club
- Cheerleading
- Dance
- Dodgeball
- Fencing
- Table Tennis

John H. Crooker University Center

Crooker Center serves as the hub of campus life, providing a welcoming space for students to connect, relax, and engage in co-curricular activities that support their academic, social, and personal development. The center features comfortable lounge areas, dedicated study spaces, and offices for student organizations. In addition, Crooker Center houses several key student support offices, including the Dean of Students, Student Activities, Academic Advising, Tutorial Services, Campus Ministry, Career Services, Counseling and Wellness, and Dining Services. Whether you are seeking academic guidance, personal support, or opportunities to get involved, Crooker Center is the place where student life comes together.

Libraries

The Robert Pace and Ada Mary Doherty Library, the main University library, has over 250,000 volumes and access to over 340,000 electronic books, 175 databases, and access to over 180,000 periodical titles. The library provides various study areas, including silent reading areas, for students and faculty. The Doherty Library uses the Horizon automated library system and has online resources available through the library Website (http://library.stthom.edu). The Doherty Library participates in the TexShare cooperative library program. TexShare allows students to have borrowing privileges at most university and college libraries in Texas through the use of a TexShare card.

The Hugh Roy Marshall Graduate Philosophy Library, especially strong in resources for the study of Thomism, contains approximately 11,000 volumes in the area of medieval philosophy, theology and history. This collection supports the graduate program of the Center for Thomistic Studies, stressing a historical understanding of Aquinas texts and a rigorous rethinking of this thirteenth–century wisdom in the light of twenty–first–century problems and realities. The Graduate Philosophy main collection is located on the first floor of the Doherty Library and all students can consult it. The Special and Reference collections of the Graduate Philosophy Library, located in Doherty Library's second floor Hugh Roy Marshall Room, has restricted access.

The Music Resources Collection is located on the first floor of Cullen Hall, it contains more than 3,000 scores, both vocal and instrumental.

The Cardinal Beran Library at St. Mary's Seminary is an integral part of the University's Graduate School of Theology, offering resources in person and online. It has approximately 71,000 volumes including eBooks, current subscriptions to 144 journals, 9,500 bound volumes of periodicals, 1,500 pamphlets, and 650 audio-visual items. Special collections include primary resources of eighteenth and nineteenth century Catholic writers and a collection of historical pamphlets for catechesis of the laity. The library has been the beneficiary of the personal collection of former Bishop Wendelin J. Nold and the Blessed John Henry Newman resources from UST scholar Fr. Richard Schiefen, CSB, as well as books from retired Bishop Vincent M. Rizzotto and Archbishop Emeritus Joseph A. Fiorenza. Theological titles in Spanish and Vietnamese are obtained when available. Additionally, the library offers a Catholic fiction collection of over 600 titles. To access the resources available in the Cardinal Beran Library, go to: www.smseminary.com/library.

Office of Counseling and Wellness Services

Counseling and Wellness Services (CWS) provides various services for students related to transition to college, emotional adjustment, mental health, developmental issues, academic skill–building and crisis intervention. Counselors will assess the nature and extent of a student's concern and make appropriate recommendations.

- No–Fee Services: All services are provided with no extra fee to currently enrolled University students. Ongoing counseling services are available for students only. However, faculty, staff, and students are welcome to use CWS for brief consultation and to obtain educational information and referral services.
- Confidentiality: All counseling services provided are confidential except where state law mandates. The staff abides by the ethical standards of the American Counseling Association. Records maintained by CWS are not available to a third party without the student's written permission. CWS records are not a part of UST's academic or administrative records.
- Consultation and Counseling: CWS offers brief consultation, ongoing individual counseling, and group counseling for students who are experiencing personal concerns, academic performance issues, family concerns, relationship matters or other emotional distress. Services typically follow a short–term, brief intervention model.
- Community Consultation and Referral: CWS acts as a resource to members of the extended UST community about concerns for the emotional well–being of others. A list of mental health resources is maintained and the department will assist students in connecting with appropriate resources. Faculty and staff may also contact the department for referral information.
- Education and Training: CWS offers workshops and campus events to educate on a variety of topics pertaining to mental health and academic success. CWS maintains a small donated library and offers free self-help materials. The department website offers information about a variety of wellness and mental health matters.
- Academic Support: CWS provides counseling and workshops on issues such as time management, test anxiety, and improving concentration and study skills.
- Crisis Intervention: CWS is typically available for students experiencing a mental health crisis requiring immediate attention during regular business hours. If there is a psychological crisis after–hours, students may contact Campus Police at 713–525–3888 to reach an on–call counselor, go to a local hospital emergency room, or call 911. There are certain University holiday breaks (Spring, Fall and Winter Breaks, Thanksgiving, Easter) when the University is closed and on–call counseling crisis services are not available.

For an appointment or additional information, contact Counseling and Wellness Services at 713–525–2169.

Office of Residence Life

The Office of Residence Life supports the mission of the University through creating living–learning environments that meet the developmental needs of the students and embrace the religious and intellectual traditions of Catholicism.

Catholic values shape our housing philosophy, programs, and policies that non–Catholic Christians and non–Christians alike can share: humility, respect for life, charity, honesty, compassion, justice, knowledge, freedom of inquiry, responsibility, family, friendship and community. These values prepare our student–residents not only to become good citizens but, more importantly, to become responsible stewards of all creation.

Nothing more clearly demonstrates the University's commitment to the safety, security, comfort and well–being of its student–residents than the quality and quantity of people selected to oversee the daily operation of its Residence Life program. Every member of the Residence Life staff, from the full–time administrators to the paraprofessional student– staff (Resident Assistants, Office and Desk Workers, and other Student Leaders) has been carefully selected and trained to meet the needs of the student–resident population. The staff diligently works to get to know every resident on a personal basis and build a community living environment where everyone feels welcomed and valued.

Professional and paraprofessional staff reside on campus and are available 24/7 to assist residents when classes are in session. Many other full–time professionals, including a licensed psychologist, professional counselors, and university police officers, are available on–call to assist our Residence Life staff.

Facilities

The University maintains multiple housing options for students, which are conveniently located within a short walking distance of our academic and campus life malls. Students interested in taking advantage of living on campus may apply for housing in Guinan Residence Hall or in one of our upper–class student apartments or townhomes. On–campus residents must purchase one of the residential meal plan offered by the University.

Guinan Residence Hall

Guinan Hall offers fully furnished double and triple occupancy rooms with private bathrooms, individually controlled thermostats, and microwave/refrigerator combination units. During the COVID-19 pandemic, we are offering single and double rooms. Triple rooms will not be offered during the pandemic. All rooms are equipped with wireless internet access and cable. Rooms are designed around beautifully manicured gardens and courtyards, and every room opens onto a balcony or patio. Residents have access to multiple community spaces and services: main lobby with gaming areas, community kitchen, study lounges, computer lounge, meditation room, conference room, media room, and laundry room with treadmills. The safety and security of our residents are our highest priority. Trained paraprofessional personnel monitor the lobby twenty–four hours a day, seven days a week, when classes are in session.

Student Apartments and Townhomes

Student apartments and townhomes are located on the south side of campus and available for upper–class and non– traditional students. Residents can choose from multiple floor plans that include full–service kitchens with a dishwasher, stove and refrigerator. All apartments are furnished, including a dining room table and couch, and are equipped with wireless internet access. A high level of security measures is provided through video monitoring and safety rounds conducted by our Resident Assistants and University police.

Services and Amenities

Residents of campus housing have the advantage of participating in activities designed specifically for them that encourage growth and autonomy. Each week our Residence Life Staff create opportunities for residents to become involved in our community through participation in social, spiritual, human awareness, physical and mental health, and academic programming. In addition, numerous leadership–development opportunities are available for our student–residents. Nothing more clearly demonstrates the University's commitment to the safety, security, comfort and well–being of its student– residents than the quality and quantity of people selected to oversee the daily operation of its Residence Life program. The staff diligently works to get to know every resident on a personal basis and build a community living environment where everyone feels welcomed and valued. Professional and paraprofessional staff reside on campus and are available 24/7 to assist residents when classes are in session. Many other full–time professionals, including a licensed psychologist, professional counselors, and university police officers, are available on–call to assist our Residence Life staff.

Eligibility

Students become eligible for campus housing once they receive formal notice of admission to the University and pay the enrollment deposit. Resident students must be enrolled full–time and must be pursuing a degree at UST. According to Texas State Law, all residents must be vaccinated for Meningitis at least 10 days prior to moving into the residence halls. Housing Application forms are available online on the Residence Life Webpage. When the Office of Residence Life receives a completed Housing Application and Immunization Records, the student will be sent a Housing Contract. Students must complete this contract and return it to the University with a security deposit. This deposit covers damages that may occur during the contract term, and it serves as a room reservation fee. Upon request, the deposit may be returned to the student at the end of the contract term if the terms and conditions of the housing contract have been fully met.

Assignment

The University seeks to maintain a balance in the number of spaces allocated for occupancy by first–year traditional and upper–class students. Assignment for first–year traditional students is on a first–come, first–served basis with preference given to those with the earliest contract and deposit–receipt date. Students who do not receive a housing assignment may request to have their names placed on the Residence Life Waiting List. The University maintains full and final authority to determine assignment from the Housing Interest List. Among the criteria considered for placement are classification, permanent address, access to transportation, special needs, and/or financial aid/scholarship status

Information

Residence Life housing information is available through the Office of Residence Life, 713–525–3836, residencelife@stthom.edu.

Office of Student Affairs

The Office of Student Affairs supports the mission of the University and the Basilian Catholic tradition through programs, policies, and services that offer valuable learning experiences and promote the development of the whole person. Student Affairs is comprised of the following offices: Career Services, Testing Center, Counseling and Wellness Services, Access and Disability Services, the Office of the Dean of Students, Residence Life (which includes all residence halls), Student Activities and Campus Ministry.

The Mendenhall Achievement Center was established at the University of St. Thomas in 2008 as the result of a gift to the University from Trini Mendenhall. The Center is comprised of a professional support team that works collaboratively to provide a comprehensive approach designed to assist students with achieving their goals. Services within the Mendenhall Achievement Center include Academic Advising, Career Services, Counseling and Wellness, Access and Disability Services, Tutorial Services, and the Office of Student Affairs.

Student Services

Located in the heart of Houston, the University of St. Thomas is easily accessible from the downtown center of the city and all major freeways and is within walking distance of several important museums and art galleries. Public transportation is readily available, and the city is working to develop significant improvements. Renowned architect Philip Johnson designed the University's Academic Mall, which is dominated by the Chapel of St. Basil on the north end and Doherty Library on the south end. Directly west, and running parallel to it, is the Campus Life Mall, featuring the Gueymard Meditation Garden and Chartres Labyrinth; Moran Center, with its parking garage, bookstore, University Police Department, and student lounge; Crooker University Center; and Jerabeck Athletic Center. Spacious curving walkways, attractive landscaping, and many places to sit, relax, talk, think, and rest accentuate these sites. Several blocks of old homes and modern two–story buildings housing various departments and student facilities surround the two malls.

The University atmosphere is lively and friendly. Administrators, faculty, staff and students form an academic community which makes every effort to accommodate the physical, emotional, spiritual, and intellectual needs of students. Following is a partial list of facilities and programs designed for that purpose.

Technology

The University of St. Thomas provides technology to its students for academic and personal use. UST students can utilize high speed Internet access from a campus–wide network. UST's wireless network covers the majority of the campus and allows for guest access as well.

The University offers several online services to students, including Webmail, registration, access to class schedules, grades, online payment services, and an online learning management system for distributed and distance learning initiatives. Student organizations and clubs are eligible for web space and email accounts.

Most classrooms have integrated instructor stations and media projection systems that are permanently installed. Several classrooms are equipped with student computer workstations.

The primary student computing lab, located in the Doherty Library for ease of access, provides computers and printers that access common instructional applications. In addition, computers designated for student use are available in the Tutorial Services Center, Language Lab, Guinan Residence Hall, and several other departmental laboratories, such as Chemistry and Psychology. Students may also use their own computers with the wireless network.

Tutorial Services Center

The goal of the Tutorial Services Center (TSC) is to help students become more self-sufficient and confident in their learning skills. Grounded in the Catholic intellectual tradition and the University's commitment to educating the whole person, the TSC supports students in developing the knowledge, habits, and confidence needed for academic and personal success. To support this mission, the TSC partners with Knack Tutoring to provide comprehensive peer tutoring for students currently enrolled at UST. Tutors meet specific academic requirements, are recommended by UST faculty, and complete structured training to support students in a variety of academic subjects and general writing skills. Through our partnership with Knack, tutoring is available both in person and virtually, making academic support accessible and flexible for all students.

In addition to helping with course content, tutors support students in strengthening core academic skills and understanding broader concepts. Tutors guide the writing process by identifying areas for improvement such as thesis clarity, grammar patterns, organization, and development. Students at all levels use tutoring to refine their work, gain feedback, and build confidence in their learning.

The TSC offers workshops throughout the semester on topics such as thesis development, paragraph organization, the research paper process, and writing successful essay examinations. Workshop information is shared through Instagram, signage outside the Center, and weekly Campus Announcements.

The Tutorial Services Center is located in Doherty Library, Room B03. Tutoring is available through Knack in both in-person and virtual formats. The TSC website provides comprehensive information and answers many student questions. You may contact us at tutoring@stthom.edu or by calling 713-525-3878.

Disability Nondiscrimination Policy (S.01.01)

Scope

All Students.

Purpose

To comply with Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973.

Policy/Procedure

1. Counseling Services for Students

Counseling and Disability provides various services for students related to personal and emotional adjustment, mental health, developmental issues, academic skill-building and crisis intervention. Confidential services are provided at no cost for currently enrolled University students, are generally short-term, and follow a brief intervention model. Counselors will assess the nature and extent of a student's concern and make appropriate recommendations. Services offered include initial assessment, consultation, individual and group counseling, crisis intervention, academic support, campus outreach, and referral information. More information is available at www.stthom.edu/counseling. For an appointment or additional information, contact C&DS at 713-525-2169 or 713-525-6953.

2. Disability Services for Students

Counseling and Disability Services also provides academic accommodations for students with disabilities. If a student has a documented disability, reasonable and appropriate academic accommodations for students who qualify under Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973 are available to ensure equal access to programs and opportunities at the University. Disabilities may be defined by the following:

- learning disabilities
- health impairments

- physical limitations
- psychiatric disabilities

Students should set an appointment with professional staff at C&DS to review the nature and history of the disability as well as present concerns related to the educational environment. For information regarding the procedures required to obtain academic accommodations at UST, please refer to the UST Undergraduate Catalog or visit our website at: www.stthom.edu/counseling. For an appointment or additional information, contact C&DS at 713-525-2169 or 713-525-6953.

3. Disability Nondiscrimination Policy

It is the policy of the University of St. Thomas not to discriminate on the basis of disability in admission and access to, or treatment or employment in its program or activities, as required by Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, as amended, (involving disability discrimination), and the implementing regulations. If you have any questions regarding this policy, please contact the following persons:

Section 504 Coordinators

- Primary for Students: Executive Director of Counseling and Disability Services (713) 525- 3162
- Primary for Faculty and Staff Employees: Associate Vice President for Administrative Services (713) 525-3813
- Secondary for Students: Vice President for Student Affairs (713) 525-3570
- Secondary for Faculty and Staff Employees: Vice President for Finance (713) 525-6960

University of St. Thomas
Houston, Texas, 77006

If you believe you may have been discriminated against in violation of this policy, please immediately contact the Section 504 Coordinators, the Office of Human Resources or the Office of Student Affairs for a copy of the University's Discrimination Grievance Procedures.

4. Discrimination Grievance Procedures

The University of St. Thomas has adopted an internal grievance procedure providing for the prompt and equitable resolution of complaints alleging any action prohibited by Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, as amended (involving disability discrimination). Information will be kept confidential to the extent possible. The Section 504 Coordinators will maintain the files and records related to all complaints filed, the written findings, and resolutions. The Executive Director of Counseling and Disability Services will maintain files and records for students; the Associate Vice President for Administrative Services will maintain files and records for faculty and staff employees. Federal law strictly prohibits any retaliation against a person who exercises the right to file a complaint of discrimination. Retaliation is prohibited whether or not the complainant prevails with the complaint. Charges of retaliation shall be treated as separate and distinct from the original complaint of discrimination and may be filed utilizing this grievance procedure.

5. Complaints

a. Disability Discrimination of Students. Complaints by students involving disability discrimination should be filed with the Section 504 Coordinator. The Section 504 Coordinator for students is the Executive Director of Counseling and Disability Services. Location: Office of Counseling and Disability Services, Crooker Center, second floor. Telephone: (713) 525-3162

b. Disability Discrimination of Faculty and Staff Employees. All disability discrimination complaints by faculty or staff employees should be filed with the Associate Vice President for Administrative Services. Location: T.P. O'Rourke Hall, first floor Telephone: (713) 525-3813

c. Discrimination Grievance Officers. The persons designated above to receive complaints under these procedures shall be referred to as Discrimination Grievance Officers. If the designated Grievance Officer is the accused party, the complaint may be filed with the other Grievance Officer or the Vice President for Student Affairs (for students) or the Vice President for Finance (for faculty and staff employees).

d. Complaints by Mail. Complaints may also be mailed to the appropriate Discrimination Grievance Officer at the following address:

University of St. Thomas
Houston, TX 77006

The complaint and its envelope should be marked "Confidential."

6. Procedure for Complaints

a. Contents of Complaint. Complaints must be filed in writing with the Discrimination Grievance Officer and must contain:

1. Name and address of the person making the complaint ("Complainant").
2. A brief description of the alleged discriminatory action or actions.
3. The date or dates of the alleged discriminatory actions.
4. The person or persons alleged to have engaged in the discriminatory action or actions.

b. Deadline for Filing the Complaint. The complaint must be filed with the appropriate Discrimination Grievance Officer within 30 days after the Complainant becomes aware of the alleged discrimination. (Processing of allegations of discrimination that occurred before this grievance procedure was in place will be considered on a case-by-case basis, or under other appropriate grievance procedures.)

c. Informal Resolution. The Grievance Officer will notify the appropriate Vice President of the complaint, if deemed necessary. If the accusing individual is a student, the Executive Director of Counseling and Disability Services will address the complaint. If the accusing individual is a faculty or staff employee, then the Associate Vice President for Administrative Services will address the complaint. The Grievance Officer shall determine whether the matter may be promptly resolved informally (for example, when the complaint arises from miscommunication between the parties, or when the accused party admits wrongdoing and agrees to take appropriate corrective action). Informal resolution will be attempted as soon as possible and need not wait for the written response of the accused party, unless deemed appropriate by the Grievance Officer. If the Associate Vice President for Administrative Services is the accused party, the Complainant will contact the Vice President for Finance instead of the Associate Vice President for Administrative Services. If the Executive Director of Counseling and Disability Services is the accused party, the Complainant will contact the Vice President for Student Affairs instead of the Executive Director of Counseling and Disability Services. If the area Vice President is the accused party, the Grievance Officer will contact the President instead of the Vice President.

d. Response. The accused party will be provided a copy of the complaint and will provide the Grievance Officer a written response within five business days after receiving a copy of the complaint. The Grievance Officer may waive the requirement for a written response if the matter has been informally resolved.

e. Investigation. If it appears that the matter cannot be informally resolved, the Grievance Officer will proceed with the investigation. The investigation may be informal, but shall be impartial and as thorough as appropriate under the circumstances. The Complainant and the accused party shall be given an opportunity to submit evidence relevant to the filed complaint. The Grievance Officer may also interview persons who the officer believes may have knowledge bearing on the matter and may require the Complainant or accused party to provide additional documentation, information or evidence that the officer deems appropriate.

f. Determination and Resolution. The Grievance Officer will prepare written recommended findings as to the validity of the complaint and will, after consultation with the area Vice President, recommend resolution of the complaint, if any ("Recommendation"). The Recommendation will then be given to the area Vice President, who will make the final decision and communicate the decision to the Complainant and the accused party ("Determination").

g. Reconsideration. Either party may appeal the Determination by filing a notice of appeal ("Notice") with the President of the University. The Notice must be filed within five business days after receipt of the Determination, and must include a copy of the Determination and a description of the issues being appealed. Copies of the Notice shall be provided by the appealing party to the Grievance Officer and the appropriate area Vice President. The Grievance Officer will provide a copy of the Notice to the other party. The other party may file a rebuttal statement to the appeal within five business days after receipt of the Notice. The President (or designee) shall review the matter and take any appropriate action, including, but not limited to affirming, modifying or reversing the Determination or requiring that additional investigation be performed. The President shall provide a written decision to both parties, the appropriate area Vice President and the Grievance Officer.

Academic Information

Definition and Determination of Credit Hours (A.00.00)

Scope

The following course types are covered by this policy.

- Classroom-based: Scheduled contact occurs primarily face-to-face in a classroom setting.
- Faculty-directed independent learning: Scheduled contact occurs via faculty supervision of students pursuing directed study for credit for such activities as capstone projects, independent work for distinction, or graduate thesis and dissertation requirements.
- Place-or practice-based: Scheduled contact occurs in non-classroom locations such as corporations (internships), schools, or clinics.
- Blended: Scheduled contact is a defined mixture of face-to-face and distance/online interactions.
- Online: Scheduled contact is mediated entirely online.

Purpose

Academic credit provides the basis for measuring the amount of engaged learning time expected of a student enrolled in traditional classroom settings, laboratories, internships, clinical fieldwork, online and hybrid courses, and other experiential learning. The credit hour value is an amount of work represented in intended learning outcomes and verified by evidence of student achievement to include contact time, the educational experience, and out-of-class preparation by the student.

Definition of a Credit Hour

The faculty of the University of St. Thomas (UST) determine the amount of credit awarded for undergraduate and graduate courses based on the unit of semester credit hour in accordance with federal and state rules.

UST adheres to the Carnegie unit for contact time, which is 750 minutes for each credit awarded: 14 weeks of classroom time totaling 2,100 minutes of instruction plus the 150 minute exam.

The University of St. Thomas (UST) defines a credit hour in accordance with federal regulation 34 CF 600.2 and the Texas Administrative Code, Title 19, Chapter 4, Subchapter A, Rule 4.6 [1]. As outlined by federal regulation:

A credit hour is an amount of work represented in intended learning outcomes and verified by evidence of student achievement that is an institutionally established equivalency that reasonably approximates not less than:

(1) One hour of classroom or direct faculty instruction and a minimum of two hours of out of class student work each week for approximately fifteen weeks for one semester hour of credit, or

(2) At least an equivalent amount of work as required in paragraph (1) of this definition for other academic activities as established by the institution including laboratory work, internships, practica, studio work, and other academic work leading to the award of credit hours.

The Texas Administrative Code (TAC) stipulates that "traditionally delivered three semester credit hour courses should contain 15 weeks of instruction (45 contact hours) plus a week for final examinations so that such a course contains 45 to 48 contact hours "depending on whether there is a final exam." Additionally, "courses delivered in shortened semesters are expected to have the same number of contact hours and the same requirement for out-of-class learning as courses taught during a normal semester"

Determination of the Amount and Level of Credit Hours

The faculty of each academic department or program review process ensures that the amount and level of credit awarded for undergraduate and graduate courses are compatible with sound academic practice in their particular academic disciplines and their professional judgment applied to the following criteria:

- The student learning outcomes of the course
- The amount and quality of work required by the student learning outcomes for the course
- The sophistication of course content relative to the content of: (a) other courses in the discipline; (b) the same or comparable courses in the discipline at other institutions; and (c) other courses in the curriculum in general
- Any recommendation that may come from the chief academic officer, or an academic department
- Any relevant guidance that may be available from sources such as the American Association of Collegiate Registrars and Admissions Officers (AACRAO)

The Undergraduate Curriculum Committee is responsible for reviewing and approving the amount and level of credit recommended by the faculty for all undergraduate courses leading to the baccalaureate degree, whether on-campus, off-campus, or online. The Graduate Council is responsible for reviewing and approving the amount and level of credit recommended by the faculty for all graduate courses.

Guidelines for the Assignment of Credit

For courses offered during a typical 15-week semester, the combination of scheduled contact and independent student effort must be equivalent to at least 3 hours per week per credit hour. The guidelines should be adjusted accordingly a) for shorter courses, b) as directed by external agencies such as specialized accreditors, or c) as warranted by the standards of the discipline.

In a face-to-face course, credit hours are generally based on the hours per week the students spend in the classroom or lab, or "contact hours" with the students. A course that meets for three 50-minute periods per week during a full 15-week semester is considered 3 credit hours.

For online and blended learning courses, the hours per week is calculated by Time on Task. Faculty developing courses in these modalities estimate how long it will take the average student to complete all of the assignments to achieve the student leaning outcomes for that week, including reading assignments, videos, quizzes. discussions, and group work.

Level of Credit

The level of credit indicates the progressive complexity of coursework. Courses numbered 1000 contain entry level information for students beginning their academic degree. These are introductory courses that constitute the beginning of college work and do not require previous college experience (no pre-requisites are required). Typically, these courses would be taken by freshmen. Each level above that contains higher levels of disciplinary content. 2000 level courses have a higher level of disciplinary content than 1000-level courses. 3000- and 4000- level courses are typically the final courses students would take in their bachelor degree and the level would be the highest level of learning that should occur for the bachelor degree level.

This pattern of progressively more disciplinary content and complexity continues for Masters and Doctoral level courses, which carry course numbers at the levels of 5000, 6000, 7000, and 8000.

Academic Advising (A.01.01)

Scope

All Undergraduate Students.

Purpose

Academic advising is central to the educational mission of the University of St. Thomas and embodies respect for the dignity of human persons unified in their several roles as student, family member, citizen, and professional. Every student entering UST is assigned to a faculty advisor and is also supported by the resources of the Academic Advising Center. The Academic Advising Center specializes in high quality advising and offers special help with major selection and degree planning as well as course scheduling and registration. Students are encouraged to explore their natural gifts, desires, and goals and are guided in crafting an appropriate, individual academic plan in keeping with those goals.

Policy

01. First-Year Advising

All freshmen entering the University of St. Thomas participate in the First Year Experience program. It is designed to prepare incoming students for success in the University environment. Incoming students attend Freshman Advising and Registration sessions to develop a personalized course of study for their first semester. They learn about the University's history, its core curriculum and become acquainted with expectations they will be challenged to meet as a student at UST. They also become acquainted with also some of the support services available on campus.

Freshmen are placed with highly qualified and dedicated First Year Experience advisors. These advisors are not major specific advisors; rather, they offer their expertise in helping freshmen develop their academic plans for the current and coming years at the University of St. Thomas. Students meet with their First Year Experience Advisor throughout their freshman year.

02. Major Program Advising and Declaring a Major

New students to UST may declare a major, minor and/or pre-professional program at the point of initial advising and class registration in consultation with an academic advisor. Particular majors may have specific requirements and/or additional admissions processes, which must be fulfilled prior to a formal declaration of major. Students who have reached 60 credit hours without having declared a major will be prevented from future registration. If a student has reached 60 credit hours and is still undecided, they may be granted an additional semester to register by requesting a formal extension through the Office of Academic Advising. Declaration of major will not be official until appropriate documentation is submitted to the Registrar's Office.

03. Transfer Student Advising

Transfer students are assigned to the chair of the department in which they have expressed primary interest, who may continue as academic advisor or appoint a faculty member. A student should meet with this academic advisor at least two times each semester to discuss progress, review degree plans, explore graduate school and professional opportunities and select courses for the following semester.

04. Changing a Major

Students may change their major at any time in consultation with the current advisor and the chair of the newly selected department. Before changing majors, students should consult the Academic Advising Center to review degree plans to assess any additional degree requirements, time and cost associated with a change in major.

05. Adult Students

First-time and returning adult students receive special assistance through the Office of Admissions, the Director of Academic Advising and special orientation programs. Adult students are assigned to the chair of the department in which they have expressed primary interest. A student should meet with the academic advisor at least two times each semester to discuss progress, review degree plans, explore graduate school and professional opportunities, and select courses for the following semester.

06. Degree Plans and Application to Graduate

Students who have accrued 60 credit hours toward a bachelor's degree at the University of St. Thomas must have a proposed degree plan on file in the department of their major or with their academic advisor. The degree plan must include core curriculum requirements as well as all requirements related to completion of the student's academic program or major field of study. A Final Degree Plan is a required part of the student's application to graduate, and no student will be allowed to graduate without having such a plan approved by the Degree Auditor.

07. Student Responsibilities

Students are responsible for keeping their own records and for knowing the University's policies and regulations, those of a general nature as well as those pertaining to their particular program of studies. The ultimate responsibility for the student's academic program and orderly progress through the University curriculum rests with the student. If anyone advises a student contrary to the University's stated policies and regulations, the student should consult the dean of the school involved or the Registrar.

Classification - Undergraduate (A.02.03)

Scope

All Undergraduate Students.

Purpose

To define the number of hours required to be classified a freshman, sophomore, junior or senior

Definitions

A. Course Numbers:

Courses are identified by subjects and four-digit numbers. The first digit indicates the level of a course. A “1” indicates first-year or entry level, while “3” and “4” indicate upper-division and typically presume prior completion of courses beginning with “1” or “2.” The second digit indicates the number of credit hours earned for successful completion of the course. The final two digits indicate the departmental sequence. Thus, Chemistry 1341 is a first-year chemistry course carrying 3 credit hours, and Chemistry 1141 is a first-year course carrying 1 credit hour. These two courses are lecture and lab for first-year General Chemistry and together total 4 credit hours.

B. Credit Hours

The unit of measurement for academic work is the credit hour, representing fifty minutes of class lecture or contact time per week for one semester. Two to four laboratory clock hours are usually required for earning 1 credit hour in a laboratory course.

Policy/Procedure

01. Classification

A student’s classification is based on the total number of credit hours successfully completed: freshman, 0 through 29 hours; sophomore, 30 through 59 hours; junior, 60 through 89 hours; senior, 90 hours and above.

Resolution Statement on Late Enrollment Requests

The Deans' Council recommends that our offices and the Registrar's Office adopt a shared standard for late registration that reflects the university's core value of discipline. Going forward, late registration requests should be approved only in cases of documented, bona fide emergencies—such as medical crises, family emergencies, or institutional errors. Such requests should be submitted before the semester census date. Deans will apply this standard when reviewing requests, and the Registrar's Office is encouraged to return any requests that do not clearly meet these criteria. This collaborative approach will help ensure that published enrollment deadlines are upheld and that we collectively model the discipline we expect of our students.

Grading Policy (A.02.04)

Scope

All Students

Purpose

To describe grades and grade point values.

Definitions

A. Course Numbers

Courses are identified by subjects and four-digit numbers. The first digit indicates the level of a course. A “1” indicates first-year or entry level, while “3” and “4” indicate upper-division and typically presume prior completion of courses beginning with “1” or “2.” The second digit indicates the number of credit hours earned for successful completion of the course. The final two digits indicate the departmental sequence. Thus, Chemistry 1341 is a first-year chemistry course carrying 3 credit hours, and Chemistry 1141 is a first-year course carrying 1 credit hour. These two courses are lecture and lab for first-year General Chemistry and together total 4 credit hours. If a course ends with a character of ‘X’, this denotes that the course uses a non-degree grading basis (does not factor into the GPA). If a course ends with a character of ‘V’, the credit hours of the course are variable. For variable-credit classes, the 2nd digit will be a zero.

B. Credit Hours

The unit of measurement for academic work is the credit hour, representing fifty minutes of class lecture or contact time per week for one semester. Two to four laboratory clock hours are usually required for earning 1 credit hour in a laboratory course.

Policy/Procedure

1. Grading and Point Equivalents

A = 4.00 grade points per credit hour

A- = 3.70 grade points per credit hour

B+ = 3.30 grade points per credit hour

B = 3.00 grade points per credit hour

B- = 2.70 grade points per credit hour

C+ = 2.30 grade points per credit hour

C = 2.00 grade points per credit hour

C- = 1.70 grade points per credit hour

D+ = 1.30 grade points per credit hour

D = 1.00 grade points per credit hour

F = 0.00 grade points per credit hour

P = Credit earned without impact on the student’s GPA. See the policy on Pass/Fail Option.

I = Incomplete. At the discretion of the faculty member, a grade of “I” may be assigned to a student who has successfully completed [i.e., with at least a passing grade] a majority of the work of the class and who has an unavoidable and compelling reason why the remainder of the work cannot be completed on schedule. Incomplete grade requests can only be submitted after the end of the formal withdrawal (“W”) period. Upon the completion of the work within the next regular semester at the time prescribed by the faculty member, the faculty member will award the student a letter grade, including the possibility of an “F.” An “I” grade that is not replaced by a letter grade or an “IE” grade by the end of the grade deadline in the subsequent regular semester will automatically become a grade of “F.”

IE = Incomplete Extended. At the discretion of the faculty member, a grade of “IE” may be assigned to a student for one semester if the situation warrants. The “IE” grade that is not replaced by the end of the grade deadline of the semester in which it expires will automatically become a grade of “F.”

DS = Passing, Stopped Attending. Same grade point calculation as “D.” Denotes that the student stopped attending but did not officially withdraw. This is an internal classification for tracking purposes and will appear on the transcript as an “D”.

FN = Failure, Never Attended. Same grade point calculation as “F.” Denotes that student never attended but did not officially withdraw. This is an internal classification for tracking purposes, and the official grade will appear as an “F’ on the transcript.

FS = Failure, Stopped Attending. Same grade point calculation as “F.” Denotes that student never attended but did not officially withdraw. This is an internal classification for tracking purposes and will appear on the transcript as an “F”.

S = Satisfactory progress. This grade is reserved for a course that typically goes beyond one semester. A final grade is posted upon completion of the work.

W = Withdrawal or drop from a course without jeopardy or effect on GPA, in the period beginning with the 13th day of classes and ending with the last day of the 11th week of a regular semester, or as specified on the Academic Calendar for courses in other sessions. Failure to withdraw officially from any or all courses within the specified period to withdraw with a “W” can result in a grade of “F.”

WF = Withdrawal or drop from a course after the end of official withdrawal period, ending on the last day of classes for the term. Equivalent to “F’ grade, earning 0.00 grade points per credit hour and impacting term and cumulative GPA.

AUD = Audit only; no credits earned.

NGS = No grade submitted. This is a temporary notation used when a faculty member has not submitted a grade by a prescribed deadline. The course grade is pending. The faculty member will report the actual course grade by means of their myStThom account or the official Grade Change Form. NGS has no negative impact on a student’s term or cumulative GPA.

The description and interpretation of the letter grades is as follows:

A, A- = Excellent (unusual and superior achievement)
B+, B, B- = Good (above average, articulate achievement)
C+, C = Satisfactory (average work)
C-, D+, D, DS = Passing (below standard)
F, FN, FS = Failing

The GPA is calculated by adding the total number of grade points earned and then dividing by the total number of hours attempted at the University.
To achieve the minimum GPA required for a degree, the student must have obtained at least twice as many grade points as hours attempted at the University of St. Thomas. Courses taken outside the University of St. Thomas are not calculated in determining grade point averages.

2. Final Semester Grades

Semester grades and cumulative statistics are available at the end of each semester on myStThom. Faculty members are not authorized to post final grades or release them to students by any other means. Students should review their grades carefully. A course grade may not be changed after one year following completion of the course.

Absences and Withdrawals (A.02.05)

Scope

All Students.

Policy/Procedure

01. Withdrawals due to Absence from Class

Frequent unexplained absences may result in a student being administratively withdrawn from the course or in a grade reduction or failing grade, at the discretion of the faculty member, in accordance with the faculty member's attendance policy included on the course syllabus. Please note, however, that non–attendance does not automatically withdraw a student from a course or from the University. Students should follow the formal add/drop and withdrawal procedures of the University for any courses which they do not wish to attend.

02. Withdrawal from the University

At any time prior to the last day of the semester, a student may officially withdraw from the University by completing the Withdrawal/Discontinue Statement Form from the Registrar's Office.

Financial aid recipients must also notify the Office of Scholarships and Financial Aid. Students receiving veteran's benefits must notify the Veteran Success Center.

As with dropping individual courses, failure of a student to withdraw officially within the specified period to withdraw with a "W" can result in the awarding of "F" or "WF" grades for all courses. Petitions for any exceptions to these rules due to extenuating circumstances must be made in writing to the Academic Committee via the Academic Petition Form. Students are strongly encouraged to consult with their academic advisors, financial aid counselors, and student accounts counselors prior to any type of withdrawal. A student who has withdrawn from the University must contact the Admissions Office regarding readmission.

03. Medical Withdrawals

Students wishing to secure a medical withdrawal must submit an official doctor's note on letterhead indicating the diagnosis, length of time they were under the doctor's care, and the doctor's recommendation along with the Medical Withdrawal Request Form located on the Registrar's webpage. All documentation must be submitted to the Registrar no later than the last day of classes for the applicable term.

Refunds will be considered on an individual basis for students who stopped attending classes before October 1 for the fall semester and March 1 for the spring semester. Because the summer term has multiple sessions with different start/end dates, refunds for classes taken in those sessions will be at the discretion of the Registrar. Medical withdrawals may be made after these deadlines with a resulting grade of "W," but no refunds will be granted.

The Office of Scholarships and Financial Aid will follow federal guidelines in determining refund procedures for all federal programs. Institutional and State Aid that was applied to any tuition charge will be reviewed on a case-by-case basis and will be subject to reduction and/or cancellation prior to any tuition refund being issued.

If a medical withdrawal is approved, any course(s) in the term where a final grade has not been earned and officially recorded as of the approval date will be marked with a "W" grade. No partial withdrawal will be allowed. Students who have secured a medical withdrawal may not return to the University without their doctor's written approval.

Academic Integrity (A.02.11)

Scope

All Students.

Purpose

To describe academic dishonesty and its consequences.

Policy/Procedure

The University of St. Thomas strives to provide a learning environment that is rooted in academic and ethical behavior and embraces the Basilian Fathers' core values of goodness, discipline, and knowledge. Students are therefore expected to act with honesty and integrity in their pursuit of academic excellence. Every offense against academic honesty seriously undermines the teaching-learning process for which the University exists, and such offenses will be dealt with seriously.

Definition

Academic dishonesty includes but is not limited to:

1. Cheating on an assignment, examination, or test; for example, by copying from another's work or using unauthorized materials before or during the test, including the use of electronic devices;
2. Plagiarism, which represents as one's own the work of another, whether published or not, without acknowledging the precise source;
3. Participation in the academic dishonesty of another student, even though one's own work is not directly affected;
4. Any conduct which would be recognized as dishonest in an academic setting.
5. The use of generative artificial intelligence (GAI) unless expressly permitted in the course syllabus or for a particular assignment.

Charge of Academic Dishonesty

Faculty and/or exam administrators who consider that they have a valid case of academic dishonesty against a student must inform the student of the charge and the resulting penalty which is at the discretion of the faculty member. The faculty member will submit the charge, penalty and supporting documentation to the Dean of Students and the Registrar using the Academic Dishonesty form on the portal after the act has been discovered and investigated but no later than the date when course grades are due for the semester or academic session. Record of the offence will be kept by the Registrar's office as an official academic record. Each case will be treated as a matter of deferred adjudication; if and when the student graduates, the record will be expunged. A student wishing to appeal the academic dishonesty charge must write a letter of appeal within seven days of receiving the Report of Academic Dishonesty. The Registrar will forward the appeal and all supporting documents pertaining to the case to the Academic Committee.

Second Case Offenses

When a second charge of academic dishonesty has been upheld against a student, the student shall be dismissed from the University. The transcript will note "Dismissed for Academic Dishonesty," along with the date. Readmission to the University may be considered under extraordinary circumstances through a written appeal to the office of the Vice President for Academic Affairs.

Incomplete Grade (A.02.13)

Scope

All Undergraduate and Graduate Students

Purpose

To outline the policy for incomplete grades.

Definition

A grade of Incomplete ("I") may be given at the discretion of the instructor to students who are making satisfactory progress in a course but will not be able to complete course requirements by the end of the term. Incompletes are typically given for emergency situations which prevent the student from completing course requirements.

Procedure

01. When assigning an "I" grade and Contract

Instructors must provide students with an Incomplete Grade Contract that outlines the work to be accomplished before the "I" can be converted to a final grade and specifies a deadline date; the contract constitutes an agreement between instructors and students. A copy of the contract should be submitted by the instructor to the Registrar's Office by the grading deadline of the semester. The Registrar will verify the "I" grades that have been posted on the student's record and verify that the incomplete contract has been received by the instructor.

02. Time Limit of "I" Grade

A grade of "I" must be resolved by the student within the time limit outlined in the Incomplete Grade Contract. If additional time is warranted, the "I" may be extended for one regular (fall/spring) semester by changing the "I" grade to an Incomplete Extended ("IE"). The instructor must request the extension by submitting a completed grade change form to the Registrar's Office no later than the end grade deadline of the semester in which the "I" grade expires. The "I" and "IE" grades that have not been changed to letter grades by the end of the grade deadline of the next semester (fall/spring) will automatically become a grade of "F" or the grade specified in the incomplete contract. If an "IE" needs to be extended, a grade change form must be completed by the instructor and signed by the instructor and Dean.

03. Re-Registration

Students should not re-register for courses in which they have received grades of Incomplete.

04. Academic Standing

"I" and "IE" grades are not calculated in the GPA and do not affect a student's academic standing. An "I" or "IE" that is changed to a letter grade or automatically converted to an "F" will affect a student's academic standing at the end of the semester in which the grade change is completed.

05. Incomplete Grade Reminders to Faculty

The Registrar's Office will send an email to faculty and students to remind them of outstanding "I" grades. The faculty will contact students to remind them of the contract that was signed and when the student should submit the required assignment(s).

Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974 (FERPA) (A.03.02)

Scope

All Students (undergraduate, graduate, off-campus and distance learners).

Purpose

To describe FERPA responsibilities and requirements.

Policy/Procedure

Under the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974, the University is free to release information about students categorized as "directory-type information." Students have the right to restrict the disclosure of this information by completing and submitting a Request to Prevent Disclosure of Directory Information form to the Registrar's Office. Once this request has been submitted to the Registrar's office, the restriction to disclose directory information will remain in effect until the student submits a request to the Registrar's office to revoke the original request. Copies of the policies and procedures governed by this Act are also available for review in the Registrar's Office.

The following is a brief summary of the policy that relates directly to student records held by individual faculty members:

1. All students and former students of the University have access to their own individual records for the purpose of inspection and review, with certain specified exceptions. The exceptions pertaining to records in the possession of faculty are the following: personal and educational notes and records in the sole possession of the faculty author and not revealed to any person other than a substitute agent of the faculty member (for example, notes of conferences with students kept by faculty members for their own use); records authorized by the student to be written confidentially (for example, letters of recommendations; see item 5. below).
2. In general, a student's grades or other records may not be released to a third party without the student's specific written authorization. Exceptions to this rule include officials, faculty and staff employed by the University who have a "legitimate educational interest," parents or guardians who certify that a student is carried as a dependent for federal income tax purposes, and other appropriate persons if their knowledge of such information is necessary to protect the health and safety of the student or other persons.
3. Students may not remove items from their records, nor may they obtain copies of records that can be obtained from the original source of the record.
4. Students may challenge the release of any information directly relating to them. The challenge is restricted to inaccurate, misleading or otherwise inappropriate records and information. Regulations specify an initial informal hearing and, if requested by a participant, a subsequent formal hearing to determine the accuracy and pertinence of the challenged information.
5. All recommendations placed in educational records after January 1, 1975, are available to the student except in cases in which the student waives, in writing, the privilege of examination.

Academic Regulations for Veterans and Dependents (A.05.01)

Scope

All Students Receiving VA Educational Benefits

Purpose

To outline academic regulations for veterans or their dependents.

Policy/Procedure

Academic regulations for veterans and dependents of veterans are administered by the Veteran Success Center under the supervision of the VA Certifying Official. Eligible veterans and dependents receive monthly payments for their entitlement based on the course work for which they enroll. In compliance with U.S. Veterans Administration regulations, students who receive educational benefits from the VA must meet and maintain certain standards. Students must select courses with care, making certain that each course meets VA requirements. For this reason, students receiving VA educational benefits are required to consult with their academic advisors and submit a copy of a signed degree plan to the VA Certifying Official. Students must notify the VA Certifying Official of their continued enrollment every semester, and also of any changes in their registration during the semester. The following are the requirements that must be met in order to receive VA monthly payments:

1. A student receiving VA educational benefits must pursue a program of single objective only. Double and joint majors or programs are not allowed unless approved by the VA.
2. No course may be taken as a remedial, deficiency or refresher course without proper documentation.
3. Each course must fulfill a requirement for graduation in the degree program;
4. No course may be taken as an "audit" course.
5. No course may be a repeat of a course for which credit has already been received;
6. Each course must be completed and assigned a grade that will be used to compute GPA and count toward the degree. Withdrawal from courses without mitigating circumstances and with the result of no credit or grade being awarded will cause benefits to be terminated retroactively from the beginning date of the semester, creating an over-award and the possible obligation to repay the Veterans Administration.

All students receiving VA educational benefits must maintain "satisfactory progress" by achieving the required minimum cumulative GPA, based on the total hours attempted. The University of St. Thomas will not prohibit attendance or impose penalties to GI Bill® eligible students while waiting on VA payments if a Certificate of Eligibility has been submitted to the Veteran Success Center.

To ensure satisfactory progress, transcripts of those students receiving VA benefits will be monitored at the end of each semester. Should the student complete a semester with a GPA below the required minimum, a warning notice will be given to the student advising that satisfactory progress is not being maintained and that he/she will be placed on academic probation for one semester. A student who incurs academic probation for two consecutive semesters or who incurs academic suspension for any semester shall be reported to the VA regional office as making unsatisfactory progress. VA benefit payments will be terminated due to unsatisfactory progress. A student whose benefits are terminated because of unsatisfactory progress, and who is permitted to re-enroll in the University, must apply to the Veterans Administration to request reinstatement of educational benefits.

Regulations for International Students (A.05.02)

Scope

International Students in F-1 Student Visa Status.

Purpose

To outline requirements for international students in F-1 visa status. This is not an exhaustive list of related federal and University policies.

Policy

In addition to complying with the general academic regulations of the University, nonimmigrant students in F-1 student visa status must follow the regulations in this policy. Students are responsible for consulting the Office of International Services and Study Abroad (OISSA) and to understand and comply with all applicable requirements in order to maintain their lawful status. Failure to comply with federal regulations may result in violation of their F-1 status.

01. Full-Time Enrollment

F-1 status international students are required to maintain a full-time enrollment status each fall and spring semester (12 hours undergraduate or 9 hours graduate1 with exceptions for programs listed in A.02.022) and make normal academic progress in their academic program. Students beginning in a summer session must enroll full-time in their initial summer session at UST. No more than one online course or three credit hours can be counted towards their enrollment minimum each semester. International students must obtain authorization from OISSA for an eligible reason before dropping below a full-time course load, taking a leave of absence from their program, or withdrawing from the University. If a student takes only one course in the last semester, it cannot be online.

02. In-Person Attendance Requirement for Hyflex Courses

Unless otherwise specified by federal regulations, international students holding F-1 student visas are required to attend class regularly and in-person in the physical classroom and cannot attend class in a fully online modality.

03. Employment Authorization

Enrolled F-1 students are eligible to work on-campus for up to 20 hours/week during spring and fall semesters. More than 20 hours/week is permitted during official school breaks. They may not work off-campus without prior authorization from OISSA or the U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services.

04. Reporting Requirement and Timely Requests

F-1 International students are required to provide updated physical address, phone number, major and minor to OISSA within 10 days of change. Students must reply to OISSA's requests for information and documentation and submit any necessary requests to OISSA in a timely manner.

05. Health Insurance

All F-1 international students are required to enroll in the University's international student health insurance plan unless they already have health insurance that meets the waiver requirements and obtain approval for a waiver.

Definitions

Credit hours is the unit of measurement for academic work is the credit hour, representing fifty minutes of class lecture or contact time per week for one semester. Two to four laboratory clock hours are usually required for earning 1 credit hour in a laboratory course.

Distance education is a formal educational process that uses one or more technologies to deliver instruction to students who are separated from the instructor and to support regular and substantive interaction between the students and the instructor synchronously or asynchronously.

A distance education course (i.e., online course) is defined as one in which the instructional content is delivered exclusively via distance education.

A distance education program (i.e., online program) is a program for which all the required coursework for program completion is able to be completed via online courses.

A hybrid course is defined as one in which a minimum of one third (but less than 100%) of instructional content is delivered via distance education.

A hyflex course is defined as a live course that is also streamed live on the Internet. Students may be in person or remote.

Study Abroad Programs

University of St. Thomas's study abroad programs extend learning beyond the classroom and country borders. As they journey through the world, the program participants discover diverse cultures, create lasting friendships, gain a global perspective and discover their purpose. We offer programs at various destinations and for all undergraduate majors. There are two types of programs as detailed below. For more information, please refer to www.stthom.edu/studyabroad or contact studyabroad@stthom.edu.

Individual Exchange Programs

UST's Individual exchange programs allow undergraduate students to study for one semester or for an academic year at one of UST's partner universities abroad. We have partnerships with universities around the world and the current list can be found at www.stthom.edu/studyabroad. Although some local language proficiency is encouraged, it's not required at most of our partner universities as they offer courses in English. Courses taken at partner universities are considered in residence at UST and the grades are posted to equivalent UST courses. Students continue to pay UST tuition and fees during the exchange programs and the programs don't impact their existing financial aid. At least one year of study at UST, good academic standing and good disciplinary standing is required to apply. Participating students are responsible to consult with their financial aid advisor to plan financially for their study abroad programs. A study abroad advisor will advise students on additional study abroad scholarship opportunities. While opportunities for graduate students are limited, some may be eligible for some exchange programs.

Faculty-Led Group Programs

The University of St. Thomas offers numerous opportunities each year for students to study abroad with their fellow UST students as part of a course. Some faculty-led programs offer graduate courses. These programs are led by UST faculty members, usually last 1-3 weeks, and occur during the winter break, spring break, or the summer. They consist of on–campus course requirements prior to departure as well as lectures and excursions abroad. The faculty-led study abroad course offerings and their locations vary from year to year. Students are responsible for the course tuition that is typically included in the flat rate tuition for fall and spring semesters and the determined trip cost for each program. Eligibility include good disciplinary standing and any applicable course pre-requisites. Visit www.stthom.edu/studyabroad to view the current list or contact studyabroad@stthom.edu.

Certification, Certificate, Continuing Education Units, and Workshops and Speakers

Certification

A certification is a credential offered by an external body to the University to our students or other constituents (it can be offered formally or informally through the University, yet it belongs to an external body): For example, Cisco certification would be offered through Cisco to our students or to others; the certification will come from Cisco, and Cisco will house the record of the earned credential.

Certificate

A certificate is a focused, structured, and interrelated set of courses that enhances the undergraduate/graduate experience in an emerging academic area, addresses a professional development need, or provides preparation for a degree program. A certificate is an internally generated credential from a department or school within the University of St. Thomas, is credit bearing, and resides on the academic transcript.

Continuing Education Unit

A Continuing Education Unit (CEU) is a unit of instruction defined as "contact hours of participation in an organized continuing experience under responsible sponsorship, capable direction, and qualified instruction" (IACET 2017). Continuing education units are maintained through the Registrar's Office and are recorded on a co-curricular or CEU-specific transcript separate from the academic transcript. The university follows AACRAO guidelines for the transcription of continuing education credit.

Workshops and Speakers

A workshop is a meeting in which a university department, school, or recognized UST club or organization offers material through speakers, activities, and discussion to achieve knowledge or skills in a particular subject or project. Speakers are those who present at a workshop or lecture hosted by a department, school, or recognized UST club or organization.

Guidelines for Certificates

1. Certificate students are not eligible for participation in the Commencement ceremony or similar graduation ceremonies.
2. All certificate program applicants must follow the standard admissions requirements for the school and career to which they are being admitted to enroll in the certificate program.
3. There is no minimum or maximum credit hours applied to a certificate program. This decision in the case of each certificate is decided by the parenting program for the certificate but must be reviewed and approved by the Chair and Dean responsible for the program. In other words, the total number of credit hours is decided by the school responsible for the certificate program.
4. Transfer credit hours may apply to a certificate program. The percentage of credit hours applied may be the decision of the school responsible for the program but must be approved by the Dean of the School and reviewed by the VPAA, both who hold veto authority.
5. A certificate is a stand-alone credential. For clarification, concentrations and tracks are areas of specialty that reside within a degree program. A concentration is 12 credit hours for undergraduate work and nine credit hours for graduate work, while a track is nine credit hours for undergraduate work.

6. Courses taken as pass/fail in a certificate program cannot be used to substitute for similar graded courses in a degree-seeking program.
7. Since certificates are considered a type of degree, any additions/changes/deletions to certificates are approved through the relevant curricular approval body (i.e., Undergraduate Curriculum Committee, Grad Council, Max Guiding Coalition).
8. There are no SACSCOC concerns or considerations.

Veterans Readiness and Employment (RV)

The Texas Rehabilitation Commission offers assistance for tuition and required fees to students having certain physical or emotional handicaps, provided vocational objectives selected by the handicapped persons have been approved by appropriate representatives of the commission. Through this state agency other rehabilitation services are available to assist handicapped persons to become employable. Applications for assistance should be made to the nearest rehabilitation office.

Academic Standards

Academic Honors (A.02.09)

Scope

All Undergraduate Students.

Purpose

To outline policies pertaining to academic honors.

Policy/Procedure

Students qualify for graduation honors based on their overall undergraduate cumulative grade-point average (GPA) in the semester their degree is conferred. The GPA used to determine honors is based on undergraduate courses completed at the University of St. Thomas. Honors printed for the Commencement ceremony and program will be based on the overall GPA earned in the term prior to the graduation term. Honors for the permanent record and diploma are based on the final grades in the term in which the student graduates. Grade point averages are not rounded up to meet the honors standards noted below.

01. Graduation Honors

Graduation honors are recorded on the student's permanent academic record following graduation processing. Honors will not be changed or updated for courses taken after the degree is conferred. To be eligible for summa cum laude, magna cum laude, or cum laude, a student must have completed at least 60 credit hours at the University of St. Thomas with an appropriate honors average. Levels of honors for all bachelor's degrees awarded by the University are 3.75, summa cum laude; 3.50, magna cum laude; 3.25, cum laude.

02. Academic Distinction

Undergraduate transfer students who have completed 36 through 59 credit hours at the University of St. Thomas with a GPA of 3.30 or above will receive the honor of Academic Distinction.

03. Senior Honors Convocation

In the spring semester each year, a Senior Honors Convocation recognizes those graduates who have been elected to Delta Epsilon Sigma or Alpha Sigma Lambda or who are to receive Aquinas Honor Society keys.

04. Dean's List

The Dean's List is published for each semester to recognize those students who, with a minimum credit hour load of 12 credit hours and a minimum of 12 credit hours earned, have achieved a GPA of at least 3.30. Part-time students are evaluated on an annual basis (January – December) for inclusion on the Dean's List. They must be categorized as "part-time" at the time of each registration, must have accumulated at least 12 credit hours during this annual period, and must have a current term GPA of at least 3.30.

Good Academic Standing Policy (A.02.10)

Scope

All Undergraduate Students.

Purpose

To establish a standard of Good Academic Standing for undergraduate students.

Policy

A student is in Good Academic Standing as long as he/she maintains a minimum GPA, as specified below. To remain in Good Academic Standing and avoid Academic Probation, a student must have the following minimum cumulative grade point average on course work completed at the University of St. Thomas relative to the number of completed regular fall/spring semesters. Students placed on Academic Probation will not be in Good Academic Standing. A cumulative grade point average of 2.0 is the minimum standard for graduation.

Completed Regular Fall/Spring Semesters	UST Grade Point Average
Semester 1	1.70
Semester 2	1.80
Semester 3	1.90
Semester 4 +	2.00

Note: All coursework completed at UST outside of the regular fall/spring terms, will be counted toward cumulative grade point average and will effect Good Academic Standing.

Academic Probation and Dismissal

Academic Probation is intended to warn students that they have dropped below the level of performance necessary for Good Academic Standing (listed above). Students shall be placed on Academic Probation if their cumulative GPA does not meet the required minimum relative to the number of regular fall/spring semesters completed at UST. Academic Probation will remain until the student meets the required cumulative GPA. Once the cumulative GPA meets or exceeds the minimum GPA requirement, the student will be removed from Academic Probation and be in Good Academic Standing.

Only course work taken at UST will be applied toward the grade point average. Academic Probation will be posted to the fall/spring semester in which the cumulative GPA falls below the level of Good Academic Standing. The cumulative GPA will be recalculated at the start of each semester (fall, spring and summer), and all coursework completed at UST between the fall and spring semesters will be used toward the GPA re-calculation. Academic Probation will be noted permanently on the student's academic record. Students on Academic Probation may be required to carry a restricted course load and/or repeat courses as well as perform other activities prescribed by the Registrar or designee. Students unwilling to accept the conditions of their probation will be dismissed.

Academic Dismissal is incurred when a student's cumulative GPA drops below the level of performance necessary for Good Academic Standing (listed above) and his/her semester GPA continues to post below the requirement for Good Academic Standing. During the academic dismissal, students may not enroll, audit or visit classes at UST. Academic dismissal will be noted permanently on students' academic records.

Students may also be dismissed if they are on probation and are unwilling to accept the conditions of their probation or do not conscientiously fulfill the conditions of their probation. On these matters, the student's academic advisor or dean of students will make the recommendations to the Registrar.

Other reasons may justify dismissal, including academic dishonesty and violating certain norms of conduct expected of students as outlined in the Code of Student Conduct.

A student who has been dismissed for academic reasons may apply for readmission to the University after one year. The University's Admissions Committee reviews readmission applications and sets the conditions for readmission. These may involve the student taking only prescribed courses or a limited course load. In all cases, the student will be readmitted on a conditional basis. The student's academic advisor will monitor the student's progress in meeting the conditions of readmission set by the Admissions Committee.

Academic Fresh Start

Students who have not completed coursework at UST for ten or more years are eligible for the academic "fresh start" program. Essentially, if a student elects this option and is re-admitted to UST under current application requirements, all courses taken ten or more years ago will be counted toward degree completion; however, they will not be counted in the new GPA calculations. Students utilizing the Academic Fresh Start program are required to complete a minimum of 36 hours counted toward their GPA, in order to graduate from the University of St. Thomas. With this option, a student who left the University on probation could return ten years later with good academic standing.

The provisions of the "fresh start" program cannot be reversed once initiated, and it may only be invoked once.

In order to be considered for the "fresh start" program, students must select the "fresh start" option on the application and submit all official transcripts from all colleges and universities attended.

Note: Academic Fresh Start clears only a student's academic record. When deciding eligibility for financial aid, the University must count all prior credits earned. In addition, the Department of Veterans Affairs does not recognize the Academic Fresh Start program. Students cannot be certified for courses they have successfully completed.

Records and Transcripts (A.03.01 NGP)

Scope

All Undergraduate Students.

Purpose

To define policy pertaining to academic records and transcripts.

Policy/Procedure

Students admitted to the University with incomplete academic files must complete their files before October 15th for the fall semester and March 15th for the spring semester. Those who fail to comply with this requirement will be denied registration for subsequent semesters until the files are complete.

Records

The Registrar of the University is responsible for maintaining official student educational records.

Changes to Academic Records

A student who questions an enrollment record (including a grade) as recorded in the Office of the Registrar has a period of one year from the date in which the course was completed to challenge its accuracy. At the end of one year the permanent record will become the absolute record, and changes may not be made.

Student Access to Records

Students wishing to review their educational records must make written request to the Registrar via the FERPA – Request to Inspect and Review Education Records form found on the mySTThom student portal (UST Resources > Student Documents > Forms > Registrar), listing the items they wish to review. Only records covered by the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974 will be made available. The Registrar will respond within 45 working days of receiving the written request.

Transcripts

Requests for official transcripts must be made online through our third party vendor, Parchment. Official transcripts are not released without the student's consent. The processing of a transcript request normally takes two working days and is generated at a cost of $11.25 for each official transcript, to be paid at the time of the request. No transcript will be released if a University hold that prevents its release exists on the student's record. To be official, paper transcripts must bear the signature of the Registrar and be printed on official transcript paper, and the envelope seal must not be broken. Digital transcripts will be digitally certified by and sent through Parchment. Only official transcripts are sent outside the University.

Degree Requirements (A.04.01)

Scope

All Undergraduate Students.

Purpose

The University of St. Thomas awards the following bachelor's degrees:

- Bachelor of Arts (BA)
- Bachelor of Applied Arts and Sciences (BAAS)
- Bachelor of Business Administration (BBA)
- Bachelor of Fine Arts (BFA)
- Bachelor of Science (BS)
- Bachelor of Science in Nursing (BSN)

The University of St. Thomas awards the following associate degrees:

- Associate of Applied Science (AAS)
- Associate of Arts (AA)
- Associate of Science (AS)

The purpose of this policy is to outline the requirements for these degrees.

Definitions/Policy/Procedure

Requirements of Bachelor's Degrees

01. Core Curriculum

A liberal education is one pursued for its own sake and free of service to utilitarian ends, because it is good in itself for the human person to attain wisdom and to live in accord with the truth. The educational purpose of the Core Curriculum consists of the following goals:

Core Curriculum Goals (Approved 2022)

1. To form in students an understanding of themselves as human persons endowed with intellectual and imaginative capacities and free will, so that they are empowered to pursue wisdom and to cultivate virtues, in which their humanity is fulfilled.
2. To cultivate intellectual skills that shape the life of the mind across multiple disciplines and enable a person to grow intellectually into the best version of himself or herself. Such skills take many forms. They could, for example, include, without being limited to, the ability to read and interpret, to draw conclusions from principles or data, to formulate accurate definitions, or to persuade others without manipulation or deceit.
3. To develop in students a reflective, philosophical habit of mind from the perspective of which the truths of all disciplines, of faith and of reason, can begin to be grasped as an ordered whole unified by underlying principles. This manifests itself in a healthy curiosity and a reverent wonder for truth in all its forms and in a keen interest in the underlying causes of things.
4. Link to Core Curriculum Homepage

All students must complete the Core Curriculum in full. Students with transfer credit may fulfill their core requirements by taking a reduced subset of the required core courses. These reduced subsets are known as transfer pathways. These pathways are established and overseen by the Core Fellows. For students in the transfer pathways, their transfer credit is considered a part of their general education, but it is not transferred in as an equivalent to any core courses offered at the University.

Students whose transfer credit does not include at least three hours of social or behavioral science and three hours of mathematics or natural science must complete the Mathematics and Social Science courses in the Core Curriculum.

02. Additional requirements for Bachelor's Degrees

1. Completion of:
    1. a major or approved program in which at least 50 percent of the required upper-division credit hours in the major field are completed at the University of St. Thomas (exceptions: no requirement for General Studies or Liberal Arts majors);
    2. at least 36 credit hours of upper-division credit (3000-4000 course numbers);
    3. at least 120 hours of quality credit (a minimum cumulative GPA of 2.0);
    4. the final 36 credit hours in residence at the University.
2. Completion of the Freshman Symposium, a one-credit hour, mandatory course exclusively for first-year students at the University of St. Thomas, introducing them to the UST mission and the Basilian Fathers' core values of goodness, discipline, and knowledge. Freshmen register for it during the Freshmen Registration/Orientation events and can choose a class that aligns with their interests, with course descriptions provided in advance.
3. Students seeking a bachelor's degree will ordinarily follow the degree requirements of the catalog in effect at the time of their first matriculation into the University, or they may follow the requirements of any subsequent catalog in effect during their continued enrollment. Students who leave the University for four or more consecutive regular semesters (fall and spring) and subsequently reenroll must follow either the degree requirements of the catalog in effect at the time of their reenrollment or the requirements of any subsequent catalog in effect during their continued enrollment.
4. Ordinarily, a student must follow all the requirements of the catalog chosen. Exceptions may arise if program requirements must be revised to implement new educational standards recommended or required by federal or state agencies, professional societies, or the University's faculty.
5. Students must file for graduation the semester prior to graduation via myStThom. The Office of the Registrar will post the dates by which a graduating student should file for graduation.
6. All financial obligations to the University must be satisfied before the University issues a diploma to a student.

03. The Major

To receive a bachelor's degree, a student must complete the requirements of at least one major program. A major consists of a defined group of courses, usually within a single discipline, designed to give the student in-depth knowledge of a specific field of study. A major may also consist of a planned group of courses from more than one discipline.

A major requires a minimum of 30 credit hours, at least 15 of which must be upper division. When major programs require courses from another discipline, however, the combined total number of hours may exceed these limits. A minimum of 50 percent of the required upper-division hours must be completed at the University of St. Thomas (except in the case of the Liberal Arts/General Studies majors, for which there in no minimum requirement).

Students must maintain a minimum cumulative GPA of 2.00 in their major. This requirement applies to both majors in a joint major program. With the approval of the appropriate school dean, individual departments may set higher standards for their majors. Students may not take courses required for their major on a "Pass/Fail" basis.

After completing 29 credit hours, a student may formally declare a major by completing the Declaration/ Change of Major Form and filing it with the Registrar. A student must declare a major after completing 59 credit hours. This is usually done during the early academic advising period before classification as a junior occurs and is a requirement for registration beyond 59 credit hours. Students who have reached 60 hours (junior status) without having declared a major will have a hold placed on their records that will prevent them from registering for classes.

04. Multiple Majors

The University offers both double-major and joint-major options. In all cases, students must confer with the appropriate department chairs to develop degree plans that will ensure that course and credit-hour requirements are current and documented.

05. The Minor

The University encourages students to complete one or more minors; that is, a planned sequence of courses in a discipline other than the student's major. A minor consists of between 15 and 24 credit hours, at least 9 of which must be upper-division credit, and 9 of which must be taken at the University of St. Thomas. Consult the department and program sections of this catalog for requirements for specific minor programs.

Students are responsible for timely consulting of departments offering subjects in which they wish to earn a minor or the director or contact person for a minor program to ensure fulfillment of the requirements. Each minor is noted on the student's transcript.

A minimum cumulative GPA of 2.00 is required for a minor. A student may not take courses required for a minor on a "Pass/Fail" basis.

06. Joint Major Programs

A joint major is a two-track program of study. It provides the opportunity for a student to develop a wider range of interest than allowed by a single-discipline major. A joint major is distinguished from a double major. Whereas a double major includes all major requirements of the departments involved, a joint major consolidates the requirements of the cooperating departments.

A joint major program is developed by two cooperating departments and must adhere to the following guidelines:

1. All core requirements of the University must be met.
2. The student must have approval of both cooperating departments and have an advisor from each.
3. Neither department will require as many credit hours in its portion of the joint major as it requires for a regular major.
4. Neither department will reduce the credit hours required within its discipline by more than 6 credit hours.
5. Neither department will reduce its related requisite hours by more than 6 credit hours.
6. If both departments require a capstone experience, the student must complete only one of them.
7. The student must achieve a minimum cumulative GPA of 2.00 in both majors or a higher GPA if a department requires it.

For details, prospective joint majors should consult the catalog entry of the departments in which they have an interest and take care to follow #1 and #2 above.

07. Additional Bachelor's degree

A student with a bachelor's degree from the University of St. Thomas may earn an additional bachelor's degree by completing the degree requirements. A minimum of 36 credit hours is required.

A student with a bachelor's degree from another recognized accredited institution may qualify for a UST bachelor's degree by earning a minimum of 36 credit hours at the University of St. Thomas for each additional degree and by fulfilling the general core requirements for the degree and the specific requirements for the new major program.

Students planning to earn an additional degree should consult the appropriate department chair to develop a degree plan prior to first registration at the University.

08. Additional Majors or Minors

Graduates of the University of St. Thomas who hold a baccalaureate degree may earn additional majors and minors by completing the departmental requirements for each major or minor. The student is responsible for tracking this additional coursework and notifying the academic department and the Office of the Registrar that the requirements for their additional majors/minors has been completed. If notification is not sent to the Registrar's office (via email from @stthom.edu account) by the end of the final semester of coursework, no further major/minors will be added to the student's record. If a UST graduate has earned a minor at UST then the student is not able to earn a major in that same area of study at UST. A student who has earned a BA Degree in General Studies, Liberal Arts, or a BA/BS in Integrated Studies at UST may not earn a major at UST in any of the concentrations/minor areas of these degrees.

Requirements of Associate Degrees

01. General Education Requirements

The General Education component is a significant and integral part of each associate degree program. For the completion of an associate degree, this component shall comprise a minimum of fifteen (15) semester hours. The requirements for General Education are designed to ensure a comprehensive breadth of knowledge. These General Education credit hours include at least one course from the following areas: humanities/fine arts, social/behavioral sciences, and natural science/mathematics. These courses do not narrowly focus on those skills, techniques, and procedures specific to a particular occupation or profession.

All students must complete the General Education requirements in full.

02. Additional Requirements for Associate Degrees

1. Completion of:
    1. at least 60 hours of quality credit (a minimum cumulative GPA of 2.0);
    2. at least 15 credit hours in residence at the University.
2. Students seeking an associate degree will ordinarily follow the degree requirements of the catalog in effect at the time of their first matriculation into the University, or they may follow the requirements of any subsequent catalog in effect during their continued enrollment. Students in a given program who have been discontinued and are subsequently readmitted and reenroll must follow either the degree requirements of the catalog in effect at the time of their reenrollment or the requirements of any subsequent catalog in effect during their continued enrollment.
3. Ordinarily, a student must follow all the requirements of the catalog chosen. Exceptions may arise if program requirements must be revised to implement new educational standards recommended or required by federal or state agencies, professional societies, or the University's faculty.
4. Students must file for graduation the semester prior to graduation via mySTThom. The Office of the Registrar will post the dates by which a graduating student should file for graduation.
5. All financial obligations to the University must be satisfied before the University issues a diploma to a student.

Program-Specific Policies and Requirements

Bachelor Science of Nursing (BSN and ABSN) Progression Policies

UST Peavy School of Nursing Grading Scale

A	95-100
A-	90-94
B+	87-89
B	84-86
B-	81-83
C+	78-80*
C	75-77
C-	72-74
D+	69-71
D	65-68
F	< 65

C+ or higher is required to pass any Nursing course.*

A grade of C+ (78) or higher is required to pass all nursing courses. A weighted 78% test average is required for successful course completion regardless of other course grades. A student must achieve a 78% weighted course average on tests before other evaluative components are added for the final course grade. Students who do not achieve a 78% weighted average will be awarded his/her exam average grade as the final course grade. A course in the major for which the student has received less than a C+, and/or an unsatisfactory clinical grade, must be repeated. For clinical nursing courses, both the classroom and clinical portions must be repeated regardless of what part(s) of the course were failed. A student failing to earn a C+ in a course with a clinical component must successfully repeat the course with a grade of C+ or higher.

Grades are not rounded.

Successful completion of a Nursing Non–Clinical Course is defined as follows:

1. Weighted 78% test average.
2. Completion of all course assignments and tests.
3. Achievement of a final course grade of C+ or higher (≥ 78).

Successful completion of a Nursing Clinical Course is defined as follows:

1. Grade of "A" (90-100%) on Dosage and Solutions quiz prior to starting clinicals.
2. Weighted 78% test average.
3. Completion of all course assignments and tests.
4. Completion and submission of clinical assignments and written work.
5. A satisfactory clinical evaluation.
6. Achievement of a final course grade of C+ or higher (≥ 78) AND

NOTE: Students will receive a final course grade of C or lower when their overall course grade is higher, but they receive an unsatisfactory grade in clinical. If their overall grade for the course is less than a C, they will receive the grade earned. Students who fail a course must apply to repeat the course.

BSN Program Time Limits

The four–year BSN degree plan must be completed within six years. Students will work with academic advisors to develop a progression plan, which will be reviewed twice a year.

BSN Program Readiness Assessment and Readiness Courses

For Conditionally Admitted BSN Nursing Students

The goal of the readiness assessment process for incoming students is to identify potential areas of needed academic skill development to support success in the nursing curriculum. Students need highly developed reading and math skills and strong content knowledge in anatomy and physiology as a foundation for success in the BSN program.

Repeating Courses

BSN Program

Students who need to repeat a BSN course to complete the curriculum must:

1. Submit a request to repeat a course with rationale to the Dean within two weeks of course withdrawal or failure. Note: A failed course may be repeated only one time, except if the student was dismissed and readmitted back into UST–PSON.
2. Meet with course faculty to determine a remediation plan and preparation for repeating the course successfully.
3. Meet with UST–PSON Dean (or designee) to review, revise, and sign the new altered progression plan.
4. The UST–PSON Dean (or designee) will share the revised degree plan with the academic advisor and place a copy in the UST–PSON student file.

Note: A failed course may be repeated only one time, except if the student was dismissed and readmitted back into UST–PSON.

ABSN Program

Students who fail one course in the ABSN track will be provided an opportunity to repeat the course. The student will enroll in only the course to be repeated in the semester following the course failure. If the course is successfully repeated the student will continue on a full-time basis. Two nursing course failures require dismissal from the ABSN program.

Leave of Absence

BSN Program

Students who have begun upper division coursework and have taken an approved leave of absence for up to one year from UST:

1. May be required to audit, or re-take courses as determined by the BSN Program Director prior to being readmitted or registering for the next level required course with a clinical component.
2. May progress in the nursing program on a space available basis after a letter of intent to reactivate in the program (due March 1 before the fall semester or August 1 for the spring semester) is received and approved by the Associate Dean.

ABSN Program

Students who have begun ABSN coursework and have taken an approved leave of absence for up to one year from UST:

1. May be required to audit or re-take courses as determined by the Director, ABSN Program prior to being readmitted or registering for the next level required course with a clinical component.
2. May progress in the nursing program on a space available basis after a letter of intent to reactivate in the program (due March 1 before the fall semester, August 1 for the spring semester, or February 1 for summer semester) is received and approved by the Director, ABSN Program.

Withdrawal from the UST Peavy School of Nursing

Please see the UST Undergraduate Catalog for complete details on the withdrawal process and/or contact the Registrar's Office. Failure to officially withdraw from the University may result in the awarding of an F in all courses for which the student is still registered. The UST–PSON strongly advises its students to contact their advisors before beginning this process.

Dismissal from the UST Peavy School of Nursing

Students who receive a grade below a C+ in any required nursing course may repeat the course one time only. Receiving a grade below a C+ in a course twice or receiving a grade below C+ in any two nursing courses, will result in dismissal from the nursing program. Students who remain in good academic standing may consider selecting another major at the University.

Appeal Process

Students who have been dismissed from the UST Peavy School of Nursing for academic performance and wish to appeal the dismissal should submit a letter of appeal to the Dean of the UST Peavy School of Nursing within one semester of receipt of the official dismissal notice stating: the rationale why readmission should be considered; the performance issues related to the dismissal; a plan to assure that the performance issues will not be repeated if readmitted.

All decisions will be reviewed and finalized by the Dean prior to student notification.

Undergraduate Programs in Education

The undergraduate education programs are designed to develop classroom teachers who demonstrate the ability to be effective with today's student population in a variety of field settings, both private and public.

Undergraduate teacher preparation programs are available in General and Bilingual Education with certification levels of Early Childhood through grade 6 (with concentrations in Bilingual Generalist, Generalist, or English as a Second Language Generalist); grades 4 through 8 (with concentrations in English Language Arts & Reading, Mathematics, or Social Studies); grades 7 through 12 (in a variety of teaching fields), Early Childhood through grade 12 certification in Art, Music, Spanish, and Theatre Arts, as well as supplemental certification in Special Education. Certification requirements vary for each level and field of concentration. Students should select courses for certification programs only after consultation with assigned advisors in the School of Education and Human Services. Students must file a degree plan in the School of Education and Human Services no later than the end of the sophomore year.

Admission to Teacher Education Requirements

After the first 60 credit hours of study, students desiring to pursue teacher certification must apply for admission to the Teacher Education Program. Application forms are available in the School of Education and Human Services office and should be completed and returned no later than two weeks prior to the beginning of the fall semester.

Before admission, students must a) submit a completed application for admission to Teacher Education; b) have a grade point of at least 2.75 in the last 60 credit hours; and c) possess the personal and professional qualities necessary for success as a classroom teacher, evidenced by three reference forms. Once all admission materials are received, candidates for the program receive notification from the Dean or Director of the Undergraduate Teacher Education Program stating approval, disapproval, or approval with conditions for probationary admission to Teacher Education. Once students have met admission they can take up to 13-credit hours of teacher education courses. When they have reached the 13-credit hour limit progress and GPA will be reviewed to determine continuance in the program.

Full Admission to the Teacher Education Requirements

Candidates must fulfill the following requirements for full program admission:

- Cumulative minimum undergraduate UST G.P.A. of 2.75
- Evidence of completed field experiences on file
- Positive recommendation from teacher education advisor
- Approval by teacher education faculty

The admission process assures both the candidate and the University that the applicant possesses the dispositions necessary for success in a program of professional preparation.

Once students are fully admitted to the School of Education and Human Services, a grade point average of a minimum of 2.5 is required in the teaching fields or areas of specialized coursework, and in the overall grade point average. In addition, professional qualities and a personal commitment necessary for success designed to develop master classroom teachers must be exhibited each semester to continue in the program.

Field Experiences Required Prior to Student Teaching

In addition to student teaching, students participate in a variety of field experiences to become classroom ready. Many of these field experiences are part of professional education courses. Thus, with their link to the professional education courses, field experiences are ongoing throughout coursework leading up to student teaching. During fieldwork students are provided the opportunity to experience classroom instruction at various grade levels and in a variety of educational settings.

The focus of field experiences is on active learning and is skill specific. Students in a variety of classroom settings observe classroom practices, and they work with students individually and in small groups.

Students are required to participate in a minimum of 30 hours of professional field experience in public, charter, and private school settings, prior to clinical teaching. The state requires that 15 hours of professional field experiences are in observation, while the other 15 are interactive hours spent in a TEA designated classroom. Students are also expected to complete a minimum of 10 hours of community service and to participate in a minimum of 20 hours of professional development activities. Professional development includes attendance at education workshops and participation in UST student education organizations. There are several ways that students develop reflective practitioner skills from their field experiences. First, field experiences are shared and discussed in professional education courses. Also, after each field experience students are required to document hours and reflect on their experiences. A form is provided for this purpose. These completed forms are submitted to the Director of Field Experiences or the Administrative Assistant for Field Experiences. Completed forms are carefully reviewed and approved. If a problem or concern is identified with a completed form, the Director of Field Experiences contacts the student's advisor to help with corrective action.

Note: Before participating in field experiences, students are required to pass a criminal background check.

Requirements for Admission to Clinical Teaching

After full admission to Teacher Education and successful completion of certain required courses in the professional development sequence, candidates for certification must apply for admission to clinical teaching. Application forms are accessed through a link that is given to students by the Director of Field Experiences and returned no later than midpoint of the semester prior to the semester planned for clinical teaching. Professional education coursework must have been completed within the past ten years.

Applications for clinical teaching are reviewed and recommended based on the following criteria: a) admission to Teacher Education; b) pre–student teaching professional education course requirements (EDUC 3304, 3306 (for EC–6 candidates), 3339, and 4338) met with a grade point average of at least 2.5. c) a grade point average of at least a 2.5 or better in all teaching fields or areas of specialization; d) an overall grade point average of at least 2.5; e) pre–student teaching field experience requirements met; and f) the professional qualities and personal commitment necessary for success designed to develop master classroom teachers. During clinical teaching, cooperating teachers and field supervisors continuously evaluate students and prepare reports on the progress of each student 3 times within the clinical teaching experience, as designated by TEA policy.

State Board of Educator Certification (SBEC) Teacher Certification Requirements

To enter into the teaching profession, students must take the related Texas Examinations for Educator Standards (TExES) required by the State Board for Educator Certification (SBEC). Students seeking certification in Spanish must take the appropriate Languages Other than English (LOTE) exam. Students seeking bilingual certification must take the Bilingual Target Language Proficiency Test (BTLPT) in addition to other tests required for certification. The Certification Officer approves all applications for TExES leading to initial certification.

Recommended for Certification

The Certification Officer recommends certification only after a student has met all certification requirements, including a) completion of a bachelor's degree; b) completion of Early Childhood through grade 6 (EC–grade 6), Grades 4 through 8, Grades 7 through 12, Early childhood through grade 12 programs; and c) passing scores on all required TExES and/or the BTLPT.

In accordance with Article 6252–12c, Texas Civil Statutes, the Commissioner of Education may refuse to issue a teaching certificate for persons convicted of a felony or misdemeanor crimes that directly relate to the duties and responsibilities of the teaching profession. Applicants for Texas Certificates will be screened for a record of felony or misdemeanor convictions through the Texas Department of Public Safety. Potential applicants may wish to contact the Certification Officer regarding concerns about this Texas requirement.

Degrees & Certificates

AA in Liberal Studies

Degree Type
Associates Degrees

Students from The Angelicum Academy (TAA) who have successfully completed part or all of TAA's Great Books Program and/or Theology Online courses can earn an AA in Liberal Arts through UST by supplementing 45 of 60 completed credit hours at TAA with 15 credit hours of courses in UST's Core curriculum. TAA students would concurrently enroll in these UST courses online.

This particular degree program is part of an articulation agreement with The Angelicum Academy (TAA) and specifically for Angelicum students. No other students may earn the AA in Liberal Studies.

- Angelicum students who earn the AA in Liberal Studies from UST may then apply for admission to pursue a (on-campus) UST baccalaureate degree with 60 credits of college coursework complete, 15 of which would be UST's core curriculum.

Transfer Credits

- UST accepts 45 credits from the Angelicum program.
    - As part of a transfer agreement between these two institutions, UST and TAA agree that students who successfully complete (with a "C" grade or better), part or all of TAA's Great Books Program and/or Theology Online courses, as set forth on the student's official TAA transcript, shall receive 6 credit hours for each semester of the TAA Great Books Program completed (up to 48 credits), and 3 credits for each of the four Theology Online courses completed (up to 12 credits), in transfer credit as college-level courses toward a UST bachelor's degree.
    - UST also agrees that any 45 of the Angelicum Academy's 60 college-level credits set forth above will be accepted in transfer credit as college-level courses toward a UST AA degree in liberal studies. To finish the AA degree, TAA students would concurrently enroll in the remaining 15 credits of UST Core courses online as specified below.
- Along with the aforementioned 45 hours of credits applied from courses taken at TAA, Angelicum students take 15 credits (5 courses) of UST courses online from the following groups below.

Accounting

Degree Type
Bachelor of Business Administration

Department Chair: John Leavins, leavinj@sttom.edu

The accounting degree program provides a broad–based education and promising employment prospects for future business leaders by equipping students with the business and accounting knowledge necessary to obtain professional positions after graduation, providing a sound knowledge base for continuing progress in the accounting profession, and creating an environment within which students and faculty exchange ideas and critically evaluate the profession and its role in society.

The undergraduate accounting curriculum is designed to provide learning and decision–making skills that will be invaluable throughout the graduate's career. Accordingly, the curriculum incorporates both accounting theory and practice. The BBA prepares students who do not wish to sit for the CPA exam in the following careers:

- Corporate
- Nonprofit
- Government accounting

Students interested in public accounting and planning to take the CPA exam must successfully complete 150 hours of college credit. Our BBA/MBA and Master of Science in Accounting degrees are designed to prepare them to sit for this exam.

Bachelor's Degree Requirements

The following overall requirements are needed in order to earn a bachelor's degree. For a full explanation of the requirements, please see policy A.04.01.

- Completion of the core curriculum. Specific core plan is dependent upon accepted transfer credit, major, and Honor's Program participation.
- Successful completion of at least 120 credit hours, with the final 36 hours taken in Residence at UST. Total credits listed on the page only reflect the major.
- Completion of a major.
- Completion of 36 upper-division credit hours.
- A cumulative grade point average (GPA) above 2.0
- A cumulative GPA above 2.0 in your major
- Freshman Symposium is a one-credit hour, mandatory course exclusively for first-year students at the University of St. Thomas, introducing them to the UST mission and the Basilian Fathers' core values of goodness, discipline, and knowledge. Freshmen register for it during the Freshmen Registration/ Orientation events and can choose a class that aligns with their interests, with course descriptions provided in advance.

Art History Contact: Dr. Dominic A. Aquila, aquilad@stthom.edu

Art represents and questions the deepest cultural and spiritual aspirations of society while recording humanity's unique ability to create new technologies. Knowledge of the masterpieces and monuments enhance the life of mind and spirit, inspiring new ideas. The purpose of the University's Art History Program is to enrich the intellectual, aesthetic and spiritual dimensions of the student's experience in discovering the power of art. Our courses also introduce UST students to the fields of anthropology and archaeology.

Students at UST have an exceptional opportunity to experience and study original art, since the campus lies in the heart of Houston's Museum District. Excellent examples of works from ancient to postmodern times are readily available in numerous nearby museums such as the Museum of Fine Arts and the Menil Collection. Moreover, the University of St. Thomas's partnership with the Allbritton Art Institute provides opportunities for credit-bearing Study Abroad course to study original Impressionist and Post-Impressionist art.

Art History courses acquaint students with past and contemporary cultures through objects and monuments, thereby allowing them to gain an understanding of technology and creativity. Our program guides students to think and communicate critically about history and its influence on the present, understanding the relationship between abstract concepts and their tangible expressions. Because art history is interdisciplinary our BA in Liberal Arts, with a concentration in Art History, equips students who plan to pursue graduate degrees in art history or careers in museum, cultural heritage, and other related fields.

Courses in Art History may be taken for credit as:

One of the components in the program of the liberal arts or general studies major (30 hours required): at least 15 upper–division credit hours in a primary area of concentration, at least 9 -92 upper–division credit hours in a secondary area of concentration. A minor field (18 credit hours with at least 9 upper– division credit hours). The Fine Arts requirement for the core curriculum (limited to ARTHI. 1350, 1370, 2351/3351, or 2352/3352).

Art History Requirements

Choose 15 hours of Art History (ARTHS or ARTHI) courses. At least 3 courses (9 hours) must be at the upper-division level.

BA Biology

Degree Type
Bachelor of Arts

Students majoring in biology may choose either a Bachelor of Science (BS) or Bachelor of Arts (BA) degree. The BS degree emphasizes research and laboratory experience and requires additional courses in biology. All BS students will complete a laboratory or field project under the direction of a faculty member in the Biology Department. BS students will also complete BIOL 3194, 4194 and 4195, for which they will prepare a scientific research article describing their research. The BS in Cell and Molecular Biology degree is accredited by the American Society for Biochemistry and Molecular Biology (ASBMB).

A grade of “C” or better in BIOL 1351, 1151, 1352, and 1152 and CHEM 1341, 1141 are prerequisites for all other biology courses. No biology course may be taken unless all prerequisites have been completed with a grade of “C” or better. Advanced placement credit or credit by examination may not be used as prerequisites for upper–division biology courses. Biology courses may only be taken a maximum of three (3) times.

Students graduating with a degree in Biology or Cell and Molecular Biology must have a minimum GPA of 2.00 in all biology courses.

Students completing any major in biology must take the Educational Testing Service Major Field Test in Biology (MFT) in the semester in which they graduate. Students who do not take the MFT will not be allowed to graduate with a major in biology.

BA in Biology & MS in Medical Laboratory Sciences Dual Degree

Degree Type
Bachelor of Arts & Master of Science

This BA-MS degree is the product of a partnership between the University of Texas Medical Branch at Galveston (UTMB) and the University of St. Thomas (UST) to create a combined academic pathway for students using a 3+2 format, in which students complete three years of undergraduate coursework at UST to work towards a Bachelor of Arts in Biology, followed by two years at UTMB to finish their Master of Science in Medical Laboratory Sciences.

Overall, the program is designed to facilitate a smoother transition from undergraduate to graduate study while allowing qualified students to earn both degrees in an accelerated timeline and expand their career opportunities.

BA in Biology (UST) + MS in CLS (UTMB)

Overall Description

Each student enrolled in the Program will be required to first attend UST for approximately three (3) years, completing a minimum of 92 semester credits, and then UTMB for two (2) years and completing 85 semester credits. Since 28 hours are transferred from UTMB, students will be completing the "15-29 hour transfer core" = 11 courses (33 hours) plus a Political science class (3 hours) = 36 hours.

Upon successful completion of the first 3 years at UST and acceptance into the UTMB-MLS program, the student enters the combined UST-UTMB BA/MS degree program.

Upon successful completion of the first year at UTMB defined as all grades of B or above and GPA ≥3.0, the student is awarded a BA in Biology from UST. UTMB grants permission to UST to accept any and/or all MLS undergraduate semester credit hours and MSHP 5302 Scientific Writing taken by students under this agreement for the purpose of satisfying BA degree requirements at UST.

Following successful completion of the combined five-year curriculum at UST and UTMB, the student will be granted an MS degree from UTMB in CLS.

Suggested Degree Plan for the Biology (BA) MAJOR 3+2 with UTMB*

This plan allows the student to earn a BA in Biology from UST (92hrs) and an MS in Clinical Laboratory Science from UTMB spending 3 years at UST and 2 years at UTMB.

BA–MS Program Progression Policy Disclaimer

Continuation and timely fulfillment of the BA-MS program in the 3+2 format outlined here is contingent upon the student's successful completion of all required coursework at both participating institutions within the prescribed timeframe and in the sequence outlined here. Failure to complete any required course on schedule, or the need to repeat any course for any reason, will result in an extension of the program beyond the standard completion timeline. Such extensions may have academic, financial, and administrative consequences for the student.

In order to confer the BA in Biology during the equivalent of their Senior Spring semester, the student must apply for graduation, and UST must receive official transcripts showing completion of 28 credit hours at UTMB no later than 15 days after the last day of class of the semester when the degree is to be conferred. Failure to do so will result in the student receiving their degree during the next applicable conferral period (for example, Summer I conferral date).

BA in Criminology, Law and Society & MA in Criminology, Law & Society

Degree Type

Bachelor of Arts & Master of Arts

Students seeking a Bachelor of Arts in Criminology, Law and Society may enroll into master's degree level courses in Criminology, Law and Society. The students must successfully complete 90 semester credit hours prior to enrolling into the master's degree in criminology, Law and Society. Students must apply for entry into the master's degree program no sooner than successfully completing 75 semester credit hours.

Bachelor's Degree Requirements

The following overall requirements are needed in order to earn a bachelor's degree. For a full explanation of the requirements, please see policy A.04.01.

- Completion of the core curriculum. Specific core plan is dependent upon accepted transfer credit, major, and Honor's Program participation.
- Successful completion of at least 120 credit hours, with the final 36 hours taken in Residence at UST. Total credits listed on the page only reflect the major.
- Completion of a major.
- Completion of 36 upper-division credit hours.
- A cumulative grade point average (GPA) above 2.0
- A cumulative GPA above 2.0 in your major
- Freshman Symposium is a one-credit hour, mandatory course exclusively for first-year students at the University of St. Thomas, introducing them to the UST mission and the Basilian Fathers' core values of goodness, discipline, and knowledge. Freshmen register for it during the Freshmen Registration/ Orientation events and can choose a class that aligns with their interests, with course descriptions provided in advance.

BA in International Studies & MA in Diplomacy & Strategic Affairs (MDSA)

Degree Type
Bachelor of Arts & Master of Arts

Geography

Course Code	Title	Credits
GEOG 2332	World Regional Geography	3.0

International Studies

Course Code	Title	Credits
INST 1351	Introduction to International Studies	3.0
INST 2352	Research Methods in Int' Stud	3.0
INST 3351	Comparative Political Systems	3.0
INST 3352	International Politics	3.0
INST 3354	International Political Economy	3.0
INST 3355	Intercultural Issues	3.0
INST 3366	The American Foreign Policy Process	3.0

Regional Studies

Choose one of the following:

Course Code	Title	Credits
INST 3357	Regional Study of Europe	3.0
INST 3359	Regional Study of Latin America	3.0
INST 3360	Regional Study of East Asia	3.0
INST 3363	Regional Study of North Africa and the Middle East	3.0

International Studies Electives

Choose three additional International Studies elective courses.

Do not take INST 4364: will be an option as MLINS 6364

Foreign Language

Depending on fluency, see department.

The ability to communicate in foreign communities is fundamental to effective international work.

Two sequential courses in a foreign language. Arabic, French, German, Greek, Italian, Irish, Japanese, Latin, Mandarin Chinese, Spanish

Practical International Experience

Being immersed in an international environment is one of the most effective means for gaining an international perspective. Therefore, each student majoring in International Studies will complete one of the following practical international experiences:

- Study Abroad
- Internship in international business
- Structured experience abroad without academic credit

MDSA Core Courses

Course Code	Title	Credits
MDSA 5301	Introduction to Diplomacy and Strategic Policy	3.0
MDSA 5302	Analytics in Strategic Affairs	3.0
MDSA 5303	Advanced Seminar in Diplomacy and Strategic Studies	3.0

BA in Political Science & MPPA in Public Policy and Administration

Degree Type
Bachelor of Arts and Master of Public Policy and Administration

Note: Students cannot use any courses from a Pre-Law minor to satisfy this degree plan.

Bachelor's Degree Requirements

The following overall requirements are needed in order to earn a bachelor's degree. For a full explanation of the requirements, please see policy A.04.01.

- Completion of the core curriculum. Specific core plan is dependent upon accepted transfer credit, major, and Honor's Program participation.
- Successful completion of at least 120 credit hours, with the final 36 hours taken in Residence at UST. Total credits listed on the page only reflect the major.
- Completion of a major.
- Completion of 36 upper-division credit hours.
- A cumulative grade point average (GPA) above 2.0
- A cumulative GPA above 2.0 in your major
- Freshman Symposium is a one-credit hour, mandatory course exclusively for first-year students at the University of St. Thomas, introducing them to the UST mission and the Basilian Fathers' core values of goodness, discipline, and knowledge. Freshmen register for it during the Freshmen Registration/ Orientation events and can choose a class that aligns with their interests, with course descriptions provided in advance.

POSC Core

Complete all of the following courses.

Course Code	Title	Credits
POSC 2331	American Federal Government	3.0
POSC 2332	Texas State and Local Government	3.0
POSC 3300	Methods in Social Research	3.0
POSC 3301	Statistics for the Social Sciences	3.0
POSC 3351	Comparative Political Systems	3.0
POSC 3352	International Politics	3.0
POSC 3355	American Constitutional Law	3.0

Political Science Option

Complete one of the following courses.

Course Code	Title	Credits
POSC 4399	Senior Thesis	3.0
POSC 4311	Mock Trial	3.0

Political Science Electives

Choose two additional Political Science (POSC) elective courses.

Foreign Language

Complete 6hrs of foreign language courses. Depending on fluency - See department for more information.

Public Policy and Administration Core Requirements

Complete all of the following courses.

Course Code	Title	Credits
MPPA 5319	Foundations of the American Political Order	3.0
MPPA 5324	Catholic Social Teaching	3.0
MPPA 5373	Public Administration Ethics	3.0
MPPA 5374	Public Organizations: Theory and Behavior	3.0
MPPA 5310	Policy Development and Implementation	3.0

Concentration Options

Complete four courses within one of the following concentrations:

State, County, and City Policy & Administration Concentration

Course Code	Title	Credits
MPPA 5314	State and Local Government Administration	3.0
MPPA 5321	Government Grants & Contracts	3.0
MPPA 5354	Emergency Management	3.0
MPPA 5326	Legislatures, Agenda Setting, and the Legislative Process	3.0
MPPA 5376	Public Budgeting & Finance	3.0
MLPOS 5301	Statistics for Social Sciences	3.0
MPPA 6393	Special Topics	3.0
MPPA 5391	Internship in Public Policy and Administration	3.0

Ethical Leadership Concentration

Course Code	Title	Credits
MPPA 5303	Public Leadership: Principles, Practices, and Realities	3.0
MPPA 5315	Current Issues in Public Policy and Administration	3.0
MPPA 5323	Conscience, Religious Liberty, and the Public Square	3.0
MLPHL 5318	Bioethics	3.0
MPPA 5302	Decision Making for Public Policy	3.0
MPPA 6393	Special Topics	3.0
MPPA 5391	Internship in Public Policy and Administration	3.0

Capstone

Complete the following course.

Course Code	Title	Credits
MPPA 5394	Capstone Project	3.0
	Total Credits	66

Bachelor of Science: Chemical Engineering

Degree Type
Bachelor of Science

The Chemical Engineering degree prepares students for a career in industry, either directly following their undergraduate studies or after additional graduate studies in engineering. The degree encompasses a rigorous course of study with a strong foundation in general engineering and other STEM subjects as well as specialized upper division classes in Chemical Engineering. Early courses focus on the fundamentals of being a successful engineer such as complex problem solving, critical thinking, and self-driven learning; upper division courses further the students' knowledge with in-depth courses covering specialized topics in Chemical Engineering, and unique electives allow the students to tailor the curriculum to their desired career goals. Due to the versatile nature of studies encompassing areas such as Transport Phenomena, Chemical Processes, Transport Processes, Kinetics and Reactor Design, Chemical Engineers are in high demand in the Petrochemical and Chemical industry. Multiple additional employment opportunities lie in the food and agriculture, pharmaceutical, health and environmental sectors.

Note: Students earning this degree will follow the 31-hour core curriculum for Engineering/Physics BS students.

Bachelor of Science: Physics

Degree Type
Bachelor of Science

The BS Physics degree trains students in the fundamental natural science of Physics. It prepares students either for a professional career directly following their undergraduate studies, or for additional graduate studies. Besides graduate studies in physics those studies can be in a variety of technical fields such as engineering, medicine, and finance. As the “primary natural science” physics underlies each of the STEM branches, meaning a successful physics major inherits key components from every STEM discipline. Graduates of the BS physics curriculum will have a mastered a combination of a challenging skill set valued by our modern economy: technical problem solving, mathematical reasoning, computer programming and modeling, hands-on laboratory and design skills, and understanding of specialized equipment.

Biochemistry

Degree Type
Bachelor of Science

Biochemistry focuses on addressing biological questions through the application of chemical principles and techniques. The biochemistry major reflects the chemical theories and approaches that are central to increasing our understanding of biological phenomena. The field of biochemistry is becoming a very complex and wide ranging discipline concomitant with advances in both biology and chemistry. Students will be exposed to the breadth of biochemistry through their courses and research experiences.

This program is designed to give students a strong chemistry and biology background in both the theory and practice of biochemistry. Students from this program will be ready for graduate school, professional school, or employment.

Admission to courses beyond CHEM 1341 requires a "C "or better in their prerequisites at the University of St. Thomas or their equivalents at another appropriately accredited institution. The decision on the adequacy of an equivalent rests with the department chair.

The Bachelor of Science (BS) degrees in Chemistry and Biochemistry have been accredited by the American Chemical Society (ACS) Committee on Professional Training.

Note: Due to the substantial curricular overlap between the Bachelor of Science in Biochemistry and the Bachelor of Science or Bachelor of Arts in Chemistry, students may not simultaneously pursue both of these majors.

Bachelor's Degree Requirements

The following overall requirements are needed in order to earn a bachelor's degree. For a full explanation of the requirements, please see policy A.04.01.

- Completion of the core curriculum. Specific core plan is dependent upon accepted transfer credit, major, and Honor's Program participation.

Biology

Degree Type
Minor

The Biology minor allows students majoring in other disciplines to gain a deeper and more comprehensive understanding of biology than they would from taking only a few individual courses.

Students pursuing a Biology minor must complete BIOL 1351/1151, BIOL 1352/1152, and CHEM 1341/1141 before enrolling in BIOL 3321. All prerequisite courses must be completed with a grade of "C" or better for students to register in other upper-division biology courses.

Cell and Molecular Biology

Degree Type
Bachelor of Science

The BS in Cell and Molecular Biology degree offers a curriculum concentrated in the areas of genetics, cell, and molecular biology. It emphasizes critical evaluation of scientific data, performance of sound experiments and tools for effective communication both orally and in writing. All CMB–BS students will complete a minimum of 11 laboratories and spend at least 100 hours working on an independent research project outside class under the supervision of a biology professor. Graduates of this major will be prepared to enter graduate school in biomedical research, health–related professional school, or work in careers related to the biotechnology industry.

A grade of "C" or better in BIOL 1351, 1151, 1352, and 1152 and CHEM 1341, 1141 are prerequisites for all other biology courses. No biology course may be taken unless all prerequisites have been completed with a grade of "C" or better. Advanced placement credit or credit by examination may not be used as prerequisites for upper–division biology courses. Biology courses may only be taken a maximum of three (3) times.

Students graduating with a degree in Biology or Cell and Molecular Biology must have a minimum GPA of 2.00 in all biology courses.

Students completing any major in biology must take the Educational Testing Service Major Field Test in Biology (MFT) in the semester in which they graduate. Students who do not take the MFT will not be allowed to graduate with a major in biology.

Chemistry

Degree Type
Bachelor of Arts

Students majoring in chemistry may choose either a Bachelor of Science (BS) or a Bachelor of Arts (BA) degree. The major focus is on the study of chemistry as both a subject and a process. As a subject, chemistry deals with the properties of atoms and molecules that constitute matter as we experience it, the forces that hold matter together, and the energy changes associated with changes in matter. As a process, chemistry is concerned with the tools and techniques of investigating matter, the interpretation of the results of these investigations, and the application of models used to explain the experimental results.

Note: Due to the substantial curricular overlap between the Bachelor of Science in Biochemistry and the Bachelor of Science or Bachelor of Arts in Chemistry, students may not simultaneously pursue both of these majors.

CLASS 1341	Introduction to Classical Greek I	3.0
CLASS 1342	Introduction to Classical Greek II	3.0

Or, choose the Latin and Greek language track and choose all 4 courses from the following (12 credit hours):

Course Code	Title	Credits
CLASS 1331	Introduction to Latin I	3.0
CLASS 1332	Introduction to Latin II	3.0
CLASS 1341	Introduction to Classical Greek I	3.0
CLASS 1342	Introduction to Classical Greek II	3.0

Interdisciplinary Context Courses

Choose 2 courses from the following:

- Any upper division (3000/4000-level) course in the Classics department (CLASS)

Course Code	Title	Credits
CLASS 4320	Greek Mythology: Literature and the Evolution of Myth	3.0
CLASS 4321	Greek Tragedy	3.0

Communication

Degree Type
Bachelor of Arts

The Communication Program at the University of St. Thomas prepares students to become creative, thoughtful, and ethical communicators in a world shaped by media and technology - and called to shape culture in return.

Rooted in the Catholic intellectual tradition, the program views communication not simply as a skill but as a vocation: a calling to seek truth, build understanding, and contribute to the common good.

Students explore how words, images, stories, and digital media shape relationships, communal practices, and cultural imagination. Through a blend of theory and practice, students learn to think critically about media while gaining hands-on experience creating it - developing the ability to communicate with clarity, integrity, imagination, and purpose.

Our program integrates a strong Liberal Arts foundation with experiential learning in storytelling, media production, digital communication, and cultural analysis. Students don't just learn how to use media - they learn how to understand it, evaluate it, and shape it responsibly.

Graduates leave prepared for careers in various communication fields: media, marketing, education, nonprofit work, ministry, public service, and creative industries - or for advanced study. They are equipped not only to succeed professionally, but to contribute to the renewal of culturethrough truthful, beautiful, and meaningful communication.

Bachelor's Degree Requirements

The following overall requirements are needed in order to earn a bachelor's degree. For a full explanation of the requirements, please see policy A.04.01.

- Completion of the core curriculum. Specific core plan is dependent upon accepted transfer credit, major, and Honor's Program participation.
- Successful completion of at least 120 credit hours, with the final 36 hours taken in Residence at UST. Total credits listed on the page only reflect the major.
- Completion of a major.
- Completion of 36 upper-division credit hours.
- A cumulative grade point average (GPA) above 2.0
- A cumulative GPA above 2.0 in your major

Communication

Degree Type
Minor

The Communication minor at the University of St. Thomas is designed for students who want to become more creative, thoughtful, and ethical communicators - without committing to a full major. In just 15 credit hours, you'll gain essential tools for understanding and creating media in a world shaped by technology - and called to shape culture in return.

The minor treats communication not just as a practical skill, but as a human and moral practice. You'll explore how communication connects to truth, responsibility, and the common good - skills that strengthen any vocation, profession, or field of study.

Through a focused mix of required and elective courses, students learn to:

- Read media critically through Media Literacy
- Develop strong communication skills through courses such as Oral Communication and Digital Storytelling
- Examine communication's ethical and relational dimensions in courses like Media, Society & Technology, Courageous Communication, or Interpersonal & Relational Communication
- Customize the minor with electives that align with your interests and major

Whether you're studying business, education, theology, the sciences or the arts, a Communication minor will help you communicate ideas clearly, creatively, and responsibly.

Communication Minor Core

Minors are required to take:

Course Code	Title	Credits
COMM 1360	Media Literacy - Decoding the Digital World	3.0

Core Curriculum: 0-14 Credits of Transfer

Degree Type
Bachelor's Core Curriculum

This core sequence is for students who have transfer credit and Credit by Examination totaling 0-14 credit hours based on first semester enrolling at UST.

Dual/transfer courses/test credits determine which core pathway the student should complete, count towards the overall credits necessary to graduate, and may count for specific courses in a major, minor, or pre-professional program. Transferred courses cannot substitute for core requirements established in a student's core pathway. However, incoming transfer students may apply one previously completed math/natural science course and one previously completed social/behavioral sciences course to satisfy core requirements.

Every student is required to complete at least 30 hours of core coursework, which must include one course from each of the following categories: humanities/fine arts, math/natural science, and social/behavioral sciences. Students should consult with an advisor to ensure core requirements are satisfied.

Enrollment begins with courses in section 1, but a student may start courses in section 2 or 3 as long as at least one course in section 1 is enrolled. Specific pre-requisites are listed in the course descriptions.

Foundations

Should be completed during the first year at UST.

Core Curriculum: All Engineering and Physics Degree Plans, Honors Program

Degree Type
Bachelor's Core Curriculum

This core sequence is for students who are admitted into the Honors Program at UST and are enrolled in an Engineering or Physics track. This includes:

1. All Engineering degree plans
2. Physics

All of these are externally accredited and thus have limited flexibility about their size.

Dual/transfer courses/test credits determine which core pathway the student should complete, count towards the overall credits necessary to graduate, and may count for specific courses in a major, minor, or pre-professional program. Transferred courses cannot substitute for core requirements established in a student's core pathway. However, incoming transfer students may apply one previously completed math/natural science course and one previously completed social/behavioral sciences course to satisfy core requirements.

Enrollment begins with courses in section 1, but a student may start courses in section 2 or 3 as long as at least one course in section 1 is enrolled. Specific pre-requisites are listed in the course descriptions.

Switching from a high credit BS major

Students who change majors from one of the high credit BS degrees indicated above must complete the ordinary core pathway associated with their transfer tier.

Additional Flexibility

This pathway (unlike the other published pathways) does not recommend a particular timeline for core completion. In order to accommodate the scheduling exigencies of the Honors cohort, particularly for students selecting large majors, like Engineering, students enrolled in the honors program may delay taking the first four courses if they wish. They are also excused from taking the core sequences in order. That is, they may begin any sequence at any time, though they are advised to follow the sequences, as their schedule permits. Honors students must, nevertheless, take the required philosophy classes in order.

Core Curriculum: Transfer ABSN, 31-59 Credits of Transfer

Degree Type
Bachelor's Core Curriculum

This core sequence is for students who are transferring into the Accelerated Track for the Bachelor of Science in Nursing degree with 31-59 transfer course/test credits.

Dual/transfer courses/test credits determine which core pathway the student should complete, count towards the overall credits necessary to graduate, and may count for specific courses in a major, minor, or pre-professional program. Transferred courses cannot substitute for core requirements established in a student's core pathway. However, incoming transfer students may apply one previously completed math/natural science course and one previously completed social/behavioral sciences course to satisfy core requirements.

Every student is required to complete at least 30 hours of core coursework, which must include one course from each of the following categories: humanities/fine arts, math/natural science, and social/behavioral sciences. Students should consult with an advisor to ensure core requirements are satisfied.

Enrollment begins with courses in section 1, but a student may start courses in section 2 or 3 as long as at least one course in section 1 is enrolled. Specific pre-requisites are listed in the course descriptions.

Criminology, Law, and Society

Degree Type

Bachelor of Arts

Contact: Dr. Michael Kane, kanemf@stthom.edu

Criminology, Law and Society focuses on the challenge of crime in a free society. Courses present overviews of legal systems with particular emphasis on criminal and juvenile justice, forms of criminal behavior, the applications of various criminology theories. Students are provided with opportunities to become acquainted with the varieties of behavior that society chooses to control or regulate; the methods and institutions used to achieve that control or regulation, and the approaches aimed specifically at altering sanctioned behavior. The bachelor degree in Criminology, Law and Society incorporates the United States Conference of Catholic Bishops Principles of Catholic Social Justice into several Criminology courses as an instructional foundation for righteousness, integrity and fairness.

Students who complete this program will demonstrate:

- Evaluate, explain and value the United States Conference of Catholic Bishops Principles of Catholic Social Justice applications into today's criminal justice system.
- An understanding of the criminal justice system and its components.
- An understanding of criminological theories and their application to contemporary law and society.
- An ability to use skills in critical thinking, synthesis and analysis, of informational sources about policing, criminal law, corrections, leadership, applied research, and social justice.

Dance

Degree Type
Bachelor of Fine Arts

Program chair: Maria McCain, Maria.McCain@stthom.edu

If you want to step out of the classroom and onto the stage, there's no better place to train for your time in the spotlight than with the University of St. Thomas. Whether your dream is to perform with a professional dance company, choreograph for stage and screen, or teach the arts to the next generation of talent, a Bachelor of Fine Arts in Dance from UST can help you get there.

You'll benefit from faculty experienced in all levels of dance, plus UST's close connections with professional dance companies in Houston. In one of the largest, most diverse metros in the country, you'll learn from guest artists, form professional connections with industry professionals and lay the groundwork for graduate work in dance, kinesiology and similar fields.

Admission to the BFA Major requires an audition, but all students are welcome to inquire about taking courses as part of their credit hours towards a UST degree.

The Dance major has concentrations in Ballet, Contemporary, and Global & Urban.

History

Degree Type
Bachelor of Arts

As part of the liberal arts mission of the university, the history major guides us to understand the bearing of the past on the present and to appreciate the historical character of human inquiry in exploring the principal philosophical, religious, political, literary, and aesthetic traditions of Western and world culture.

History majors will demonstrate a basic knowledge of World, European, and American history during their studies. They will also demonstrate mastery of research and writing skills in a capstone research paper in an upper level History course. Students with the BA degree in history will be prepared to use their knowledge, research and writing skills in pursuit of advanced degrees and in careers related to history, such as law, journalism, education, librarianship, archival work, museum studies, government, and many more careers where liberally educated graduates are inclined.

Integrated Studies

Degree Type
Bachelor of Arts

Director of Integrated Humanities: Dr. Thomas C. Behr, behrt@stthom.edu

Intellectually and Spiritually this program addresses the problem long understood of the disconnect between Humanities and Natural Scientific and Technological educational formations, but from both directions where liberally educated individuals need to understand complicated scientific and technological issues, but also scientists and technologists need, perhaps more than ever, to understand the inescapable role of values and moral choices to be made in the progress of truly humane societies.

Through multidisciplinary study and research, students will develop cross-disciplinary modes of thinking that will offer out-of-the box creative perspectives, along with quantitative and qualitative reasoning skills, ethical awareness, analytical reading and communication skills, and both intellectual coherence and practical experience in problem solving and life.

Integrated Studies, Bachelor of Arts, Bachelor of Science, or the Bachelor of Applied Arts and Sciences, offers students a well-rounded, multidisciplinary undergraduate experience with training in both liberal arts and scientific/technical or professional skills that are in demand in the job market and marketplace of ideas. Together with the UST Core experience, Integrated Studies provides a future-looking focus to UST's Catholic educational tradition.

Bachelor of Arts students must choose 1 minor from Humanities, 1 minor from STEM/Prof/SBS and 1 minor from any of the three categories.

Bachelor's Degree Requirements

The following overall requirements are needed in order to earn a bachelor's degree. For a full explanation of the requirements, please see policy A.04.01.

Irish Studies is an interdisciplinary program of courses focused on Irish and Northern Irish history, politics, law, literature, theology, music, art history, drama, heritage and culture, contemporary life and the Irish American Experience. The Northern Ireland Peace Process, explored through courses on campus and in study abroad programs, serves as a model for peace around the world. Faculty members in Irish Studies as well as other disciplines teach these courses. As part of the University's liberal arts curriculum, Irish Studies courses prepare students for post–graduate employment in Irish Studies, law, business, the social sciences, teaching and the international diplomatic corp. Many students choose to pursue post–graduate study in Irish Studies or one of these other fields. Irish Studies students develop an understanding of diverse cultural, political, historical, socio–economic, legal and other factors affecting our world today.

Nursing

Degree Type
Bachelor of Science in Nursing

The Bachelor of Science Degree in Nursing track for students earning the first university degree at the University of St. Thomas is a four–year academic program, including one required summer semester, which will prepare graduates for initial RN licensure and entry into professional nursing practice. The program incorporates the University of St. Thomas core curriculum and specific pre–nursing courses, which are addressed in the first two academic years, and courses in the nursing major, which are concentrated in the junior and senior years. The upper–division sequence of nursing major courses is offered beginning in the fall term of the junior year. The curriculum and degree requirements are built on a holistic nursing philosophy and conceptual framework. The Accelerated Second Degree BSN track, designed for applicants who have an earned baccalaureate degree, is based on the school's holistic nursing philosophy and conceptual framework and prepares graduates to complete the BSN curriculum and achieve program outcomes in an accelerated 12 month timeframe.

BSN Program Goals

1. Create a program based on a holistic nursing framework that contributes to the mission of UST as a Catholic liberal arts university dedicated to the education of leaders of faith and character.
2. Prepare highly qualified graduates for careers in nursing.
3. Enhance the diversity of the nursing workforce in Houston, Texas and the nation with graduates who are prepared to practice nursing as a professional discipline and a healing ministry.

The UST core curriculum goals reflect the knowledge, skills and attitudes associated with a classical liberal arts education and are highly congruent with the standards for professional nursing education articulated in the AACN Essentials of Baccalaureate Education for Professional Nursing Practice (2008), the Texas Board of Nursing Differentiated Essential Competencies (2010) and the Institute of Medicine Core Competencies (2005). The PSON BSN Program Goals are to prepare graduates to achieve entry–level competency for the transition into professional nursing practice as a provider of safe, high-quality patient– centered care, an effective member of the health care team and member of the nursing profession whose practice reflects an understanding of nursing as a healing ministry. In order to meet those program goals, students are expected to meet the learning outcomes listed in the appropriate section upon graduation.

Admission to the School of Nursing BSN Program

Freshmen Students

Students applying to the University as a freshman can note the major of Nursing on their UST application. This will allow students to enroll in courses necessary for prerequisites to complete. This will also reserve a spot in our School of Nursing program for the student. Below are requirements after the freshman year that must be completed to transition to the BSN program:

- 3.0 overall GPA on a 4.0 system.
- Successful completion of all 4 nursing prerequisites (Anatomy and Physiology I and II, Microbiology, & Math (College Algebra or Statistics)) with a B or higher, and a 3.0 prerequisite/science GPA.
- Submission of a well-written, compelling essay which answers the required questions and required formatting and demonstrates the student's passion for nursing as a career and vocation.
- HESI score of 80 or higher in the following sections: Reading Comprehension, Grammar, Vocabulary, Math, and Anatomy and Physiology. Or TEAS score of 78% in the following sections: Reading, Math, Science, and English Language.
- Completion of the core curriculum. Specific core plan is dependent upon accepted transfer credit, major, and Honor's Program participation.

Transfer Students

Students applying to enter the School of Nursing, BSN Program as a transfer must complete UST application online (https://myust.stthom.edu/apply). All official documents and test scores must be addressed to the UST admissions office (https://www.stthom.edu/Admissions). A strong candidate will have at minimum the following components:

- At least 60+ college credits hours from a regionally accredited university.
- 3.0 overall GPA on a 4.0 system.
- Successful completion of all 4 nursing prerequisites (Anatomy and Physiology I and II, Microbiology, & Math (College Algebra or Statistics)) with a B or higher, and a 3.0 prerequisite/science GPA.
- Submission of a well-written, compelling essay which answers the required questions and required formatting and demonstrates the student's passion for nursing as a career and vocation.
- HESI score of 80 or higher in the following sections: Reading Comprehension, Grammar, Vocabulary, Math, and Anatomy and Physiology. Or TEAS score of 78% in the following sections: Reading, Math, Science, and English Language.
- Completion of the core curriculum. Specific core plan is dependent upon accepted transfer credit, major, and Honor's Program participation.

Deadlines and Additional Information

Once file is complete, students will be reviewed on the following deadlines:

- November 1st for spring cohorts
- June 1st for fall cohorts.

Students should contact the UST Office of Admissions if they have any questions concerning any of the admissions requirements listed above.

- BSN Outcomes, Additional Requirements, and Licensure Information

Nursing: Accelerated Track (ABSN)

Degree Type
Bachelor of Science in Nursing

The Accelerated Second Degree Bachelor of Science Degree in Nursing track at the University of St. Thomas is a one–year academic program, for students who have earned bachelor's degree from a regionally accredited university, which will prepare graduates for initial RN licensure and entry into professional nursing practice. The program incorporates the University of St. Thomas required courses. The curriculum and degree requirements are built on a holistic nursing philosophy and conceptual framework.

Admission to the School of Nursing Accelerated Degree BSN Track

Students applying to enter the School of Nursing, ABSN Program must complete the UST application online (https://myust.stthom.edu/apply). All official documents and test scores must be addressed to the UST admissions office (https://www.stthom.edu/Admissions). Requirements for the ABSN are the following:

- At least 60+ college credits hours or a baccalaureate degree from a regionally accredited university.
- Cumulative GPA of a 3.0 or higher.
- A 3.0 science GPA or higher.
- HESI scores of 80 or higher in Reading Comprehension, Grammar, Vocabulary, Math, and Anatomy and Physiology.
- An interview with Nursing Admissions staff.
- Prerequisite courses*: Anatomy and Physiology I & II with labs, Introduction to Microbiology with lab, & Nursing Statistics.

These courses can be taken through UST-ABSN online courses. All nursing prerequisite courses must be successfully completed prior to enrollment in the nursing clinical courses. Only students admitted to the Peavy School of Nursing may register for the upper– division nursing courses.*

Pastoral Theology

Undergraduate Certificate

The Diaconate Program at the University of St. Thomas shows how the fostering of vocations is made through efforts to communicate and share the story of the diaconate and the sacramental nature of this ecclesial ministry which finds its meaning in the life of service. Formation of candidates proceeds from a period of initial interviews to four years of intense human, intellectual, spiritual and pastoral formation during which the goal is to mold the candidates into true "icons of Christ the Servant."

The Diaconate Program is in full conformity with the National Directory for the Formation, Ministry and Life of Permanent Deacons of the United States Conference of Catholic Bishops.

Pragmatic Studies

Degree Type
Associate of Applied Science

Education is a foundation that enables anyone to have a successful career and life. The University of St. Thomas Associate of Applied Science in Pragmatic Studies is a two-year program designed specifically for students who have learning differences that may interfere with academic success in a traditional collegiate setting.

Using Universal Design for Learning (UDL) as an instructional modality, students in this program will spend 12-15 hours per week in the classroom with a cohort of 12-15 students, which will allow for more personalized instruction.

The Associate of Applied Science in Pragmatic Studies prepares and influences socially responsible citizens who will transform and sustain communities. Graduates will possess the knowledge, skills, and dispositions needed to meet postsecondary goals and increase employment outcomes. Graduates will also demonstrate that learning differences will no longer be an obstacle for success.

- Post-baccalaureate students must complete at least 40 credits at UST from the requirements course list*
- Obtain a 3.25 cumulative GPA
- Obtain a B- or above on all prerequisite courses
- Obtain a B- or above on all non-prerequsite courses (any C grade in non-prerequsite courses must have a written explanation submitted with the application. Any grade of D or F will disqualify the candidate from the program.
- Within 3 years of application deadline, obtain a minimum
  - MCAT score of 500 or higher OR
  - GRE score of at least: 153 Verbal, 156 Quantitative Reasoning, 4.0 Analytical Writing
- Shadowed with Anesthesiologist Assistants
- Applications interested in this program will submit a form to HPAC by April. A formal application must be submitted to CWRU by August 1 once approved by HPAC.
- All application documents, including Altus Suite, must be submitted to CWRU Master's in Anesthesia Program by August 1.
- Students that do not meet the above criteria, can still apply on their own to CWRU or other Anesthesiologist Assistant Programs

* All courses must be taken within 7 years of application deadline. An MCAT score of 500+ waives the time-limit on prerequisite courses

For the CWRU/UST program, the following courses MUST be taken at UST within 5 years of application deadline:

1. A&P I
2. Biochemistry

Pre-Law

Degree Type
Minor

Applying to Law School

Pre–law seeks to provide our students with advice useful to preparing for and applying to law school. In addition to assisting pre–law students with law school selection and admissions counseling, the program is also directed to correcting deficiencies identified by low scores in any of the LSAT test areas.

Scholarship

The University believes that the best preparation for law school is the broad background in the humanities and sciences provided by the University's core curriculum. Success in law school and in the legal profession requires a strong ethical foundation, an excellent command of the English language, highly developed analytical and critical thinking skills, and academic and professional proficiency in the law. Important to the prospective law student are the intellectual proficiencies: ethical, political, historical, behavioral, social, and economic that inform a University of St. Thomas graduate. Our goal is to provide students interested in law with the opportunity to explore the discipline and develop an informed understanding of the function of law in American culture. Pre–law students participate in the University's core curriculum and declare and participate in a major discipline.

Although law schools accept applicants with a baccalaureate degree from any major, the University believes that certain curricular choices are not only preferable but highly desirable. After selecting a major, prelaw students will enroll in pre–law courses that help prepare for the rigors of the Law School Admissions Test (LSAT), Socratic examination and case briefing. Pre–law courses will also provide information about our constitutional system and common law heritage, a background critical to discerning and understanding normative values reflected in the law.

The Pre–law Program begins with the First Year Experience and continues as the student's interests in law evolve. Incoming first year students should tell the FYE advisor about their interest in law and visit with the Pre–law Advisor. Through participation in Mock Trial, students will hear from practitioners and speak with law school admission counselors.

To remain in the pre–law program, a student must maintain a cumulative GPA of 3.00, make no less than a B– in any prelaw course, be assessed according to the program's requirements, and show continual progress toward remedying deficiencies identified by pre–LSAT scores in any of the areas tested (reading comprehension, analytical reasoning, and logic).

Note: The courses that comprise the minor do not contribute to students' Political Science major or minor degree plans.

Pre-Medical Studies

Degree Type
Post-Baccalaureate Certificate

Admissions Requirements

- Must have a Baccalaureate degree with a GPA of 3.4 or above.
- Must have taken the following courses (or their equivalents) with a grade of C or better prior to being admitted into the program: BIOL 1351, BIOL 1352, BIOL 1151, BIOL 1152, CHEM 1341, CHEM 1342, CHEM 1141, CHEM 1142
- If students are missing the requirements above, they can receive a conditional acceptance into the program if they take the classes at UST as a non-certificate seeking post-bac student and achieve a C or better.

As part of a Pre-Medical Studies Certificate, you'll work with a dedicated Health Professions Advisory Committee (HPAC) advisor to plan your roadmap to a health professions school.

Included In The Program:

- Shadowing Linkage Program
- Professional Development Exclusive to Program Cohort (in cohort size of 8 or more students)
- Discount on Kaplan MCAT Prep Course
- Mock Medical School Interview Preparation With MD Alumni
- Advising And Individualized Plan For Students In Each Cohort
- Committee Letter For Medical School Application
- Application Preparation Assistance
- Research Opportunities

Spanish

Degree Type
Bachelor of Arts

The Spanish major consists of a minimum of 30 credit hours of Spanish courses at the 3000–4000 levels, either on campus or in study abroad as approved by the program chair. No course grade lower than “C” counts toward a major. The achievement of majors is assessed by requiring each major to prepare an exit portfolio of work undertaken in 3000 and 4000–level classes. It must be submitted in the last semester of course work. In this last semester, graduating majors are also required to make oral presentations in Spanish before the MACL faculty and interested students at the Research Symposium.

Placement Test: Prior to registration, a placement test is required for all students who have previous Spanish coursework or whose first language is Spanish. The placement test may eliminate the need to take the pre-requisite courses indicated below.

Pre-Requisites: The following classes must be completed before beginning a Spanish major, unless testing indicates placement beyond these pre-requisite courses.

- SPAN 1331 – Elementary Spanish I
- SPAN 1332 – Elementary Spanish II
- SPAN 2331 – Intermediate Spanish I
- SPAN 2332 – Intermediate Spanish II Major Requi

Bachelor of Arts & Master of Arts

The school also offers a five–year BA/MA Combined degree in Theology which enables high–achieving undergraduate students to earn both the bachelor's and master's degrees in a streamlined program combining undergraduate and graduate studies. The BA/MA requires 120 undergraduate credit hours and 30 graduate credit hours of study and allows students to take undergraduate and graduate courses concurrently during the senior year. The BA and MA degrees will be conferred only after the BA/MA student completes the 120 undergraduate credit hours and 30 graduate credit hours of study successfully. The undergraduate hours for the Theology coursework are reduced to 36 hours from 42 hours. The chair of the Theology major will advise the student on which courses to take

CS 3356: Theological Anthropology

Studies the Christian vision of the man under the light of divine revelation: his creation in God's image and likeness, his ultimate end, and his spiritual and material faculties. Readings focus on the development of Christian anthropology in its historical context, both ancient and modern, as well as the anthropological foundations of moral action, ascetical praxis, and sacramental discipline. Primary source readings will typically be chosen from scripture, the fathers, and recent Magisterium, including documents of the Second Vatican Council, with an eye to comparison and contrast between Christian anthropology and modern and post-modern views of the human person. Key topics may include deification, personhood, freedom, the mind, passions, relationality, or sexuality. Prerequisites: THEO 1301/3301 and 2301/3311

Core

The University of St. Thomas' unique core curriculum offers students entrance into the great conversation unfolding across human history, a conversation about the fundamental questions we must all consider if we hope to live fully human lives. But it is about more than questions.

The wisdom our students discover—animated by faith and reason—and the skills they cultivate prepare them to serve society with conviction and become leaders known for integrity, insight, and courage. Students who complete the UST Core will have both the skills needed to succeed professionally in life after graduation and a true sense of the greater purpose of that life.

The Goals of the Core

1. Self-knowledge: To form in students an understanding of themselves as human persons endowed with intellectual and imaginative capacities and free will, so that they are empowered to pursue wisdom and to cultivate virtues, in which their humanity is fulfilled.
2. Intellectual Virtue: To cultivate intellectual skills that shape the life of the mind across multiple disciplines and enable a person to grow intellectually into the best version of himself or herself. Such skills take many forms. They could, for example, include, without being limited to, the ability to read and interpret, to draw conclusions from principles or data, to formulate accurate definitions, or to persuade others without manipulation or deceit.
3. Wisdom: To develop in students a reflective, philosophical habit of mind from the perspective of which the truths of all disciplines, of faith and of reason, can begin to be grasped as an ordered whole unified by underlying principles. This manifests itself in a healthy curiosity and a reverent wonder for truth in all its forms and in a keen interest in the underlying causes of things.

In the Core and as a University, We Are Committed To:

1. The Catholic intellectual tradition, a tradition that (i) understands human persons as rational, imaginative, free creatures capable of fulfillment through wisdom and virtue, (ii) prizes the intellectual skills formed by the liberal arts that have always been foundational in Catholic universities, and (iii) understands all of created reality as intelligible through principles and causes.
2. The dialogue between faith and reason, which depends upon the reflective, philosophical habit of mind our curriculum fosters.
3. The Basilian core values of goodness, discipline, and knowledge, virtues through which our students' humanity is fulfilled and which enable students to understand the relationship between the different parts of human knowledge, making possible constructive collaboration across different disciplines.
4. The unity of all knowledge, insofar as the truths of all disciplines can be grasped as an ordered whole unified by underlying principles.
5. Forming our graduates to think analytically, communicate effectively, succeed professionally, and lead ethically.

ARTSC 3301: Art and Contemplation

This course examines the nature of beauty and the role of contemplation in the arts within the Catholic intellectual tradition. Grounded in the aesthetic principles of St. Thomas Aquinas and the philosophy of leisure articulated by Josef Pieper, the course engages modern interlocutors in exploring the meaning and experience of art. Major art forms—including painting, music, theater, and film, among others, like architecture and dance—are studied through analysis of their formal elements and principles of integrity, proportion, and radiance. Students encounter representative works of art, develop skills in interpreting them, and evaluate the relationship between aesthetic experience, leisure, and cultural formation. The course situates artistic experience within a broader account of human flourishing and the cultivation of the moral imagination.

ENGLC 1301: Classical Imagination

Classical Imagination is a writing-intensive course that introduces students to the arts of close reading and discussion necessary for the cultivation of wisdom. This course engages timeless human questions through study of Homeric epic, Greek tragedy, and Virgil's Aeneid. Students are encouraged to step outside of the mass culture of the present moment, appreciate the artistic achievements of the distant past, and take their place in the great conversation that is the Western literary tradition.

ENGLC 2301: Modern Imagination

Modern Imagination is a writing-intensive course that allows students to apply the close-reading and discussion skills learned in earlier English Core classes. This course explores various artistic responses to the fragmentation of personhood caused by the disintegrating forces of modernity. Jane Austen, Fyodor Dostoevsky, Flannery O'Connor, T.S. Eliot, and other important modern authors challenge students to consider what the persistence of the Christian imagination means for themselves and their cultural moment.

HISTC 1301: History of Western Culture and Ideas

This course introduces Western culture and ideas from the ancient Near East through the twentieth century, examining the seminal events, enduring ideas, and primary sources—philosophical, theological, literary, and political—that shaped cultures across Europe, the Atlantic world, and the Americas. Central to the course is the relation of selfhood and interiority to the public sphere of human action, traced from ancient Israel and Greece through the medieval, Renaissance, Reformation, early modern, and modern periods. Through close reading, discussion, and historical analysis, students develop skills in textual analysis, historical interpretation, and the evaluation of comparative worldviews. The course fulfills the University's Core curriculum requirement by cultivating the historical understanding essential to intellectual, moral, and civic life, situating Western culture within the Catholic intellectual tradition's vision of human flourishing.

LS 1301: Foundations of Liberal Learning

Foundations of Liberal Learning serves as the gateway to the Core Curriculum. This course guides students to a deeper understanding of the liberal arts of language—grammar, logic, and rhetoric—in the context of a larger exploration of the nature and importance of liberal education. Students will learn to think and communicate their thoughts more clearly, reasonably, and persuasively, even as they also engage with transformative texts that encourage them to seek answers to fundamental questions about education, freedom, and the good life. The course may be taught from different disciplinary perspectives.

THEOC 1301: Faith, Reason, and Revelation

This course is a foundational introduction to Catholic Fundamental Theology, presenting the basic openness of the human person to divine revelation and the challenges that sin and the problem of evil present to the reception of this revelation. By showing students the fundamental compatibility between faith and reason and illustrating the integral relationships between history and revelation, as well as nature and grace, the course equips students with philosophical and theological principles necessary for recognizing the Gospels as historically reliable witnesses, the Church as legitimate spiritual authority, and the credibility and coherence of the mysteries of the faith.

THEOC 2301: Scripture and Salvation History

This course is a capacious introduction to the Sacred Scripture, both in its historical unfolding as well as in its theological significance. God reveals himself through history. For this reason, the course considers some of the principal events of salvation history: the creation of the world; the creation and fall of man; the calling of Abraham, Israel, the prophets; and the coming of the Son of God, whose human life, death, and resurrection founded the Church. This course equips students with theological principles of Biblical interpretation so that students may discover the origins of the doctrines which the Church teaches today, especially those doctrines pertaining to the Trinity, Incarnation, and Sacraments.

THEOC 3301: The Return to God

This course is an introduction to theological anthropology which seeks to provide an integrated account of the moral, mystical, and sacramental dimensions of the human person. It recapitulates the core curriculum's investigation of the contemplative elements constituting human happiness and shows how perfect human happiness ultimately consists in the beatific vision of God. Suspended between Eden and Eternity, the drama of human salvation reveals the origins of sin, suffering, and death. But the downward trajectory charted by sin is not our final end. Through the missions of Word and Spirit God has poured out his grace and truth so that we may return to him in wisdom and love. The incarnation of the Son of God and the coming of the Holy Spirit redirect human life ecclesially and liturgically, configuring us as new children of the Father.

Honors

Director: Dr. Michael Boler, honors@stthom.edu

The Honors Program at the University of St. Thomas provides a framework within which outstanding men and women can pursue excellence, leadership, and what the ancients called magnanimitas or "greatness of the soul." The program's unique design centers around a community of students and professors committed to the intellectual life. Placed in small classes that emphasize dialogue and conversation, Honors students enjoy the special interdisciplinary benefit of team– lead seminars that focus on original, classical texts.

Admissions and Scholarships

Members of the Honors Program are usually selected from students entering the University of St. Thomas as freshmen. Because admission is limited and competitive, candidates are advised to apply during the fall semester of the senior year of high school. To be considered for admission, a student must complete the Honors application, the University's general scholarship application and participate in the Honors interviews held in the spring of the senior year of high school. The recommended standards for admission are:

1. GPA of 3.500 on a 4.000 scale;
2. SAT 1200 (verbal and math combined) or ACT 27.

Students Who Complete the Honors Program

Upon completion of the Independent Research Project (HNRS 4394), students will receive 3 credit hours in their major field. Students must consult their department chair to determine what course in their major is eligible for credit.
The Honors Program adds only 3 credit hours to any major program already in place at the University: Community Service Project (HNRS 3391).

Students Who Withdraw from the Honors Program

A student who withdraws from the Honors Program will be considered to have completed the follow Core Curriculum course equivalents:

- HNRS 1391 is equivalent to ENGLC 1301
- HNRS 1392 is equivalent to ENGLC 1302
- HNRS 2391 is equivalent to THEOC 2301

All other HNRS courses may only count towards elective credit.

Classes Overview

The Honors Program begins with four such interdisciplinary seminars, one taken each semester, which draw on the canon of Great Books and the "great conversation" which forms the basis of society. From Greek and Roman antiquity, continuing through the Medieval period and culminating in the modern era, students confront the "big questions" that all thoughtful persons must consider sooner or later in their lives. These provide the student with an historical foundation for the proper judgement and critique of contemporary society.

HNRS 1391: The Tribe and the City

The ideals of Parent, Prophet, King, Lawgiver, Hero/ine, Poet, Philosopher and Statesman are examined in this course. The reading list includes: Genesis; Exodus; Esther; The Iliad: Herodotus, The Histories; Plato, The Republic; Thucydides, The Peloponnesian War; plays by Euripides, Sophocles, Aristophanes; Aristotle, Poetics. IRST 3301: Irish Literature & Postcolonial Studies

This course presents key authors, texts, and concepts in postcolonial studies as it pertains to Ireland and Irish literature. The course begins with an introduction to the term postcolonialism, traces its development as a methodological approach to literature, and then explores the contested application of the term to Ireland. The course then explores relevant concepts such as anticolonialism, nationalism, binaries, stereotypes, and hybridity in literary texts. In parallel with the literary texts, students will read from scholarly work and interventions in the field. By the end of the course, students will be comfortable analyzing, interrogating, and critiquing narratives of Irishness, and will be equipped to engage in a postcolonial analysis of literary texts, national narratives, and historiographies.

IRST 3302: Irish Mythology & Folklore

This course examines Irish mythology and folklore as two distinct yet interrelated cultural artifacts. First written down in the early medieval period, much of Irish mythology stems from the pre-Christian Irish oral tradition. As such, it provides us with a rich illumination of early Irish culture and traditions. Through a reading and discussion of examples from the various mythological cycles, students will become familiar with the common symbolism and literary motifs in Irish mythology, as well as evaluating what the tales can tell us about early Irish society. Growing from this early oral literary tradition, Irish folklore was collected in large quantities by the Irish Folklore Commission, giving Ireland one of Europe's largest folklore collections. We will learn about folk traditions and the prominence of storytelling in rural Ireland as well as examining the influence of Ireland's mythology and folklore on other literary movements, and its contribution to contemporary cultural texts. Upon completion of the course, students will demonstrate an ability to interpret the roles of myth and folklore in society, particularly within an Irish cultural practice.

IRST 3368: Northern Ireland: Conflict and Peace

This course is divided into three parts: (i) Historical Context, (ii) the “Conflict,” and (iii) the “Peace.” The historical context explores some of the key events that led to the conflict and the current situation in Northern Ireland. The Conflict portion reviews the current dispute between the various political parties in Northern Ireland and the groups they represent: nationalists (who want to reunite Northern Ireland with Ireland) and unionists (who want to keep Northern Ireland separate from Ireland and united with Britain). The Conflict also reviews the use of physical force (violence) to achieve these goals versus constitutional, peaceful means (the ballot box and dialogue). The Peace portion discusses the various agreements and movements among Britain, Ireland and Northern Ireland from 1922 to today to stop the violence and to bring peace to Northern Ireland, Britain and Ireland. The course also covers current events in Northern Ireland, such as ongoing elections and other governmental, political, social and cultural issues.

PLSH 3330: Contemporary Polish Cinema

The course is intended as a review of Polish cinema from 1945 to the present day, as an example of national and European cinema. We will look at the films from both historical and aesthetic perspectives to show the main trends of Polish cinema, such as Socialist realism, Polish film school, cinema of moral concern etc. In this way, we will discuss the work of some of the most important Polish filmmakers (Andrzej Wajda, Andrzej Munk, Roman Polanski, Agnieszka Holland, Krzysztof Kieslowski and others). The classes were conceived as a series of lectures combined with a discussion on selected Polish films. Students will prepare presentations on film directors for each class. The participants' knowledge will be checked during the midterm amd final exam.

PLSH 3335: Contemporary Polish Writers

Using contemporary Polish literature, the course is designed to introduce topics of Polish culture, history, and society for English language readers. Works by Polish writers not only possess high aesthetic values, but also serve as artistic records revealing the major upheavals of Polish history: partitions, lack of independence, communism, the democratic movement. Applying interdisciplinary tools, students will decipher a manifold depiction of Polish culture and society.

English

To read well and to write well are fundamental tasks of the literate person. Since the founding of the University, the mission of the English Department has been to teach students those literary texts written or translated into English that express “the best that has been known and said.” The curriculum emphasizes literature because of its power “to teach and to delight” and its attention to truth and beauty. It stresses critical reading to develop analytical skills. The major in English develops language and writing skills because there is a fundamental relationship between accurate reading, clear thinking and well–organized oral and written expression. The ability to write and speak well is, moreover, good in and of themselves. The English major also recognizes the need to nurture the imagination both in its emphasis on the aesthetic values of literature and in its courses in creative writing. The English major prepares students for graduate work in departments of English and in other fields, as well as for careers in writing and in primary and secondary education; the major imparts knowledge, attitudes, and skills appropriate for many types of professional careers.

English majors follow a program of readings in periods of English and American literature; they also take courses that concentrate on single authors. Many courses include the study of films. English majors study literary criticism in a specialized course, but they explore important critical approaches to literature in many classes. Courses in creative writing and in advanced prose writing are important components of the English major curriculum. The department encourages English majors to take elective courses in nontraditional literary studies to increase their appreciation of diverse cultures and points of view.

Objectives

- 1. Students majoring in English will be competent in oral and written expression and research methods.
- 2. Students majoring in English will demonstrate a basic knowledge of the major authors, the major literary texts, and the cultural, intellectual, and philosophical backgrounds of the traditional historical periods of English and American literature.
- 3. Graduates will be capable of analyzing and criticizing literary texts according to historical, formal (generic), and reader–response critical schools. They will understand the major tenets of archetypal and psychological critical schools and of postmodern criticism.

The department assesses students' achievement in the major by a variety of means, including examinations, oral presentations, and papers in required courses. In their senior year, all English majors must present a thesis or produce a portfolio of creative writing or expository prose prepared under the direction of a professor in a chosen area. A jury of professors before whom the students present and defend their work will judge the thesis or portfolio.

ENGL 1310: Introduction to Academic Writing

Intensive study of grammar and usage, and development of analytical and writing skills necessary for college level courses. Students must earn a grade of at least "C" for admission to the first core curriculum English course: ENGL 1341– The Classical Tradition: Literature and Composition I. The 3 credit hours for 1310 do not fulfill any core curriculum requirement in English. They may, however, count toward the total number of hours required for graduation.

Fine Art Drama Dance

Program Chair: Prof. Eric Domuret, domuree@stthom.edu

At UST, you'll get a superb private university experience with access to outstanding professors who are highly accomplished teachers and artists. Our program features different theatre venues, affording diverse theatre experiences for both audiences and students. Our drama department is the home to Stoic Theatre, Houston's only professional and student collaborative theatre company. Our productions draw large and supportive campus and community audiences, frequently showcasing sell-out performances.

Students who graduate are prepared for careers in theatre, film, design, directing, playwriting, stage management, teaching, voice over, or a wide variety of other professions. Our students easily transition into the professional world and are represented by a number of different acting agencies across the country.

Our students present original works and capstone projects, as well as participating in local, graduate school, and national professional auditions such as Houston Alliance, URTA, and SETC. UST Drama also participates in ACTF competitions.

Whether you are a prospective student, potential audience member, devoted alum or interested theatre-lover, please explore our website to discover more about UST Drama.

In addition to course offerings, Stoic Theatre and the Drama Program maintain an active production schedule. A sample of plays produced in the past includes The Importance of Being Earnest, Guys & Dolls, Hamlet, As You Like It, The Bald Soprano, The Fantasticks, Charlotte's Web, The Cherry Orchard, Godspell, She Stoops to Conquer,

You Can't Take It With You, Waiting for Godot, A Midsummer Night's Dream, Grease, Pippin, The Glass Menagerie, The Diary of Anne Frank, Dancing At Laughnasa, Little Shop of Horrors, Noises Off, An Ideal Husband, Enchanted April, The Crucible, the AMPERSAND Ten–Minute Play Festival , The Addams Family, Nice Work if You Can Get It, King Charles III, and Pride and Prejudice.

ARTS 1301: Drawing Fundamentals I

Students learn to transpose 3–D objects into 2–D equivalents. While studying the relationships of planes and evaluating proportions, students develop eye, hand and perceptual skills in order to translate these observations to paper. The goals involve the exploration of different representational techniques in black–and–white media and the development of visual awareness and discrimination.

ARTS 1304: Design Fundamentals: 3D

How do you make decisions about form? How do color, scale, mass, line, plane, texture and balance affect the way you see form? How do you apply elements of design to different materials? How can you express emotions, attitudes and ideas with form? The answers to these questions are explored in the context of three-dimensional forms along with the practical application of the elements of design.

ARTS 2360: Jewelry Fundamentals I

The first semester (2360) includes an in-depth approach to acquiring basic skills used in the fabrication of nonferrous metals (copper, brass, nickel, sterling, gold). The progression of techniques from sawing, riveting, soldering and bezel stone-setting to refining is combined with the development of design and aesthetic consideration. The second semester (2361) surveys a variety of casting processes, such as cuttlebone, investing, burnout and clean-up. Emphasis is on matrix selection and form/textural development. Integration of elements with other forms and processes is stressed.

ARTS 3337: Intermediate Figure Sculpture I

Beginning students are introduced to sculpting the human figure by working from live models to explore anatomy and to extend the study of the human form into three dimensions. Sculpture projects focus on individual parts of the body as well as full figures. Students learn to create armatures to support clay figures and to create molds for casting clay sculptures into plaster and other durable materials. More experienced students work on projects that extend their knowledge of translating the figure both anatomically and expressively. The learning process is enhanced through viewing slides and figurative sculpture from the MFAH collections.

This advanced course explores both the artistry and mechanics of the rehearsal room, while empowering students to create and lead original theatre workshops. Building on the foundations of directing, students will refine their skills in staging, actor communication, and ensemble collaboration through hands-on rehearsal labs. In addition, students will design and facilitate their own theatre workshops—targeted for educational, community, or professional settings—learning how to craft experiences that inspire creativity, trust, and transformation. Emphasis is placed on developing a personal rehearsal methodology, responding adaptively to group dynamics, and cultivating leadership as a theatre-maker and educator. Ideal for directors, teaching artists, and collaborative creators ready to deepen their impact in the room and beyond.

Ideal for directors, teaching artists, and collaborative creators ready to deepen their impact in the room and beyond.

Rationale

The Drama Program needs more classes that engage students in leadership roles and an understanding of being responsible for communicating ideas to groups of people.

In today's evolving theatrical landscape, the ability to create and lead original workshops is an essential skill for the 21st-century theatre artist. Whether working as a freelance director, educator, teaching artist, or artistic leader, the development of customized workshops is both a practical tool for career sustainability and a means of contributing to the broader field through research and creative inquiry.

Workshops and Rehearsal Techniques is designed to deepen the director's understanding of process by combining advanced rehearsal strategies with the creative development of workshops. Through hands-on training, students will learn to craft dynamic rehearsal environments, facilitate communication between actors and designers, and build meaningful collaboration across disciplines. These skills are crucial for unifying a production's artistic vision and creating a cohesive working ensemble.

Moreover, the course emphasizes workshop creation as a professional asset. Whether used for community outreach, educational initiatives, grant writing, or professional branding, workshops serve as a vital tool for sharing one's artistic methodology. Students will gain experience in designing and leading these sessions, equipping them to market themselves effectively and contribute to ongoing research and innovation in theatre practice.

Ultimately, this course expands the director's toolkit—fostering adaptability, leadership, and a deeper understanding of how process shapes product in the rehearsal room and beyond.

Relationship to Existing Programs

Workshops and Rehearsal Techniques builds upon foundational directing coursework and contributes to the advanced practice and professional preparation components of the Drama degree. It supports the program's emphasis on holistic theatre-making by deepening students' understanding of rehearsal processes, interdisciplinary collaboration, and applied theatre pedagogy.

As an upper-division elective or required course in the Directing or Theatre Education track, this course strengthens the student's ability to lead in both creative and instructional settings. It complements core courses in Acting, Directing, and Design by focusing on the synthesis of these disciplines within the rehearsal and workshop environment. Additionally, the course aligns with the program's mission to prepare students as artist-scholars, offering opportunities for research through workshop creation and applied practice—essential for those pursuing graduate studies or careers in directing, teaching artistry, or arts leadership.

Contribution to UST Curriculum

Workshops and Rehearsal Techniques contributes meaningfully to the University of St. Thomas's liberal arts mission by cultivating critical thinking, creative expression, and collaborative leadership. Through the development and facilitation of original workshops and advanced rehearsal processes, students engage deeply with questions of human experience, communication, and the transformative power of art—core values in the university's Catholic intellectual tradition.

This course promotes interdisciplinary understanding and real-world application, fostering the kind of adaptable, service-minded leaders that the University of St. Thomas seeks to form. By equipping students to lead with clarity, empathy, and artistic vision, the course supports the university's broader goal of preparing graduates to become thoughtful professionals and cultural contributors who integrate faith, reason, and creativity in their chosen fields.

Student Outcomes

- Design and Facilitate Original Workshops
  Students will create and lead original theatre workshops tailored to specific artistic, educational, or community goals, demonstrating an understanding of structure, objective, and participant engagement.
- Apply Advanced Rehearsal Techniques
  Students will demonstrate advanced rehearsal strategies, including ensemble-building, actor coaching, and director-led explorations of text, space, and staging.

- Demonstrate Collaborative Communication Skills
  Students will effectively facilitate communication between actors, designers, and creative teams in simulated rehearsal environments, showing an ability to unify artistic vision and encourage interdisciplinary collaboration.

Music

Department Chair: Dr. Michael Richardson, richarm@stthom.edu

A major in music performance or music education provides a comprehensive background in music theory, music history and performance. The vast majority of the department's offerings emphasize Western music with performance concentrations in vocal and instrumental music.

Students who major in these programs will achieve a thorough grasp of academic knowledge about music; will be able to demonstrate their research, writing and performing ability through a variety of tests, concerts and recitals; and will be prepared for further education and for employment in the field of music. Those students who complete the music education program will be able to pass the Texas Education Agency mandated examinations for teachers.

A minor in music provides a structured program for students following other major programs. The program also serves as one of the bases of the University's interdisciplinary fine and performing arts offerings.

The department also offers academic and applied studies for non–majors. It maintains an active recital series for the University and community.

Philosophy

Philosophy systematically examines fundamental questions about the universe and our place in it. Traditional topics include the nature and existence of God, the relationship between faith and reason, human nature, ethics and human happiness, the fundamental nature of reality, and the sources and limits of human knowledge. The Philosophy curriculum emphasizes the historical and philosophical understanding of St. Thomas Aquinas as providing a distinctive and unifying orientation for the program while engaging the broader philosophical tradition. At the same time, students are equipped with analytical and conceptual skills applicable across disciplines, including law, medicine, business, and the sciences.

PHIL 1315: Ancient Philosophy

A study of being, nature, knowledge, man and the state, as developed by the pre–Socratics, Plato, Aristotle, the Epicureans, the Stoics and Plotinus.

PHIL 3350: Contemporary Logic

This course aims to introduce students to the significant philosophical advances made in the past 150 years in the field of logic. Some of this material can be grouped under the rubric of symbolic logic, but this course will go beyond the field of mathematical logic by discussing theories of modal and tense logic, and, more generally, by discussing why 20th– century philosophers see such formal logic as the most suitable tool for the discovery and development of logical truth. Prerequisites: PHIL 2314 or PHIL 2316/3316.

Description

This course examines the nature of AI and the ethical implications of its development and use. The first part discusses the nature of intelligence and the difference between human and artificial intelligence. It surveys philosophical theories about living beings, the human person, artifacts, and technology. The second part raises ethical questions about AI: the dignity of the human person, moral agency, the common good, copyright, safety, work, and education.

Rationale

Organizations need leaders who can bridge AI technical capabilities with business strategy, navigate evolving AI regulations, and deploy AI responsibly. This program addresses that gap for working professionals without requiring technical backgrounds.

In light of the Catholic mission of the University of St. Thomas, the Philosophy of AI course will educate students about the nature of AI in comparison to human intelligence, and discuss ethical questions from the perspective of the Catholic Intellectual Tradition.

Relationship to Existing Programs

The course builds upon the philosophical notions and ideas taught in the Core classes Philosophy of Nature and Human Person, and Ethics.

Contribution to UST Curriculum
The course adds to the UST curriculum a reflection upon the new development of AI in light of the Catholic Intellectual Tradition.
Student Outcomes
Learning Objective 1: Understand the nature of AI and how it differs from human intelligence.

Learning Objective 2: Learn to develop and apply AI responsibly, in light of ethical reflections steeped in the Catholic Intellectual Tradition.
Projected Enrollment
15.
Staff and Expenses
There are several faculty in Philosophy able and willing to teach this course as part of their regular teaching load. Dr. Mirela Oliva, Dr. Brandon Zimmermann, Ryan Miller. No additional expenses required.

PHIL 4357: The Thought of Karol Wojtyla (Saint John Paul II)

The course will present a holistic understanding of the thought of Karol Wojtyla (Saint John Paul II). Although the emphasis is placed upon the philosophical aspect of his work, the course will allow the student to explore the literary, mystical, and theological contributions to his philosophical thinking and writing, as well to consider the social and political applications of his thought as well. The special philosophical achievement of Karol Wojtyla pertains to his blending of the philosophy Aristotle and St. Thomas Aquinas with the phenomenological approach of Max Scheler and the personalism of Kant. His philosophical synthesis brings great insight and argument for the dignity of the person, the special character of love and marriage, work and society, politics and human rights, the existence of God and humanism. Readings will include selections from his drama and poetry, his writings on John of the Cross, essays on Scheler, Kant, and Thomism, and portions of his great works the Acting Person, and Love and Responsibility.

Theology

Department Chair: Dr. David Deavel, david.deavel@stthom.edu

The major in theology seeks to instill competency in major topics in the study of Catholicism and in the methods of investigation and research appropriate to the discipline of theology. Theology plays a particularly important role in the synthesis of knowledge as well as in the dialogue between faith and reason. The study of theology, as part of a liberal arts education, aids the University community in its "constant effort to determine the relative place and meaning of each of the various disciplines within the context of the human person and the world that is enlightened by the Gospel," and thus in preserving "the sense of the transcendence of the human person over the world and of God over the human person." (John Paul II, Ex corde Ecclesiae, 16, 19).

Students who successfully complete the major program will be able to: read and use scripture in accordance with theological methods; interpret documents in Church history according to their historical and theological contexts; and assess, from within the ecclesial tradition, arguments in systematic and moral theology. Fulfillment of these objectives will be determined by means of an exit examination.

The school also offers a five-year BA/MA Combined degree in Theology which enables high–achieving undergraduate students to earn both the bachelor's and master's degrees in a streamlined program combining undergraduate and graduate studies. The BA/MA requires 120 undergraduate credit hours and 30 graduate credit hours of study and allows students to take undergraduate and graduate courses concurrently during the senior year. The BA and MA degrees will be conferred only after the BA/MA student completes the 120 undergraduate credit hours and 30 graduate credit hours of study successfully. The undergraduate hours for the Theology coursework are reduced to 36 hours from 42 hours. The chair of the Theology major will advise the student on which courses to take.

For graduate students, the department offers an MA in Historical Theology. Through its six-course sequence in historical courses and its offering of systematic courses based in the Catholic dogmatic tradition and integrating Sacred Scripture, students will be given a solid basis in Catholic theology that is informed by both Scripture and the Tradition. Students will complete the MA by passing a set of comprehensive exams or, with the permission of the director, an MA thesis.

THEO 3356: Theological Anthropology

Studies the Christian vision of man under the light of divine revelation; his creation in God's image and likeness, his ultimate end, and his spiritual and material faculties. Reading focus on the development of Christian anthropology in its historical context, both ancient and modern, as well as the anthropological foundations of moral action, ascetical praxis, and sacramental discipline. Primary source readings will typically be chosen from scripture, the fathers, and recent Magisterium, including documents of the Second Vatican Council, with an eye to comparison and contrast between Christian anthropology and modern and post-modern views of the human person. Key topics may include deification, personhood, freedom, the mind, passions, relationality, or sexuality.

ARTHI 4315: Impressionism to Post-Impressionism

Begins by considering how impressionism refined and redirected the artistic aims of 19th-century realism, then follows the development of progressive art to the brink of cubism and pure abstraction in the first years of the 20th century. Following impressionism and post-impressionism, close attention is paid to symbolism, aestheticism, art nouveau, the Arts and Crafts movement, fauvism, and expressionism. The aesthetic aims of these movements are analyzed in tandem with the social and cultural conditions that generated them. The course utilizes the extensive impressionist

ARTHI 4355: History of Photography

Chronicles the history of photography's complex and symbiotic relationship to painting, sculpture, architecture, installation, and performance. Beginning with the medium's invention and the early fights of its practitioners to establish themselves as fine artists, describes photographers' unique attempts to negotiate their relationships with both artistic movements and the media culture of which they are a part. Assesses the impact of art movements, cultural attitudes, and new technologies on photographers across the history of the medium. The course also addresses popular forms of photographic imagery, such as advertising, fashion, travel photography, family portraits and snapshots, scientific documents, documentary reform, and photojournalism, and describes the medium's relationship to Western (and global) social history during the modern era. The course utilizes the photography collections at the Houston Center for Photography, the Museum of Fine Arts, Houston, The Menil Collection, and the Contemporary Arts Museum, Houston.

ARTHS 1370: A Cultural Study of Global Art: Politics, Patronage, and the Museum

This course considers concepts and histories of art. Students explore core issues in the discipline of art history: What is art? What is art history? What is a masterpiece? The course addresses cultural factors that shape canons of art history, including notions of originality, genius, skill, inspiration, complexity, beauty, and taste, as well as the roles of art professionals and institutions. Attention is paid to: patronage and the art market, the academy and the museum, and the development of modernism. Beyond engaging with central questions in art history, students learn to analyze the formal aspects of works of art and to interpret them within the historical contexts in which they were made.

Biology

Department Chair: Dr. Alexandra Simmons, simmonad@stthom.edu

This is the era of biology characterized by rapid and amazing advances! The exciting life sciences curriculum at UST emphasizes the full range of this dynamic field, from the biology of ecosystems and organisms to cells and molecules, in an evolutionary context. Students in the program will apply the scientific method to investigate biological phenomena while developing critical thinking, oral communication, writing and computational skills. Students will also develop an ethical approach to the practice of science. The major program is designed to prepare students for graduate and professional schools and for entry–level biologist, computational biology and bioinformatics positions. Students who successfully complete any biology major will exhibit a mastery of the basic subject areas and important biological concepts.

A grade of "C" or better in BIOL 1351, 1151, 1352, and 1152 and CHEM 1341, 1141 are prerequisites for all other biology courses. No biology course may be taken unless all prerequisites have been completed with a grade of "C" or better. Advanced placement credit or credit by examination may not be used as prerequisites for upper–division biology courses. Biology courses may only be taken a maximum of three (3) times.

Students graduating with a degree in Biology or Cell and Molecular Biology must have a minimum GPA of 2.00 in all biology courses.

Students completing any major in biology must take the Educational Testing Service Major Field Test in Biology (MFT) in the semester in which they graduate. Students who do not take the MFT will not be allowed to graduate with a major in biology.

BIOL 1151: Introduction to Biology Practicum

In a team-based setting, this course introduces the foundations of scientific inquiry, including hypothesis development, experimental design, and the cultivation of analytical and critical thinking skills. Emphasis is placed on communicating scientific ideas through presentations and discussion, while promoting an ethical approach to scientific practice.

Introduction to microbiology and Lab is the study and overview of the structure, function, diversity, physiology, culture, and control of bacteria and other microorganisms. Emphasis will be placed on developing an understanding of fundamental concepts of microbiology such as microbial growth, metabolism, genetics, pathogenesis, immunity, and epidemiology. This course will also introduce the use of therapeutic agents to prevent or treat infectious diseases caused by clinically relevant microorganisms including bacteria, fungi, parasites, and viruses. The course will include systematic case studies on microbial disease. The laboratory component of the course will be virtual and cover basic laboratory concepts of microbiology. Fundamental microbiology techniques such as the aseptic technique, microscopy, isolation, and cultivation of microorganisms will be studied. In addition, an overall survey of microbes and their control will be conducted.

BIOL 2446: Human Anatomy and Physiology II

This course continues the exploration of human anatomy and physiology with emphasis on the major control and maintenance systems of the body. Students examine the structure and function of the endocrine, cardiovascular, lymphatic, immune, digestive, urinary, and reproductive systems, focusing on how these systems regulate homeostasis and interact to support overall health. Through integrated lecture and laboratory experiences, the course reinforces physiological principles, clinical connections, and the coordination of organ systems in maintaining internal balance and responding to physiological challenges. Combined lecture and laboratory.

Description

Ecology course (BIOL 3331) will no longer be required for the BA-Biology or BS-Biology, and become part of the 'additional upper division biology courses' that students can select from to complete their degree.

Rationale

In Biology, we teach courses required for degree completion every semester. Optional courses are taught only once a year. The department currently does not have enough faculty to teach this course every semester, so it will have to become an optional class to avoid issues and allowed for increased flexibility.

BIOL 3333: Microbiology

This upper-division Microbiology course explores the structure, function, physiology, metabolism and genetics of microorganisms, including bacteria, viruses, fungi, and parasites. Emphasis is placed on understanding the diversity of microbes, how they adapt and survive, and their role in human health, infectious disease, and environmental systems.

BIOL 3435: Human Anatomy and Lab

A regional-based approach to understanding the major anatomical structures of the human body is essential to understanding human biological functions. This course is an upper-division combined lecture and lab that studies how the major organ systems interact with each other in the different regions of the body. The course will focus on gross anatomy (macroscopic; visible to the naked eye) via lectures, models, animal dissections and the Anatomage Human Virtual Dissection Table. We will also examine relevant applications of anatomical structures to the medical field. This comprehensive introduction to human anatomy is designed for biology majors or those on a pre-health track.

Chemistry

Department Chair: Dr. Richa Chandra, chandrr@stthom.edu

Chemists and biochemists study matter and the changes it undergoes. They recognize that there are many different substances in everyday life created by a world of atoms and molecules whose nature and actions account for the properties of these substances. Studying chemistry or biochemistry requires thoughtfulness, analysis, and imagination. It also requires exactness as predictions are tested and views of the atomic and molecular world modified based upon the results of measurements.

Admission to courses beyond CHEM 1341 requires a “C “or better in their prerequisites at the University of St. Thomas or their equivalents at another appropriately accredited institution. The decision on the adequacy of an equivalent rests with the department chair.

The Bachelor of Science (BS) degrees in Chemistry and Biochemistry are accredited by the American Chemical Society (ACS) Committee on Professional Training.

CHEM 1100: The Chemistry of Food Lab

This lab course will introduce students to the scientific method, chemical transformations and analysis using food, cooking and baking as the model system. Students will be expected to perform a combination of take-home cooking exercises and in-lab analysis of various foods. Comparisons of how different starting materials and different amounts of certain materials influence the final product will be emphasized. Analytical test on foods will be carried out to emphasize food quality and chemical components

CHEM 1102: Quantitative Reasoning for Chemistry Scholars

The Quantitative Reasoning for Chemistry Scholars course will cover relevant quantitative concepts and problem-solving strategies for General Chemistry I (CHEM 1341). This course focuses on the application of those concepts which are discussed in CHEM 1341 lecture. The course involves developing speed, accuracy and proficiency with the following quantitative skills: Basic arithmetic operations, calculations with exponents, decimals and the metric system, basic algebraic manipulations, dimensional analysis, conversions, significant figures, word problems, quantitative relationships in the periodic table, chemical nomenclature, balancing equations, stoichiometry, and concentrations. All MSEIP Scholars are required to enroll in this course. However, non-MSEIP Scholars must receive instructor approval to enroll. This is a Pass/Fail course.

Covers thermodynamics and kinetics from a molecular perspective. Major topics include atomic and molecular degrees of freedom, gases, statistical mechanics, macroscopic thermodynamics, and kinetics. An emphasis is placed on understanding the assumptions that go into first principle derivations and how those assumptions can break down in practical application. Main application areas are molecular spectroscopy, expansion/compression of gases, thermodynamic cycles, chemical equilibrium, pure and mixed phase behavior, and dynamics of chemical reactions. The language of calculus is used throughout.

CHEM 4362: Physical Chemistry II

Covers kinetic molecular theory and quantum mechanics. Major topics include continuous probability distributions, the origins of quantum theory, solutions to Schrodinger's equation for model systems and the hydrogen atom, approximation methods including perturbation and variational principle, and iterative solutions based off the Hartree-Fock method. Main application areas are molecular spectroscopy, tunneling, computational chemistry, and potential energy surfaces. The language of calculus and differential equations is used throughout.

CHEM 4364: Materials Science

This course will cover physical and chemical concepts of materials with a special emphasis on nanomaterials. After introducing underlying concepts of condensed matter physics the relationship between structure, properties (electrical, optical, chemical, magnetic) and performance of nanomaterials is investigated. Characterization and fabrication methods as well as interdisciplinary applications ranging from drug delivery and therapy to nanoelectronics and alternative energy production are discussed.

Mathematics

Department Chair: Dr. Mary Flagg, flagm@stthom.edu

Mathematics is one of the most permanent and universal of the liberal arts and sciences. The courses offered by the department recognize mathematics as the universal tool for the life, natural, and social sciences. The program's core consists of topics chosen to ensure students understand and appreciate the nature of mathematical thought and the role abstraction and logic play in it.

Computer science is one of the most dynamic and integral of the modern sciences. The courses offered by the department recognize computer science as a universal tool for innovation in various fields, including life, natural, and social sciences. The program's core consists of topics chosen to ensure students understand and appreciate the nature of computational thought and the role algorithms and programming play in it.

The Distinguished Student of Mathematics Scholarship Endowment Fund and the Dr. William A. and Margaret Reddie Endowed Scholarship in Mathematics provide financial assistance to majors in mathematics.

COMSC 1450: Introduction to Programming and Computer Science

Students will learn to analyze computational problems and develop solutions to them as algorithms. The algorithms will be implemented in Python, a modern programming language. Students will learn the fundamental principles of computer science, basic hardware and software components of a computer system, computational thinking, basic algorithms, and programming. Students will get hands-on experience in problem solving by designing, writing, testing and debugging Python programs.

COMSC 4345: Foundations of Data Science

Data science is an emerging discipline whose main goal is extracting information and knowledge from datasets and using it for decision-making, answering questions, or understanding phenomena. The fundamentals of Data Science will be studied from three perspectives; 1) as a collection of disciplines: exploring the interconnections between computing, mathematics, statistics, visualization, and other domains; 2) as a process: learning the life cycle in a data science project; and 3) understanding its computational foundation. This course also addresses the potential negative impact algorithms can have on people and society.

MATH 1425: Success Through Enhancement of Mathematical Skills (STEMS)

Topics covered will include numerical evaluation of logarithms and the use of methods for working with them, the interpretation and manipulation of numbers in scientific notation; trigonometric functions; the quantitative interpretation and generation of graphs; the evaluation of ratios of numbers with integer exponents; the simplification of rational expressions, and the use of percentages; estimation methods without the use of calculators; dimensional analysis; trigonometric functions. The course emphasizes creative and effective problem solving techniques in a real world context and an enhancement of mathematical skills leading to greater achievement in STEM (Science, Engineering, Technology and Mathematics) courses. Prerequisite: Acceptance in the Mendenhall Summer Institute. Co-requisite: UNIV 1201.

MATH 2437: Contemporary Mathematics for Elementary Teachers

A modern approach to the mathematics commonly taught to young children. Theoretic bases for computation and measurement are established. The geometric properties of shapes and solids are explored both visually and through computations. The basics of theoretical and empirical probability are developed using models and manipulatives. Additional topics such as problem solving algorithms, elementary logic and statistics are introduced. Prerequisites: successful completion of a University core mathematics course. Does not satisfy the University core requirements in mathematics.

Health Professions Advisory Committee (HPAC)

Director: Dr. Gabriel Villares, HPAC@stthom.edu

Preparation for a career in medicine, dentistry or other health profession begins by planning a successful undergraduate education. At the University of St. Thomas, students establish a foundation for entering specialized training in the health professions through our broad–based liberal arts and sciences curriculum. We focus on the total undergraduate experience including pre–requisite coursework, career involvement through volunteering in the health field, undergraduate research, mock interviews and ongoing advisory support and evaluation.

These tracks below can be added to any undergraduate degree.

For post-baccalaureate students there are four certificate tracks available. Alternatively, these post-baccs can also select from the tracks below as non-certificate pathways. Post-bacc non-certificate pathways require bachelor's degree w/ a 3.0 GPA. The nature of the admissions process and required skill set for the programs in these areas is rapidly changing. Students interested in any of these fields should go to the Office of Academic Advising for the most current course tracks and information or contact.

HLTHP 3301: Professional Development & Skills I

This course is designed for students to analyze and improve upon their pre-professional competencies. These will be done in small groups by analyzing students professional CV. Keeping these soft skills in mind, students will also prepare their personal statements for medical school.

HLTHP 3302: Professional Development & Skills II

This course will continue from HPAC 3301 in developing the pre-professional competencies needed to be a successful, well-rounded applicant to medical school. Students will prepare for their application and develop a plan to apply early to the various application services. Students will also work on acquiring the skills to tackle the secondary applications as well as work in teams to actively practice MMI-style interview questions and work independently on how to answer typical medical school interview questions utilizing their pre-professional competencies. Finally, through a series of guest lectures from professionals at TMC, students will dive into medical ethics which will help them prepare for their applications and interviews.

Physics and Engineering

Department Chair: Dr. Vahid Taghikhani, vahid.taghikhani@stthom.edu

All areas of science, technology, engineering and medicine rest upon physical principles of matter and motion, which is why physics is often called the base science. Physics is that branch of science that attempts to discover the laws underlying the natural world, from the smallest subatomic particle to the large-scale distribution of galaxies. Further, physics seeks to express these laws in a mathematical language in order quantitatively model and understand the past, present and even future state for a system.

Engineering has always been an in-demand field with a constant need for critical thinkers and problem solvers. In our engineering programs you will learn the fundamentals of what it takes to be a great engineer. The programs offer a wide array of learning opportunities from traditional classroom and laboratory settings to undergraduate research and engineering design-oriented courses.

Admission to all physics and engineering courses with prerequisites require a “C” or better in those prerequisites. This is true for prerequisites taken at the University of St. Thomas or their equivalents at another appropriately accredited institution. The decision on the adequacy of an equivalent rests with the department chair.

ENGR 1100: Intro to Engineering Lab

This course, in combination with the Introduction to Engineering course ENGR 1300, is a first year course dedicated to the preparation of students for the future engineering curriculum. The lab component focuses on application of the mathematical principles via computer software (MATLAB and Excel).

ENGR 1102: Physics and Engineering Scholars Seminar

The Physics and Engineering Scholars seminar will enhance relevant concepts, techniques and problem-solving strategies needed in introductory Physics 1331 and Physics 2333 courses. The focus is on application of those concepts, techniques, and strategies to covered lecture topics in both PHYS 1331 and PHYS 2333, such as motion in several dimensions, forces, energy, momentum, rotational motion, vibrations, and waves. This course is recommended for students who need to improve their quantitative reasoning and problem-solving skills to succeed in their introductory physics classes. Departmental Approval is needed to sign up for this course. This is a Pass/Fail course.

ENGR 3345: Electrochemical Energy Systems

This course studies the fundamentals of electrochemical energy storage and materials. It covers basic principles and mathematical models of electrochemistry, thermodynamics, kinetics, photoelectrochemistry devices, and energy storage. The main focus of this course is to give the students a solid understanding of the application of these principles in the emerging technologies like lithium-ion batteries, fuel-cells, super-capacitors and solar cells.

An introduction to using computers to study and model physical systems, particularly those problems which are difficult or impossible to solve analytically. The focus is on concrete problems arising in the Engineering industry and Physics fields, using programming languages (e.g. Python, Matlab, C++). Students are expected to design, implement, and verify their own code, as well as incorporate standard code libraries. Topics may include numerical integration, differential equations, linear systems, molecular dynamics, finite-element methods, working with large datasets, graphics and 3d visualization.

This course – in combination with the Electrical Engineering Capstone Laboratory course ENGR 4144 -is an upper level capstone treatment of an engineering design project (from idea over design to realization) and is executed by a team of students. The project involves application of analytical, experimental, and computational techniques to the chosen topic. Topics are chosen from the electrical engineering field according to student and faculty interest. This course is dedicated to the idea and design part, the realization of the project will take place in ENGR 4144, the Electrical Engineering Capstone Laboratory.

Description

This course provides an interdisciplinary introduction to semiconductor engineering, with emphasis on the fundamentals, materials, manufacturing processes, equipment, applications, and career opportunities within the semiconductor industry. Students will develop a broad understanding of the semiconductor value chain, from quartz and silicon production through wafer manufacturing, device fabrication, packaging, testing, and emerging semiconductor technologies.

The course introduces fundamental concepts in semiconductor materials and devices, vacuum systems, crystal growth, purification, doping, thin-film deposition, physical vapor deposition (PVD), chemical vapor deposition (CVD), lithography, etching, oxidation, metallization, packaging, and testing. The course also examines the global semiconductor industry and the growing semiconductor ecosystem in the United States and Texas.

Student Outcomes

1. Explain the basic principles of semiconductor materials and devices.
2. Explain how quartz is converted into high-purity electronic-grade silicon.
3. Describe chemical purification processes and silicon crystal-growth methods.

4. Describe PVD and CVD processes and their applications in semiconductor manufacturing.
5. Explain semiconductor doping and the formation of p-type and n-type materials.
6. Describe the basic principles of photolithography and pattern transfer.
7. Explain major wafer-fabrication processes, including oxidation, deposition, etching, ion implantation, and metallization.
8. Describe semiconductor packaging, assembly, and testing.
9. Explain the semiconductor supply chain and major industry segments.
10. Examine career pathways and employment opportunities in the semiconductor industry.
11. Discuss the global, U.S., and Texas semiconductor markets.
12. Identify major semiconductor manufacturing facilities and technology centers in the United States and Texas.
13. Demonstrate awareness of semiconductor cleanroom practices, safety, contamination control, and environmental considerations.

ENGR 4391: Internship in Physics and Engineering

Internship in Engineering offers students the opportunity to explore and develop their careers through professional practice. This course takes place in form of an 8-10 week, full time external internship or research experience for individual students in various branches of industry, government agencies, or laboratories. In order to register for the course the student must show proof to the department that they have successfully obtained an internship and register for the course for the semester in which the internship will be evaluated by UST faculty. Students have to be rising juniors or seniors to qualify for this course. In order to get course credit students have to submit detailed (week by week) documentation regarding their internship goals and achievements and fulfill further course requirements as determined by supervising faculty from the Department of Physics and Engineering.

PHYS 1102: Physics and Engineering Scholars Seminar

The Physics and Engineering Scholars seminar will enhance relevant concepts, techniques and problem-solving strategies needed in introductory Physics 1331 and Physics 2333 courses. The focus is on application of those concepts, techniques,and strategies to covered lecture topics in both Physics 1331 and 2333, such as motion in several dimensions, forces, energy, momentum, rotational motion, vibrations, and waves. This course is recommended for students who need to improve their quantitative reasoning and problem-solving skills to succeed in their introductory physics classes. Departmental Approval is needed to sign up for this course. This is a Pass/Fail course.

PHYS 3335: Thermodynamics

This course focuses on the concepts and applications of thermodynamics. The central objective of this course is to demonstrate the crucial role of thermodynamics in a modern industrialized society. The course concentrates on the following: conservation equations for mass, energy, and entropy in closed and open systems; applications of the first and second laws of thermodynamics to steady-state and transient problems; properties of fluids and equations of state; power generation and refrigeration cycles; chemical and phase equilibrium.

School of Theology

Mission Statement

The University of St Thomas School of Theology is dedicated to providing outstanding theological education in the Roman Catholic tradition. We are committed to preparing qualified ministerial leaders to serve a culturally diverse community of faith and a changing world.

History of the School of Theology at St. Mary's Seminary

The School of Theology and the Center for Pastoral Studies are located on the campus of St. Mary's Seminary, 9845 Memorial Drive, Houston, Texas. St. Mary's Seminary was established in 1901 by Bishop Nicholas Gallagher in La Porte, Texas and moved to its current location in 1954. The School of Theology was established in 1968 when the theology department of St. Mary's Seminary became part of the University of St. Thomas.

Set within the residential Memorial area of suburban Houston, the Seminary spans approximately fifty acres replete with natural beauty. Candidates for the diocesan priesthood reside at St. Mary's Seminary as they progress through an extensive program of priestly formation. Lay students pursuing theological degrees, including those leading to ordination to the permanent diaconate and for service as lay ecclesial ministers, commute to the campus for their studies. The Bishop Nold Educational Center, completed in 2001, houses the academic classrooms, a lounge, a multi-media auditorium, and administrative offices.

St. Mary's Seminary

St. Mary's Seminary is a theologate that exists for the personal, spiritual, academic and pastoral formation of men preparing for ordination to the Roman Catholic priesthood. St. Mary's enables ordination candidates to grow in holiness and develop into pastoral leaders who will serve the Church as priests after satisfactorily demonstrating their competence and willingness for effective ministry. The Seminary promotes the full, integral personal growth of each student and emphasizes the development of skills in collaborative ministry.

Students who are candidates for the diocesan priesthood reside at St. Mary's Seminary and are involved in an extensive program of priestly formation. This spiritual formation program is coordinated with the academic and pastoral education provided by the School of Theology and is based on the Program of Priestly Formation of the U.S. Conference of Catholic Bishops. The specific purpose of the seminary formation program is to foster the human and spiritual maturity of the candidates as they grow in their relationship with the person of Jesus Christ and in their desire to serve the People of God in their local diocese.

Center for Pastoral Studies

The Center for Pastoral Studies is designed to academically and pastorally prepare a student for a leadership role in the Catholic Church. It offers a Master of Arts in Pastoral Studies Program (MAPS), which is designed to help develop the academic and pastoral skills necessary for professional service in church ministries.

The Diaconate Program

The UST School of Theology at St. Mary's Seminary is committed to providing the solid academic formation necessary for excellence in ministry. Part of this commitment is lived out in diaconal formation for the state of Texas. The USTST diaconal program is in full conformity with the United States Conference of Catholic Bishops. The academic portion of the Diaconate Program is under the umbrella of the School of Theology's Center for Pastoral Studies.

The Cardinal Beran Library at St. Mary's Seminary

Located on the campus of St. Mary's Seminary, and owned by the Archdiocese of Galveston-Houston, the Cardinal Beran Library is the principal theological resource for the School of Theology. The Cardinal Beran Library building was blessed by His Eminence Joseph Cardinal Beran, Archbishop of Prague, April 17, 1966.

The cornerstone reads: The lips of the priest are to keep knowledge, and instruction is to be sought from his mouth, because he is the messenger of the Lord of hosts. - Malachi 2:7

- Saturday and Sunday Closed

It is best to check with the librarians for specific hours during breaks.

Students and faculty of USTST have full access to the Doherty Library and campus resources located on the University of St. Thomas Main Campus. Although the two libraries have separate automation systems, users on both campuses have access to holdings of each.

CU 1201: Introduction to Sacred Scripture

This course will give students an introduction into to the biblical text and structure and will explore methodologies used in the exegesis of Sacred Scripture drawing upon Dei Verbum from the Second Vatican Council and the Interpretation of the Bible in the Church from the Pontifical Biblical Commission; the major Biblical forms of criticism currently employed by modern exegetes (narrative criticism, form criticism, source criticism, redaction criticism, social-science criticism, canonical criticism, to name a few) including also introduction and survey of patristic exegetical methods pertaining to Scripture and its development will be explored. It is the goal of this course to prepare the student for subsequent examinations of scripture using Catholic methods of scriptural analysis.

CU 2204: Pauline Letters

This course will explore the writings of Paul and seek to understand his importance for the early Christian Community. We will explore how Paul goes from being a leader in the persecution of Christians to becoming the Apostle to the Gentiles. It is Paul's understanding of Judaism that helps guide the Early Church to becoming its own religion, distinct from Judaism. From his letters, we can see clearly the issues, concerns, problems and faith of the Early Church.

CU 2206: Fundamental Theology

This course is a theological exploration of God's divine self-communication to humankind in Christ by the power of the Holy Spirit and humankind's graced response to that revelation in the life of faith. The course will begin with a reflection on the nature of human experience as the locus of the encounter between God and humankind. Reflections on the relationship between faith and reason, philosophy and theology prepares introduces the ways of knowing God. We will then explore the way in which the one divine revelation is mediated through Scripture and Tradition and given normative expression in dogma and doctrine. The respective roles of the magisterium, theologians and the sensus fidelium in the faithful transmission and reception of the Catholic faith will also be explored at length.

CU 2207: Introduction to Church

This course seeks to examine the nature of the church as the mystery of God's communion with us and our communion with each other in him. We examine various approaches to ecclesiology, in particular the approach of communio. Attention to the four marks of the church: one, holy, catholic and apostolic provides a framework for consideration of particular issues facing the church. Ecumenical issues are examined throughout the study and pastoral application for ministry are discussed when appropriate.

Description

As a result of the SACSCOC directive indicating that every program must have a capstone component, we are modifying the penultimate course in the program (Anthropology/Eschatology- CU 2210) which serves as a synthesis for the Certificate program, to include this capstone component.

Rationale

SACS requirement.

Description

It was intended to request CU 2204 - Synoptic Gospels, when we revised the UCRT Certificate in Pastoral Theology program in September of 2023, but the request was inadvertently omitted from the curriculum change form at that time. Although we offer Gospels as CU 2203, which covers all four, some dioceses wish to have the Synoptic Gospels taught separately from the Gospel of John; this necessitates the addition of a separate Synoptic Gospels course (CU 2214).

Rationale

It was intended to request CU 2204 - Synoptic Gospels, when we revised the UCRT Certificate in Pastoral Theology program in September of 2023, but the request was inadvertently omitted from the curriculum change form at that time.

CU 2311: Introduction to the Liturgical Year

This course will explore the ways that the mystery of salvation is signified in the liturgical life of the Church, and the devotional life of the Christian. Through examining the elements of liturgy and the liturgical year, the student will explore the unfolding of the year of grace, so that the Christian will come to know and experience how “all time belongs to Him and all ages.” Through lecture, practicum and reading, the course will heighten the awareness that the Church’s Liturgical year is filled with sign and symbol, in language, ritual action, art and architecture, and music, to promote active participation in the Church’s mysteries to deepen the encounter with Christ in every time and season.

YSM 4305: Spirituality

In the world in which cultural flux seems more rapid & sometimes more violent than the human person can tolerate, it is more essential than ever to clarify our sense of the meaning of life. This course will seek a deeper understanding of life's meaning as it is related to the nature of the human person, the world & the living God of the Christian. In doing so, we will focus on the common dimensions of the lived experience of these relationships in light of the great spiritual tradition of the Church. We will deal with the Trinitarian origins of our life in the Spirit, the reality of grace, the virtues & the gifts of the Holy Spirit, freedom, sin, conversion, growth in holiness & prayer.

Description

An overview of the world's political cultures, systems, behavior, and institutions. The objective is to develop a background with which to assess and explain differences in political culture, governmental structures, and political behavior and to appreciate the effects these factors have on international relations.

Rationale

To create a cross-listed section of INST 3351 (Comparative Political System) to be included in the revised POSC major degree plan.

Relationship to Existing Programs

The course supports the POSC major degree plan.

Contribution to UST Curriculum

This program helps expand the scope of the core curriculum in the field of social and behavioral sciences.

Student Outcomes

1. Define, understand, and use concepts and terms relevant to the study of Comparative Politics.
2. Apply a body of factual knowledge directly relevant to understanding various cultural and political phenomena across different countries.
3. Analyze empirical evidence relevant to evaluating different points of view on historical and contemporary political issues across nations.

Projected Enrollment

30 per academic year.

Staff and Expenses
We will utilize existing full-time faculty members to teach this course. No extra expenses are needed.

Additional expenses in equipment, teaching resources, etc.
None.

POSC 3352: International Politics

(INST 3352) Theories of international politics and the decision–making process that generates foreign policy. An examination of the role of power in the modern world, the utility of force in conflict resolution versus the multilateral, collaborative approach. An introduction to the way current international politics is increasingly related to the world economic situation, with special attention to the role of multinational corporations, international trade and finance. POSC 4311: Mock Trial

This course is designed to teach the basics of trial procedure through the use of simulations and mock trials. Students will read texts and discuss trial procedure and selected readings on the structure and procedures of trial courts. The main goal of the course is to impart the fundamentals necessary for successful participation in intercollegiate mock trial competition and to lay the groundwork for more advanced study in law school. The majority of class time in the second half of the course will be spent in "hands on" practice of these techniques in mock trials.

POSC 4379: Cyber Warfare

This course overviews the growth and scope of cyber warfare and its impacts on national power in the domains of government, diplomacy, international law, international commerce/economic power, social media/privacy, science/technology, and civil society. It traces the evolution of conflict from traditional information gathering to the development of cyber weaponry with destructive capabilities and the use of those capabilities to advance national foreign policy interests. Through the use of case studies and selective readings from a variety of sources (government policy directives, cyber security industry studies, and defense related academic papers), the course guides students through the emergent quality of the broadening scope of cyber conflict and the multifaceted response to the challenge. Ultimately, students are confronted with the impact of the ongoing threat as they interface with cyberspace in their day-to-day interactions. The goal is for a deeper understanding of the scope and complexity of the cyber domain and the global conflict that is raging out of view.

POSC 4380: Global Conflict Resolution

This course begins with the premise that conflict is a part of everyday life that spans across every inch of the globe and is found in all careers and relationships, so it is designed to be a practical course that provides a comprehensive overview of conflict resolution from a micro (person-to-person) to a global perspective. This course reviews the theoretical components while exploring conflict within different contexts, including intergroup, interpersonal, cross-cultural, legal, and international, by analyzing select global conflicts and learning to identify its primary and secondary participants. This course introduces positive conflict management skills, including active listening, communication skills, principled negotiation, facilitation, and peacekeeping skills. This skill-based course will explore how these variables and behavioral attributes have, and can, influence global conflicts through escalation and de-escalation. Upon completion of this course and attendance in class for at least 40 hours, as designated by Texas State Statute, graduate and undergraduate students will be able to mediate globally with their basic mediation certificate.

POSC 4381: International Security in East Asia

This course will provide a broader understanding of security and geopolitics in East Asia. With the rise of China and the nuclear threat from North Korea, the security dynamics within and beyond East Asian states is of critical importance to both the United States and the world. To better comprehend such complex security dynamics in East Asia, this course will review the historical progress of diplomatic and security related interactions between East Asian countries, and their relations with the United States as well. After a profound understanding of the history is acquired, this course will guide students to analyze the current events and potential changes in this region and derive policy implications and strategic proposals for the East Asian countries and the United States.

Communication

The Communication Program at the University of St. Thomas prepares students to become creative, thoughtful, and ethical communicators in a world shaped by media and technology - and called to shape culture in return.

Rooted in the Catholic intellectual tradition, the program views communication not simply as a skill but as a vocation: a calling to seek truth, build understanding, and contribute to the common good.

Students explore how words, images, stories, and digital media shape relationships, communal practices, and cultural imagination. Through a blend of theory and practice, students learn to think critically about media while gaining hands-on experience creating it - developing the ability to communicate with clarity, integrity, imagination, and purpose.

Our program integrates a strong Liberal Arts foundation with experiential learning in storytelling, media production, digital communication, and cultural analysis. Students don't just learn how to use media - they learn how to understand it, evaluate it, and shape it responsibly.

Graduates leave prepared for careers in various communication fields: media, marketing, education, nonprofit work, ministry, public service, and creative industries - or for advanced study. They are equipped not only to succeed professionally, but to contribute to the renewal of culture through truthful, beautiful, and meaningful communication.

COMM 1331: Oral Communication

Study of the fundamental principles and practices of oral communication and rhetorical strategies through the development of public speaking, interpersonal engagement, and message design skills. Designed to give students an understanding of their own speaking and listening abilities and an opportunity to develop these abilities to make them more effective in various communication situations.

Description

In this course, students examine and critically evaluate the nature of communication, information dissemination, and media content on the internet. Questions pertaining to truth, ethics, and cultural value are explored in relation to the emergent technological, rhetorical, economic, and social dimensions of the digital media environment.

Rationale

In an era of AI generated content, algorithmic news feeds, deepfakes, and viral misinformation, foundational media-literacy education must be viewed as foundational for all students, especially for those studying Communication. COMM 1360 is our attempt to provide the tools necessary to allow students to begin analyzing the digital media landscape they traverse critically.

Relationship to Existing Programs

In an era of AI generated content, algorithmic news feeds, deepfakes, and viral misinformation, foundational media-literacy education must be viewed as foundational for all students, especially for those studying Communication. COMM 1360 is our attempt to provide the tools necessary to allow students to begin analyzing the digital media landscape they traverse critically.

Student Outcomes

1. Understand the various motivations and rhetorical effects behind the generation of digital media content such as advertisements, news, streaming video, and social media posts.
2. Produce digital content that embodies a creative and critical engagement with online genres of communication.
3. Evaluate emergent modes and genres of communication in the digital world in terms of their ethical impact on the human person.

Projected Enrollment
As a foundational Communication course for Majors and Minors, we project that this course will regularly have 20-30 students enrolled.
Staff and Expenses
Current Comm faculty, particularly Dr. Adam Pugen, will cover this course.
Additional expenses in equipment, teaching resources, etc.

COMM 2310: Communication and the Liberal Arts

This course examines the relationship between communication media and the classical tradition of the liberal arts. The different ways in which oral and written communication, auditory and visual forms of media, shape the epistemic organization of human culture and values are studied in their mutually constitutive relation to the philosophical, aesthetic, and theological foundations of liberal arts instruction in western society.

COMM 2360: Digital Storytelling

This introductory production course builds on students' everyday experience with digital media to teach the art and craft of storytelling. Students explore narrative structure and audience engagement while creating short-form content using readily accessible tools such as smartphones, apps, software, and social platforms. Through developing and producing projects in video, podcast, and interactive formats, students transform personal insights and cultural observations into compelling digital stories.

Description
This introductory production course builds on students' everyday experience with digital media to teach the art and craft of storytelling. Students explore narrative structure and audience engagement while creating short-form content using readily accessible tools such as smartphones, free editing apps, and social platforms. Through developing and producing projects in video, podcast, and interactive formats, students transform personal insights and cultural observations into compelling digital stories.
Rationale
Students now arrive on campus as creators of various types of media content, yet most lack training in deliberate narrative crafting. COMM 2360 meets them where they are – using the tools readily available – while elevating their everyday practice into disciplined, audience-centered storytelling across multiple formats.
Relationship to Existing Programs
While the department already offers advanced production sequences (COMM 3363/3364 Digital Media, COMM 4360 Digital Media Practicum), there is no lower-division course that teaches storytelling fundamentals using tools students already own (smartphones and free apps).
Contribution to UST Curriculum
Available to all students as a liberal arts elective.
Student Outcomes

1. Examine and apply narrative structure to plan, produce, and distribute short-form digital narratives, such as videos, podcasts, or social reels, using widely available tools.
2. Reflect on the ethical dimensions of digital storytelling, including authenticity, representation, and impact on viewers.

Projected Enrollment
As a required course for majors, as well as a course providing skills and training in foundational digital media, we foresee 20-25 students enrolled in this course when offered.
Staff and Expenses
Current Communication faculty, particularly Prof. Marek Dojs, would cover this course.
Additional expenses in equipment, teaching resources, etc.
Some new equipment would be needed, but this would be supplemental to tools students already possess, such as smartphone microphones, gimbals, and cables.

COMM 3334: Courageous Communication - Seeking & Proclaiming Truth

This course equips students to communicate with intellectual courage and moral clarity in contested public spaces, including the modern digital media landscape. Grounded in Catholic Social Teaching, students study acts of communication that utilize media to defend human dignity and foster communion. Through historical analysis, virtue development, and real-world engagement, learners develop skills in civil discourse, multimedia persuasion, and dialogue to promote unity.

Description

This course equips students to communicate with intellectual courage and moral clarity in contested public spaces, including the modern digital media landscape. Grounded in Catholic Social Teaching, students study acts of communication that utilize media to defend human dignity and foster communion. Through historical analysis, virtue development, and real-world engagement, learners develop skills in civil discourse, multimedia persuasion, and dialogue to promote unity.

Rationale

This course fills a unique niche not currently met by existing rhetoric, ethics, or media-studies offerings. It challenges students to move beyond technical skill into virtue-informed practice, preparing them to authentically seek and proclaim truth clearly and charitably. The prerequisite of COMM 2310 ensures students bring a foundational liberal-arts perspective to these deeper ethical and theological conversations.

Relationship to Existing Programs

COMM 3334 will be an upper-division rhetoric and ethics course that explicitly integrates Catholic Social Teaching and the university's mission with the practice of public communication in contested digital and cultural spaces. Additionally, while there are existing 3000- and 4000-level rhetoric offerings (e.g., COMM 2332 Persuasion and Argumentation, COMM 3370 Rhetorical Dimensions of the Media) the focus primarily in these courses is on classical and contemporary secular theories of persuasion. COMM 3334 provides a clear moral formation, virtue development, or the theological foundations of communication treated as the central organizing principle of the course.

Contribution to UST Curriculum

Will be available as a liberal arts elective for all students having completed COMM 2310 - Communication & the Liberal Arts.

Student Outcomes

1. Analyse historical and contemporary acts of courageous communication through cultural, ethical, and theological lenses.
2. Apply Catholic Social Teaching to evaluate the ethical responsibilities of communicators in forming culture and connecting with diverse audiences.
3. Create messages – spoken, written, and digital – that proclaim truth with clarity, integrity, and cultural sensitivity that builds understanding and promotes common good.

Projected Enrollment

Since the course will be required for the major, it is expected that enrollment will likely be between 10-15 during the first few times it is offered.

Staff and Expenses

Current faculty, particularly Prof Marek Dojs, will be able to cover this course.

Description

Course description needs updating in context of new COMM curriculum and course offerings: This course looks at how films of the 20th and 21st centuries have been a mirror to society. By viewing a selection of films from various decades, students will accumulate a portfolio of social/cultural issues set against the backdrop of modern and contemporary society. Students will study each film for its aesthetic values and they will analyze the film for its social themes.

Rationale

The restriction of course content to American cinema has been eliminated, opening the course up to broader social themes in contemporary society. The prerequisite of COMM2351 has been eliminated, as that course is not currently being taught and will not be necessary for coursework in COMM 3354.

Student Outcomes

- Students will gain knowledge of culturally and aesthetically significant films from American and foreign cinema
- Students will be able to analyze these films in terms of their formal properties and their reflection of significant phenomena and transformations in modern and contemporary society

Description

Introduces students to the high-stakes world of sports media while exploring sport as one of today's most powerful cultural forces. Through hands-on projects covering real teams and current events, students develop professional skills in sports-media production and strategic communication. Topics include human stories of triumph and struggle, embodiment and identity, athletes as moral voices, fandom's search for belonging, and sport's power to unite communities.

Rationale

1. Sport is a major arena where contemporary culture negotiates human dignity, community, and the relationship between body and spirit – core concerns of the University of St. Thomas and the Catholic intellectual tradition central to the core curriculum
2. This course would be very attractive to both Communication majors and non-majors alike, increasing enrollment in the course and possibly recruiting new majors or minors.

Relationship to Existing Programs

Sports Communication will build upon courses within the Communication program

Student Outcomes

1. Create professional-quality sports-media content that demonstrates technical skill, creativity, and ethical awareness.
2. Analyze sport as a cultural force, examining how media shapes human stories, embodiment and identity, moral discourse, fandom, and community-building.

3. Apply ethical and strategic communication principles to real-world sports contexts in ways that foster truth-telling, empathy, and the common good.

Staff and Expenses
Initially, this course would be covered by adjuncts.

COMM 4354: Documentary Production

This course provides an intensive, hands-on experience in documentary media production, including logistics, research, planning, project-management, and delivery/exhibition. Working in teams, students conceptualize, develop, and implement a documentary film, video, or digital media project over the course of the semester. All students will receive training in core aspects of the documentary production process, but the course will culminate in a team project with students filling specific crew roles based on prior coursework and individual experience – research, producing, directing, cinematography, production sound, and editing.

Description

Revised Course Description: This course provides students the opportunity to apply a Catholic liberal arts perspective to contemporary media and communication through the collaborative creation of digital projects in formats which may include one or more of the following: podcast, video, blog/newsletter, website, social media account, graphic design, and gaming.

Rationale

This course fills a gap in the current Communication department curriculum by linking the University's Catholic liberal arts identity to the student creation of digital content that directly engages with the most recent trends and challenges affecting human identity and belonging in digital culture.

Student Outcomes

- Students will apply a Catholic liberal arts perspective to the creation of digital media products
- Students will gain project-based experience in the area of digital media
- Students will experiment with and refine their ability to employ effective rhetorical strategies to the creation of digital content
- Students will practice ethical engagement with audiences through the publication of digital content

COMM 4380: Propaganda & Mass Communication

The class gives students a deep understanding of what propaganda is, how it differs from persuasion and what role it has in societies, both past and present. Students gain insights of the historical and social contexts in which various types of propaganda have occurred from a mass communication and media filtered perspective. Students also analyze and research various topic-specific case studies in propaganda, both past and current. Emphasis is also placed on the role of film and documentary making in various propaganda campaigns.

History

Department Chair: Dr. Thomas C. Behr, behrt@stthom.edu

As part of the liberal arts mission of the university, the history major guides us to understand the bearing of the past on the present and to appreciate the historical character of human inquiry in exploring the principal philosophical, religious, political, literary, and aesthetic traditions of Western and world culture.

HIST 3123: Unborn Child in Western Tradition

This course explores the history of ideas, attitudes, and practices regarding the unborn child in the Western tradition, with a special focus on the Christian tradition and on America as both an articulation of and a departure from that tradition. After outlining pagan, Jewish, and Christian views of unborn life in the ancient and medieval periods, the course moves to a discussion of the “new embryology” of early modernity and its unfolding in American life and thought from colonial times to the present. Because understandings of unborn life have been so often shaped by the broader social circumstances under which such life has come to be, the course also examines issues of fertility and family formation, women’s identity as mothers, the experience of abortion, and the roles of law and medicine. Catholic teaching forms a normative template throughout the course.

Description

This course explores the history of ideas, attitudes, and practices regarding the unborn child in the Western tradition, with a special focus on the Christian tradition and on America as both an articulation of and a departure from that tradition. After outlining pagan, Jewish, and Christian views of unborn life in the ancient and medieval periods, the course moves to a discussion of the “new embryology” of early modernity and its unfolding in American life and thought from colonial times to the present. Because understandings of unborn life have been so often shaped by the broader social circumstances under which such life has come to be, the course also examines issues of fertility and family formation, women’s identity as mothers, the experience of abortion, and the roles of law and medicine. Catholic teaching forms a normative template throughout the course.

Rationale

This course addresses historically a question of fundamental importance to the understanding of the human person: what is the nature of the embryonic-fetal stage of human life? Its historical approach helps illuminate how changing subjective understandings and varying postures toward the unborn have persisted alongside authentic advances in understanding, particularly in the areas of ethics, law, and medicine. In addition to the intrinsic value of its topic, the course provides a case study in the interaction of Catholic belief and culture.

Relationship to Existing Programs

This course complements well existing history courses on the History of the Family and Medicine and Society. It addresses the position of the unborn in ideals of family formation and the important role that physicians played in articulating a modern understanding of unborn life. The course will also complement courses in bioethics, faith and culture, political science, and the social sciences.

This is a 5-week class. Coursework includes reading assignments, quizzes, journal entries, a research essay, and a final exam. Including class sessions, coursework takes an estimated 9 hours per week.

Contribution to UST Curriculum

This course's discussion of theories of ensoulment in the Western tradition follow upon discussions of the Human Person in the Core Curriculum. The course presupposes the broad sweep of Western history offered in Western Culture and Ideas and makes use of that course's periodizations (ancient, medieval, etc.).

Student Outcomes

1. Identify and articulate the relevance of core Catholic teachings to the question of the status of the unborn child;
2. Apply Catholic principles to analyze and solve problems of understanding of the history of the unborn child;
3. Describe and distinguish ancient and medieval understandings of unborn life (pagan, Jewish, and Christian)
4. Explain medical and scientific developments in embryology in early modernity and modernity, and their interaction with legal and theological understanding of the unborn.

Description

This course provides an in-depth exploration of the historical development of sacred music from its origins in early Christian worship to contemporary expressions of faith through music. Students will engage with significant composers, works, and styles across various Christian traditions, including Gregorian chant, medieval polyphony, Renaissance choral works, Baroque sacred music, and modern compositions. The course emphasizes the theological, liturgical, and cultural contexts that shaped sacred music, offering insights into the role of music in religious life and its continuing relevance in contemporary worship practices.

Rationale

This course is foundational, providing essential historical and theoretical knowledge that informs both performance and composition. Understanding the evolution of sacred music, its theological underpinnings, and its liturgical function is crucial for musicians who seek to create or perform music that is both artistically and spiritually meaningful. This course supports the development of well-rounded sacred music practitioners who can engage with sacred traditions while contributing to their ongoing vitality in contemporary contexts.

Relationship to Existing Programs

This course relates to UST's major in Sacred Music and other History courses in the History Department, such Music Since 1945 and Opera and Ideas.

The course requires extensive reading in the history sacred music, listening assignments, papal documents on sacred music, discussions, quizzes, a midterm and a significant project in sacred music history. Students will need to spend at least 6 hours per week outside of the course's three-hour meetings per week to prepare for the course's assignments.

This course relates to UST's major in Sacred Music and other History coures in the History Departement, such Music Since 1945 and Oepra and Ideas.

Contribution to UST Curriculum

This course expands the options of history courses.

Student Outcomes

- Historical Knowledge: Students will be able to identify key periods, styles, and figures in the history of sacred music and describe their contributions to the development of musical forms and religious practice.
- Theological and Liturgical Contexts: Students will analyze the relationship between sacred music and its theological and liturgical contexts, understanding how music serves as both a reflection of and a vehicle for worship and theological expression.
- Critical Listening and Interpretation: Students will develop critical listening skills, allowing them to interpret sacred musical works with an understanding of their historical, cultural, and theological significance

HIST 3322: The Inklings

This course explores the literary works and intellectual legacy of the Inklings, an informal group of writers and scholars who met in Oxford from the 1930s to the 1950s. We will focus on the core members—J.R.R. Tolkien, C.S. Lewis, Charles Williams, and Owen Barfield—while also examining the broader circle of associated figures. The course emphasizes how the Inklings' friendships, discussions, and mutual critiques influenced their individual and collective literary output. By emphasizing both individual achievements and collaborative influences, students will gain insight into the power of literary fellowship and its influence and impact on members' individual works.

By emphasizing both individual achievements and collaborative influences, students will gain insight into the power of literary fellowship and its influence and impact on members' individual works.

Rationale

The course examines how informal networks of thinkers can profoundly influence culture and ideas. This approach complements our existing courses on formal institutions and movements, offering students insight into the role of personal relationships and discussions in shaping intellectual history.

Relationship to Existing Programs

While the specific focus on a literary group is somewhat unique, the course's approach and objectives align well with the goals and methods of UST's history department. It offers a specialized topic that complements broader survey courses and allows for in-depth exploration of a specific historical moment and movement.

Contribution to UST Curriculum

The course "HIST 3322 - The Inklings: Fellowship and Literary Creation" contributes great value to the undergraduate curriculum of the University of St. Thomas in Houston, TX by aligning with the institution's liberal arts focus and Catholic identity. It offers an interdisciplinary study that combines literature, history, philosophy, and theology, reflecting the university's commitment to interconnected knowledge.

Student Outcomes

HIST 3322 is a 15-week class. Students have substantial weekly reading assignments and discussion boards. Students prepare two essays, take a midterm and final exam, and weekly quizzes Engaging content and completing assignments require at a minimum 9 hours of work each week.

By the conclusion of HIST 3322 – The Inklings: Fellowship and Literary Creation students will achieve the following outcomes 1

1. Analyze and evaluate the literary works of key Inklings members, demonstrating an understanding of their themes, styles, and contributions to 20th-century literature.
2. Examine and articulate the influence of friendship, intellectual discourse, and shared faith on the creative processes and literary output of the Inklings.
3. Apply critical thinking skills to compare and contrast the works of different Inklings members, identifying common themes and unique characteristics in their writings.
4. Conduct independent research on Inklings-related topics, synthesizing material from various sources to produce well-argued academic papers

HIST 3323: Unborn Child in Western Tradition

This course explores the history of ideas, attitudes, and practices regarding the unborn child in the Western tradition, with a special focus on the Christian tradition and on America as both an articulation of and a departure from that tradition. After outlining pagan, Jewish, and Christian views of unborn life in the ancient and medieval periods, the course moves to a discussion of the “new embryology” of early modernity and its unfolding in American life and thought from colonial times to the present. Because understandings of unborn life have been so often shaped by the broader social circumstances under which such life has come to be, the course also examines issues of fertility and family formation, women’s identity as mothers, the experience of abortion, and the roles of law and medicine. Catholic teaching forms a normative template throughout the course.

Description

This course examines the history of crime and punishment in America from colonial times to the dawn of the twenty-first century. It addresses changing theories of crime and punishment and their varying applications, including corporal punishment, the rise of the penitentiary, and the attempted reforms of the late-nineteenth and twentieth centuries. The course also examines changing definitions and categorization of crime in areas such as sexual conduct, economic activity, race, and religion.

Rationale

This course offers the historical backdrop for questions of social justice and the common good that vex Americans and do not admit of easy answers. It addresses topics of intrinsic human interest and does so in the relatively dispassionate context of the study of long-term historical change. The course will be appealing to history, political science, and criminology majors, particularly.

Relationship to Existing Programs

The course complements UST's criminology, law, and society program, which offers related courses in criminal law, police, and court systems. The course also supports the psychology and political science programs through connections to courses such as behavioral psychology, social psychology, the history of the common law, and public policy analysis.

The course complements the history program's offerings in U.S. history (surveys), the history of ideas in America, and the Enlightenment. It also complements courses in other programs (see below).

Contribution to UST Curriculum

The course directly serves the goal of the Core Curriculum to educate students for participation in civic life. It complements particularly the courses in ethics, politics, and the philosophy and nature of the human person.

Student Outcomes

At the conclusion of this course, students will be able to:

1. Describe theories of crime and punishment prevalent at different stages in American history;
2. Describe and explain the shift from corporal punishment to imprisonment;
3. Discuss the rise of modern police and modern criminal trials;
4. Explain how changing definitions of criminality have reflected and influenced American mores and behavior;
5. Describe the interaction of social classes with the criminal law.

Description

Exploring Human Perspectives: Introduction to Qualitative Research" introduces students to qualitative research methods, focusing on understanding human perspectives through interviews, ethnographies, case studies, and content analysis. Students will develop skills in designing, conducting, and analyzing qualitative research, with emphasis on ethical considerations and actuall-world applications.

Rationale

There is an increasing demand for qualitative research skills across various fields, including the social sciences, education, and healthcare. This course will equip students with the essential tools to analyze human behavior and social phenomena, aligning with the university’s mission to provide well-rounded academic training.

Relationship to Existing Programs

This course complements existing research methods courses in sociology, anthropology, and psychology, offering a qualitative focus that balances quantitative approaches in the curriculum. Moreover, it is consistent with UST's commitment to a realist metaphysics, a feature that make this course unique among similar courses at other universities and colleges

Contribution to UST Curriculum

Serves as a required or elective course for undergraduate social science majors and may support other interdisciplinary programs that require research methodology courses.

Expands the UST's curricular offerings, covering knowledge and skills not currently being provided in UST's curriculum

Student Outcomes

At the end of this course, students will have: - developed a strong understanding of qualitative research methodologies. - gained experience in conducting interviews, ethnographic research, and case studies. -applied ethical research practices in the collection and analysis of qualitative data. -critically evaluate qualitative research literature and findings. -created a research project using qualitative methods, culminating in a written report or presentation.

HIST 4317: St. Francis of Assisi. The Light of the Middle Ages

This course centers on the life, writings, and legacy of St. Francis of Assisi, presenting him as both a product of the extraordinary vitality of the medieval world and a decisive agent of cultural, spiritual, and social transformation. Through close reading of Francis's own writings and early biographical sources, students will examine his radical understanding of poverty—not merely as material deprivation. Francis's vision of fraternity, community, creation as a sign of the Creator, and evangelical life will be analyzed as responses to the profound changes reshaping medieval society. From this foundation, the course expands outward to explore the Middle Ages as a period of remarkable splendor, creativity, and innovation in theology, politics, art, and economic life. Rejecting the notion of the medieval world as static or obscure, the course presents it as a civilization in motion, shaped by demographic growth, urbanization, the birth of city-republics in northern Italy, new economic structures, and evolving forms of political organization. Particular attention is given to the social tensions generated by these transformations, including the emergence of new forms of poverty, inequality, and violence. The course examines the challenges faced by the medieval Church, including the spread of heretical movements such as Catharism, the failures and transformations of crusading ideology, and the institutional responses culminating in the Fourth Lateran Council (1215). Within this context, students will study how the Franciscan and Dominican movements, through distinct charisms, played a crucial role in renewing Christian life, re-engaging urban populations, and reshaping theology, pastoral practice, art, and economic thought. Offered during the 800th anniversary of the death of St. Francis, the course invites students at the University of St. Thomas to encounter the Middle Ages through one of its most luminous figures and to understand why Francis continues to illuminate Western culture.

Description
Course Description

This course centers on the life, writings, and legacy of St. Francis of Assisi, presenting him as both a product of the extraordinary vitality of the medieval world and a decisive agent of cultural, spiritual, and social transformation. Through close reading of Francis's own writings and early biographical sources, students will examine his radical understanding of poverty—not merely as material deprivation. Francis's vision of fraternity, community, creation as a sign of the Creator, and evangelical life will be analyzed as responses to the profound changes reshaping medieval society.

From this foundation, the course expands outward to explore the Middle Ages as a period of remarkable splendor, creativity, and innovation in theology, politics, art, and economic life. Rejecting the notion of the medieval world as static or obscure, the course presents it as a civilization in motion, shaped by demographic growth, urbanization, the birth of city-republics in northern Italy, new economic structures, and evolving forms of political organization. Particular attention is given to the social tensions generated by these transformations, including the emergence of new forms of poverty, inequality, and violence.

The course examines the challenges faced by the medieval Church, including the spread of heretical movements such as Catharism, the failures and transformations of crusading ideology, and the institutional responses culminating in the Fourth Lateran Council (1215). Within this context, students will study how the Franciscan and Dominican movements, through distinct charisms, played a crucial role in renewing Christian life, re-engaging urban populations, and reshaping theology, pastoral practice, art, and economic thought. Offered during the 800th anniversary of the death of St. Francis, the course invites students at the University of St. Thomas to encounter the Middle Ages through one of its most luminous figures and to understand why Francis continues to illuminate Western culture.

Rationale

This course is offered as part of the University of St. Thomas's participation in the international commemoration of the 800th anniversary of the death of St. Francis of Assisi (1226–2026). The anniversary provides a unique opportunity to reflect not only on the life and witness of one of the most influential figures in Christian history, but also on the medieval world that shaped him and was, in turn, profoundly reshaped by his presence.

By situating St. Francis within the social, religious, economic, and cultural transformations of the thirteenth century, the course invites students to engage the Middle Ages as a living and dynamic civilization rather than a distant or obscure past. In keeping with the mission of the University of St. Thomas as a Catholic institution committed to intellectual tradition and moral inquiry, the course encourages students to consider how Francis's vision of poverty, fraternity, peace, and care for creation continues to speak to contemporary questions of justice, community, and spiritual meaning.

Relationship to Existing Programs

This course complements and strengthens the History Department's offerings in medieval, religious, and cultural history by providing an interdisciplinary examination of the Middle Ages through the lens of a single, historically transformative figure. It aligns with existing courses on medieval Europe, Church history, and the history of ideas while offering a distinctive focus on the interaction between social change, theology, art, and economic structures. The course also supports interdisciplinary collaboration with Theology, Philosophy, Art History, and Economics, enriching students' understanding of medieval civilization as a unified yet complex historical phenomenon.

Contribution to UST Curriculum

This course contributes to the University of St. Thomas curriculum by advancing its mission to integrate faith and reason, historical inquiry, and ethical reflection. It encourages students to engage critically with primary sources, visual culture, and scholarly interpretation while reflecting on enduring questions of wealth, poverty, community, creation, and human dignity. Offered during a campus-wide commemoration of the 800th anniversary of St. Francis's death, the course serves as a cornerstone for interdisciplinary dialogue and communal reflection, fostering a deeper appreciation of the Catholic intellectual tradition and its relevance to contemporary cultural and moral challenges.

Student Outcomes

1. To understand the life and writings of St. Francis of Assisi within the historical context of the High Middle Ages.
2. To examine the Middle Ages as a period of intellectual, theological, artistic, political, and economic innovation.
3. To analyze the impact of Franciscan thought on medieval theology, urban society, political imagination, artistic production, and economic life.
4. To distinguish historical realities from later legends and idealized portrayals of St. Francis.
5. To engage critically with primary sources and secondary scholarship related to St. Francis and medieval culture.

HIST 4318: The Medici: Masters of the Renaissance

The Medici family has long fascinated historians and the public alike—a dynasty of brilliant bankers, ambitious rulers, dazzling patrons of the arts, and powerful women who shaped politics and culture behind the scenes. They were celebrated and feared, admired and envied, remembered both as visionaries and schemers. This course explores the rise and decline of the Medici family, tracing their extraordinary role in shaping the cultural, political, and economic life of Florence and Europe from the late Middle Ages to the dawn of the modern era. We will investigate their contributions to art, philosophy, literature, banking, and politics, their influence on the Renaissance, and their pivotal role in the religious and political upheavals of the Reformation, while distinguishing between the myths that surround them and the historical realities. By engaging with primary texts, major works of art, and the scholarship of leading historians, students will gain a deeper understanding of the Medici legacy as both patrons and power-brokers. We will ask: How did a family of bankers come to dominate Florence? How did they influence the Renaissance and open paths to modern thought and reform? And what explains their eventual decline?

Description
The Medici family has long fascinated historians and the public alike—a dynasty of brilliant bankers, ambitious rulers, dazzling patrons of the arts, and powerful women who shaped politics and culture behind the scenes. They were celebrated and feared, admired and envied, remembered both as visionaries and schemers.

This course explores the rise and decline of the Medici family, tracing their extraordinary role in shaping the cultural, political, and economic life of Florence and Europe from the late Middle Ages to the dawn of the modern era. We will investigate their contributions to art, philosophy, literature, banking, and politics, their influence on the Renaissance, and their pivotal role in the religious and political upheavals of the Reformation, while distinguishing between the myths that surround them and the historical realities.

By engaging with primary texts, major works of art, and the scholarship of leading historians, students will gain a deeper understanding of the Medici legacy as both patrons and power-brokers. We will ask: How did a family of bankers come to dominate Florence? How did they influence the Renaissance and open paths to modern thought and reform? And what explains their eventual decline?

Rationale

The Medici family stands at the intersection of art, politics, religion, and economics, making their story a uniquely rich lens through which to study the transformation of Europe from the medieval to the modern world. Their patronage of artists, philosophers, and theologians helped shape the cultural flowering of the Renaissance, while their financial and political power positioned them at the center of some of Europe's most significant religious and political upheavals, including the Reformation.

This course is justified within the curriculum because it provides students with both depth and breadth: depth through focused study of one of history's most influential families, and breadth through its interdisciplinary exploration of art, literature, philosophy, banking, and theology. Students will learn not only the historical details of the Medici dynasty but also how to interpret primary and secondary sources critically, develop arguments, and situate cultural achievements within their political and religious contexts.

By studying the Medici, students also gain insight into the larger question of how individual families and leaders shape history, how culture and power interact, and how the liberal arts contribute to human flourishing and societal change. The rationale for this course rests in its ability to illuminate a pivotal period in European history while cultivating the intellectual skills and ethical reflection that remain essential to the liberal arts tradition.

Relationship to Existing Programs

This course is designed for all students of history, students seeking an engaging upper-level elective, and students interested in art, politics, literature, philosophy, or theology within the context of the Renaissance. While particularly suited for majors in History, International Studies, Catholic Studies, Philosophy, Art History, and Political Science, it is open to students from across the disciplines who wish to enrich their understanding of how faith, culture, and power shaped the transition from the medieval to the modern world.

The purpose of the course is to provide students with a deeper knowledge of the Medici family's role in fostering the Renaissance and influencing the political, cultural, and religious life of Europe. By analyzing primary sources, works of art, and historical scholarship, students will learn to distinguish between myth and reality in the Medici story, while also engaging with broader themes of humanism, reform, and the Catholic intellectual tradition. The course is intended not only to expand historical knowledge, but also to cultivate critical reflection on enduring questions of leadership, justice, creativity, and the relationship between faith and culture.

Contribution to UST Curriculum

Contribution to the Catholic Mission

This course will contribute to the Catholic mission of the university by:

- Engaging the liberal arts tradition: Through history, philosophy, literature, art, and theology, students will encounter the Medici within the broader framework of the liberal arts. This interdisciplinary approach reflects the Catholic vision of education, which seeks not only technical knowledge but also wisdom rooted in an integrated understanding of the human experience.
- Exploring faith and culture together: The Medici family's patronage of artists, philosophers, and theologians shaped the Christian imagination of their time. By studying their role in sponsoring religious thinkers, commissioning works for churches, and interacting with the papacy, students will see how faith and culture mutually enrich one another.
- Tracing a pivotal cultural shift: The Renaissance under Medici influence marked a decisive transition from the medieval worldview—centered on unity with God and an ordered cosmos—toward a modern mentality that emphasized human autonomy, individual creativity, and worldly achievement. Students will examine how this shift both enriched culture and introduced tensions still felt in the modern era.

- Studying the Reformation: The course will also address how the cultural, political, and religious forces surrounding the Medici intersected with the Protestant Reformation. Students will consider the Medici popes' responses to reform, the challenges posed to Catholic unity, and how these events prepared the way for the Catholic Counter-Reformation.
- Fostering ethical reflection: The story of the Medici—bankers, patrons, and rulers—invites students to reflect critically on Catholic social teaching themes such as wealth, justice, leadership, and the common good.
- Highlighting the dignity of the human person: Renaissance art and humanist thought, often fostered by Medici patronage, underscored the creativity and responsibility of the human being. This resonates with the Catholic understanding of the person as made in the image of God, called to pursue truth, goodness, and beauty.

In these ways, the course strengthens the Catholic mission of the university by grounding students in the liberal arts, deepening their appreciation of the Catholic intellectual tradition, and enabling them to engage critically with the historical forces that shaped both modernity and the enduring questions of faith.

Student Outcomes

By the end of this course, students will:

1. Gain knowledge of the Medici family and Renaissance history as a watershed moment in European civilization.
2. Acquire understanding of the Reformation and its role in shaping the modern era.
3. Learn to analyze critically both primary and secondary sources.
4. Develop skills in written assessment to advance and defend arguments with evidence.
5. Understand the role of the liberal arts in shaping European culture and leadership.

Projected Enrollment

This course is expected to enroll 15–25 students per semester, drawing a mix of history majors, students seeking upper-level electives, and students from interdisciplinary programs such as Art History, Studio Art, Philosophy, Political Science, Psychology, International Studies, Theology, and Catholic Studies. Enrollment may fluctuate depending on students' schedules and interest in Renaissance and early modern European history.

The Department of Political Science, International Studies, and Modern Languages

Department Chair: Dr. Yao-Yuan Yeh yehy@stthom.edu

The Department of Political Science, International Studies, and Modern Languages at the University of St. Thomas prepares students to understand the political institutions, public policies, international forces, and cultural differences that shape our increasingly interconnected world. Bringing together political science, public policy and administration, international studies, diplomacy, global affairs, and modern languages, the department provides an interdisciplinary education for students seeking to become informed citizens, ethical leaders, and globally engaged professionals.

GCSE 1351: Introduction to Enterprise Cybersecurity

This course will take an enterprise level holistic perspective of cybersecurity. The purpose is to explore the emerging threat landscape and the means through which organizations both private and public develop and employ various cybersecurity policies, procedures, and tactics in response. It will evaluate the various cybersecurity tools, structures, and protocols that serve as best practices within industry, by governments, and international organizations.

GCSE 4302: Cyber Ethics and the State

The course will examine the impact on human society of the rapid evolution of digital surveillance tools, artificial intelligence, internet of things, and the increase of computing power. It asks the question of whether technology should drive the course of human progress or will society engage in a value laden conversation about role of human agency in that process. Further, we will bring the question of ethics into an environment that seems to operate under its own imperative. As we are told that at some point computers and smart machines empowered through artificial intelligence will achieve self-awareness. We will look at the institutions necessary for establishing the foundations of an open dialog to determine the appropriate role for these technologies in society. The course will engage students in a debate as to whether or not we can build a technological future based on an ethical framework and if so, how we are to go about it.

GCSE 4303: Geopolitical and Country Risk Analysis

A risk management perspective that looks at the socio-political factors that pose risks to foreign policy investments and/or business operations in foreign countries. Factors considered such as, political stability, corruption, taxation, regulatory and legal structures, regional conflicts, local economy, internal strife, and the potential for natural disaster. This analysis emphasizes not only the risk factors, but the internal decision making matrix of the political system within the target country and the impact of such decisions on the investment climate and business operations.

INST 4359: Latin America Cultures: Diversity, Paradoxes and Transformation

This course examines how the interplay of cultures affects our daily lives and how values and beliefs can shape cultural regions. While the course will cover broad theory, particular focus will be on Latin America. The key question is: who is the Latin American? This course will review and deconstruct the paradigm of Latin American character and how it impacts and is impacted by the church, work relations, family, race and gender. The influences of particular historical, geographic and socio–economic forces in Latin American build an image of a coherent cultural region. This is an image, however, full of intra–regional diversity. To what extent then does the cultural ideal type accommodate this diversity? Mexico, Brazil and Argentina will be examined for answers to these questions. Prerequisite: 60+credit hours

Description
To fully understand the geopolitical environment, we have a course that examines the development and operations of the vast number of international institutions from the UN and UN-affiliated organizations, think tanks, and non-state civil society institutions that play an increasingly important role in geopolitics. Students will survey the roles these organizations play in U.S. foreign policy formulation and execution. This will enable them to gain an understanding of the complex interplay of such institutions that have a daily impact on our lives and the world we live in.

Rationale
This course provides additional and essential training for the newly proposed major, BA in Diplomacy. It helps students to gain a deeper understanding of international institutions.

Relationship to Existing Programs
This course supports the newly proposed BA in Diplomacy degree program. It will also serve as an elective for the International Studies, International Development, BA-MA in MDSA, and MA in MDSA programs.

Contribution to UST Curriculum
This course helps expand the scope of the core curriculum in the field of social and behavioral sciences.

Student Outcomes
By the end of this course, students can expect to learn how to:

1. Define, understand, and use concepts and terms relevant to the study of international institutions.
2. Apply a body of factual knowledge directly relevant to understanding various cultural and political phenomena in international institutions.
3. Analyze empirical evidence relevant to evaluating different points of view on historical and contemporary international issues in international institutions.
4. Understand theories in international institutions and be able to apply them to a broader context.
5. Gain a deeper understanding of U.S. diplomacy by learning historical and contemporary international issues in international institutions.

Projected Enrollment
20 students in each academic year.

Staff and Expenses
We will utilize existing full-time faculty members to teach this course. No extra expenses are needed.

Additional expenses in equipment, teaching resources, etc.
None.

The study of global health requires the examination of predominant health issues and current health policy from the local to international perspectives and analysis. The increasingly open flow of resources, including human capital, and the potential of the catastrophic impact of epidemics and pandemics has transformed health from a domestic to a multi–national concern and challenge. Emphasis will be on the international health regime characterized by the institutional rules, norms, and organizations that address global health. Specifically, this course examines and discusses topics in health– and organization–related issues, including a current survey of global health problems, surveillance of diseases and injuries, basic methods for outbreak investigation, international health policies and treaties, and introduction to organizational theories relevant to global health. INST 4376: Contemporary Taiwan

This course is a survey of the contemporary history, politics, economics, and external relations of the Republic of China on Taiwan, known to most of the world as simply Taiwan. While founded on mainland China in 1912, the Republic of China we know today has been shaped largely by events after 1949. On the verge of total defeat near the end of China's civil war, the Nationalist government reestablished itself on the island of Taiwan. Since 1949, Taiwan has transitioned from abject poverty to one of the wealthiest societies in the world; from fascism to liberal democracy; and from near universal diplomatic recognition to nearly complete diplomatic isolation. This course will explore the immense challenges faced by Taiwan's people and government and investigate the manner in which such an imperiled island managed such a fascinating process of change. Highlighted as well is the prominent role played by the United States in guaranteeing the regional security necessary for Taiwan's ascendance. Prerequisite: 60+ credit hours

INST 4377: Government-Business Relations in the Developing World

This course explores the country risks businesses and non-profits face in the developing world, including government instability, the lack of government capacity, insecurity, dysfunctional legal systems, corruption, human rights violations, poverty, poor infrastructure, and a low level of social services, including poor education and health care. We will look at how entities evaluate these risks before entering a country and how they manage these risks once on the ground. We will also discuss the ethical issues encountered in doing business in developing countries. The course will provide a foundation for anyone interested in doing business or otherwise working in developing countries. While the course is organized around specific risks, it will also review the broader issues common to developing countries. Prerequisites: INST 1351 and INST 1352

INST 4378: Seminar in Social Entrepreneurship

This course examines the potential of the private sector to foster human development on local and global scales. We examine what different corporations and small entrepreneurs are doing to make a profit and better our planet. The course also offers perspectives about what enterprises could or should be doing to promote sustainability, and it explores how corporate social responsibility can be a useful tool for business men and women around the world navigate across cultures and classes; make a living' and promote sustainable economic development. The course is also an informal invitation to become social entrepreneurs with real social values at the course of our goals and objectives. The course will foster our own social entrepreneurship principles, based on the idea that the market can be a tool for delivering profit while also generating many other values with real and substantial marginal social benefits.

INST 4379: Cyber Warfare

This course overviews the growth and scope of cyber warfare and its impacts on national power in the domains of government, diplomacy, international law, international commerce/economic power, social media/privacy, science/technology, and civil society. It traces the evolution of conflict from traditional information gathering to the development of cyber weaponry with destructive capabilities and the use of those capabilities to advance national foreign policy interests. Through the use of case studies and selective readings from a variety of sources (government policy directives, cyber security industry studies, and defense related academic papers), the course guides students through the emergent quality of the broadening scope of cyber conflict and the multifaceted response to the challenge. Ultimately, students are confronted with the impact of the ongoing threat as they interface with cyberspace in their day-to-day interactions. The goal is for a deeper understanding of the scope and complexity of the cyber domain and the global conflict that is raging out of view.

INST 4380: Global Conflict Resolution

This course begins with the premise that conflict is a part of everyday life that spans across every inch of the globe and is found in all careers and relationships, so it is designed to be a practical course that provides a comprehensive overview of conflict resolution from a micro (person-to-person) to a global perspective. This course reviews the theoretical components while exploring conflict within different contexts, including intergroup, interpersonal, cross-cultural, legal, and international, by analyzing select global conflicts and learning to identify its primary and secondary participants. This course introduces positive conflict management skills, including active listening, communication skills, principled negotiation, facilitation, and peacekeeping skills. This skill-based course will explore how these variables and behavioral attributes have, and can, influence global conflicts through escalation and de-escalation. Upon completion of this course and attendance in class for at least 40 hours, as designated by Texas State Statute, graduate and undergraduate students will be able to mediate globally with their basic mediation certificate.

INST 4381: International Security in East Asia

This course will provide a broader understanding of security and geopolitics in East Asia. With the rise of China and the nuclear threat from North Korea, the security dynamics within and beyond East Asian states is of critical importance to both the United States and the world. To better comprehend such complex security dynamics in East Asia, this course will review the historical progress of diplomatic and security related interactions between East Asian countries, and their relations with the United States as well. After a profound understanding of the history is acquired, this course will guide students to analyze the current events and potential changes in this region and derive policy implications and strategic proposals for the East Asian countries and the United States.

INST 4382: Taiwan Culture in the Sinophone World

This course guides you through important topics for thoroughly comprehending Taiwan's culture and utilizes it to understand the Sinophone World. To begin, we review the historical development and demographic composition of Taiwan. The second section reviews the four core philosophic/religious doctrines of Taiwan and the Sinophone World: Confucianism, Taoism, Buddhism, and folk religion. The instructor introduces the cultural, religious, and philosophical practices in Taiwan and the Sinophone World, and illustrates how those philosophical doctrines are realized in these practices.

MDSA 4370: Global Health

The study of global health requires the examination of predominant health issues and current health policy from the local to international perspectives and analysis. The increasingly open flow of resources, including human capital, and the potential of the catastrophic impact of epidemics and pandemics has transformed health from a domestic to a multi–national concern and challenge. Emphasis will be on the international health regime characterized by the institutional rules, norms, and organizations that address global health. Specifically, this course examines and discusses topics in health– and organization–related issues, including a current survey of global health problems, surveillance of diseases and injuries, basic methods for outbreak investigation, international health policies and treaties, and introduction to organizational theories relevant to global health.

Psychology

Department Chair: Dr. Crystal D. Tran, trandn1@stthom.edu

Psychologists use the scientific method to study behavior and mental processes. The Psychology Department offers courses that develop students' understanding of human nature and functioning, train students in the methods of scientific psychology, and prepare them to solve important human problems. The department provides:

- A curriculum that integrates scientific, ethical and social justice perspectives on the nature of humans.
- A program of undergraduate study in psychology that emphasizes empirical research methods, focuses on social justice issues, and prepares students for employment and graduate or professional training.

PSYC 2332: Child Psychology

A study of the physical, psychological and social development of the child up to approximately age 13. Motor, perceptual, cognitive, emotional and social functioning are reviewed with emphasis on biological, environmental, and cultural factors. Prerequisite: PSYC 1332.

PSYC 4433: Positive Psychology

Positive psychology is a 4-hour lab course that is designed so that you learn about the research and application of positive psychology principles. As a student in the course, you will learn the academic principles and theories in positive psychology and you will gain practice in applying these principles in your own life. You will not only learn about positive psychology; you will live it. As part of the class, you will learn the brief history of positive psychology, how it differs from traditional psychology, how we conduct research in the field, and different theories and applications related to positive psychology, including forgiveness, gratitude, and finding meaning. In addition, you will have the opportunity to practice flow (yoga-like practice), meditation, and getting out and about in nature. Your course assignments will require reflection and writing about your experiences and reactions to the practices.

Description

Positive psychology is a 4-hour lab course that is designed so that you learn about the research and application of positive psychology principles. As a student in the course, you will learn the academic principles and theories in positive psychology and you will gain practice in applying these principles in your own life. You will not only learn about positive psychology; you will live it. As part of the class, you will learn the brief history of positive psychology, how it differs from traditional psychology, how we conduct research in the field, and different theories and applications related to positive psychology, including forgiveness, gratitude, and finding meaning. In addition, you will have the opportunity to practice flow (yoga-like practice), meditation, and getting out and about in nature. Your course assignments will require reflection and writing about your experiences and reactions to the practices.

Rationale

Positive Psychology has been consistently offered as a Special Topics in Applied Psychology course (PSYC 4439). Positive Psychology is offered at least once an academic year, and as many as three times a year-- it should be a standalone course.

Relationship to Existing Programs

Positive Psychology is offered as one of the psychology laboratory course options for Psychology major degree plans.

Contribution to UST Curriculum
Students completing the B.A. and B.S. in Psychology are required to complete at least 8 credit hours (or two classes) of psychology laboratory courses. Positive Psychology is an additional laboratory course option, and provides varied courses for psychology majors to choose from.
Student Outcomes
1. Identify important constructs in the field of positive psychology
2. Explain how modern positive psychology differs from more traditional psychological perspectives.
3. Apply and describe your experience in applying positive psychology practices in your own life.
4. Design a positive psychological intervention based on content learned in class
Projected Enrollment
24-30/semester
Staff and Expenses
No changes.
Additional expenses in equipment, teaching resources, etc.
There is a $30 lab fee added to this course for supplemental instruction in yoga/flow and meditation.

Accounting

Department Chair: John Leavins, leavinj@sttom.edu

The accounting degree programs offer a broad–based education and promising employment prospects for future business leaders by equipping students with the business and accounting knowledge necessary to obtain professional positions after graduation, providing a sound knowledge base for continuing progress in the accounting profession, and creating an environment within which students and faculty exchange ideas and critically evaluate the profession and its role in society.

The undergraduate accounting curriculum is designed to provide learning and decision–making skills that will be invaluable throughout the graduate's career. Accordingly, the curriculum incorporates both accounting theory and practice. The BBA prepares students to sit for the CPA exam under the current regulations. Students who do not wish to sit for the CPA exam can use the degree in the following careers:

- Corporate
- Nonprofit
- Government accounting

Students interested in public accounting and planning to be certified as a CPA must successfully complete 150 hours of college credit. Our BBA/MBA degree is designed to help students to sit for the exam. The Texas State Board of Accountancy makes the final determination regarding a CPA candidate's courses and other qualifications to sit for the CPA exam. The requirements are listed on their website at www.tsbpa.texas.gov.

ACCT 1301: Intro to Financial and Managerial Accounting

This course provides an introduction to basic accounting for non-accountants. The course will help students to gain familiarity with accounting terminology and principles. The financial accounting section of the course introduces accounting for the external reporting, and the managerial accounting section covers internal decision making. Students will gain a working knowledge of basic financial management tools including cost analysis and behavior, financial ratios, and benchmarking tools.

Description

Students examine financial accounting standards and reporting practices applicable to business combinations, consolidated statements, foreign currency translation, intercorporate investments, and partnerships.

Rationale

Advanced accounting topics are essential for students pursuing careers in public accounting and corporate finance, and are critical for CPA exam preparation. Business complexity demands graduates who understand multi-entity reporting and international accounting standards.

Relationship to Existing Programs

Builds on intermediate accounting coursework by extending financial reporting knowledge to complex multi-entity and international contexts. A core requirement in the undergraduate accounting curriculum.

Contribution to UST Curriculum

Ensures accounting graduates possess the advanced technical competencies expected by employers and required for professional certification, particularly the CPA exam.

Student Outcomes

Learning Objective 1: Apply financial accounting standards to business combinations, consolidated financial statements, and intercorporate investments.

Learning Objective 2: Analyze reporting practices for foreign currency translation and partnership accounting.

ACCT 4340: Data Analytics for Accounting and Finance

This course explores how data analytics transforms the practice of accounting and finance by converting raw financial and accounting datainto meaningful insights that enhance decision-making, improve business processes, and strengthen internal controls. Emphasis is placed on how finance professionals and accountants source, structure, and interpret financial and accounting data to support financial reporting, auditing, managerial decisions, and tax planning. Students will learn to ask the right analytical questions, prepare and validate accounting and financial datasets, and apply structured analytical methods to evaluate results. Through hands-on work, students gain practical skills using Excel, Power Query, Tableau, Alteryx, and UiPath, using examples tailored to accounting and finance problems.

Description

This course explores how data analytics transforms accounting and finance by converting raw financial data into meaningful insights that enhance decision-making, improve business processes, and strengthen internal controls. Students gain hands-on skills using software programs applied to financial reporting, auditing, managerial decisions, and tax planning.

Rationale

There have been major changes regarding the education requirements for the CPA Exam.

Data Analytics will be integrated as a major part of the exam.

This proposed change is designed to better prepare students for the newly structured exam.

Relationship to Existing Programs

Complements existing accounting and finance courses by adding data analytics competencies increasingly required by the profession.

Contribution to UST Curriculum

Addresses the growing demand for analytics-skilled accounting graduates, strengthening Cameron School of Business's accounting program with practical technology skills employers actively seek.

Student Outcomes

Learning Objective 1: Apply data analytics methods to source, structure, and interpret accounting and financial data for improved decision-making and reporting.

Learning Objective 2: Utilize analytics tools to prepare, validate, and evaluate financial datasets across accounting and finance domains.

Economics and Finance

Department Chair: Dr. Joe Ueng, ueng@stthom.edu

The economics degree programs expose students to social science concepts central to business and governmental decision–making, society's allocation of resources, international relations among competing economies and ethics in commerce. The economics program encompasses micro and macroeconomics, international economics, money and banking, labor markets, cost benefit analysis, economic development and theory. Career opportunities for economics majors include the following:

- Consulting
- Commercial banking
- Investment banking
- Economic research

The finance degree programs provide a solid body of theoretical and practical knowledge of domestic and international finance in the areas of corporate finance, risk management, investments, portfolio management, financial markets, financial planning, financial forecasting and financial institutions. The program prepares students for careers in the field of finance including:

- Financial management
- Risk management
- Portfolio management
- Post-baccalaureate study in business or law

ECON 1331: Principles of Macroeconomics

This course concentrates on analysis of national income, with special attention to the role of monetary and fiscal policies in stabilizing the price level and fostering high levels of employment and rapid economic growth. ECON 3371: Free Enterprise and Conscious Capitalism

This course examines the relationship between Free Enterprise and Conscious Capitalism with a focus on entrepreneurial business enterprises that produce positive impacts in society. Students examine the role of organizational leaders in providing opportunities in support of resourceful and sustainable communities. Students consider the relationship between institutional structures and a flourishing social order as a foundation for entrepreneurial success. Students learn to think critically about the system of democratic capitalism, the role of government and dimensions of the free enterprise system. This includes an understanding of the stakeholder model of business, elements of conscious leadership and management of organizations in a way that provides a sense of meaning and purpose. This is the first course in the Free Enterprise and Entrepreneurship minor progression.

Management/Marketing

Department Chair: Elham Mousavidin, mousave@stthom.edu

Management programs give students a diversified business background combined with focused areas of expertise. Students interested in pursuing careers with corporations or governmental entities or in operating their own businesses are provided exposure to a range of business disciplines.

Marketing programs prepare students for careers developing products and services to satisfy customers' needs and making them available through efficient distribution and optimal pricing strategies. It provides students with an understanding of fundamental concepts, principles, theories, tools and techniques in the following areas:

- Marketing management
- Product design and development
- Distribution
- Pricing
- Promotional techniques and strategies

Success in marketing requires understanding fundamental concepts, principles, theories, tools, and techniques in the areas of product promotion, distribution, and pricing. The Cameron School curriculum is designed to provide this knowledge and to develop competencies which will benefit its graduates throughout their careers.

BIB 4377: Business - Government Relation

The course explores the country risks businesses and non-profits face in the developing world, including government instability, the lack of government capacity, insecurity, dysfunctional legal systems, corruption, human rights violations, poverty, poor infrastructure, and a low level of social service, including poor education and health care. We will look at how entities evaluate these risks before entering a country and how they manage these risks once on the ground. We will also discuss the ethical issues encountered in doing business in developing countries. The course will provide a foundation for anyone interested in doing business or otherwise working in developing countries. While the course is organized around specific risks, it will also review the broader issues common to developing countries.

Description

This course focuses on “Responsible AI” frameworks. Topics include algorithmic bias, IP/copyright issues in generative AI, data privacy regulations (GDPR/CCPA), and establishing governance structures (e.g., AI steering committees/boards) for organizational AI adoption.

Rationale

As artificial intelligence becomes central to business strategy and decision-making, leaders must understand how AI is governed, regulated, and used responsibly. This course equips students with legal, ethical, and organizational frameworks to manage risks such as bias, data privacy, and intellectual property while aligning AI innovation with ethical leadership and the common good.

Description

Successful leadership traits in the criminal justice field with emphasis on a social justice commitment. Areas from setting goals to team building to personal relations and problem solving are covered. Employment opportunities and restrictions in the criminal justice system will be addressed.

Rationale

1. Freshmen in CRIM 1222 struggle in understanding and retaining concepts of leadership

2. This will be a required course for senior level Criminology majors. They should be able to retain the leadership concepts as they enter the workforce.

Relationship to Existing Programs

This course will link well to CRIM 4350 Action Research in Criminal Justice

Contribution to UST Curriculum

Provide a require course for Criminology majors and an elective for all other senior level students

Student Outcomes

1. Knowledge of positive leadership traits and concepts with emphasis on social justice.

2. Describe team building, motivation and catholic social justices and apply to the criminal justice system

3. Be aware of restriction in employment in the criminal justice system.

Projected Enrollment

The current required senior level Criminology courses have an enrollment of 20 to 25 annually. The new course will be offered in the spring with an enrollment of 30.

Staff and Expenses

Adjunct salary unless taught by Criminology director.

Additional expenses in equipment, teaching resources, etc.

Description

This course will replace CRIM 3323 Weapons of Mass Destruction in the Terrorism and Homeland Security Pathway.

Rationale

This course will address the contemporary problem with violent extremism. The current course Weapons of Mass Destruction has become outdated as most terrorism is the act of one individual. Additionally terrorist groups have concentrated on only a few means of destruction, thus the instruction on multiple means of destruction is outdated.

Relationship to Existing Programs

This course will replace CRIM 3323 in the Terrorism and Homeland Security pathway.

Contribution to UST Curriculum

Provide for contemporary topics and discussion

Student Outcomes

1. Identify and analyze the social, political, and psychological drivers that contribute to the spread of violent extremism.
2. Evaluate the effectiveness of Preventing/Countering Violent Extremism (PVE/CVE) initiatives, including international, regional, and local approaches.
3. Critically analyze extremist narratives, misinformation, and propaganda, particularly in online environments.
4. Examine the relationship between countering violent extremism and the rule of law while addressing Catholic Social Justice.

CRIM 3331: Theories of Criminal Behavior

Forensic psychology serves as the overlap between the forensic system (legal) and psychological system (study of thoughts and behaviors). Within the legal system, there are two distinct sectors (criminal and civil). This course will focus specifically on the criminal sector as we look into the multifaceted explanations of why individuals take part in criminal acts, and in some ways why individuals may be more likely to be victims of those acts. Students will examine the leading theories utilized to understand and explain criminal behaviors. These theories range in their explanation of factors leading to criminal behaviors. Each presents its own explanation in ways that may make sense when understanding some crimes but appear to have little applicability when describing others.

Description

This course is part of a new pathway in Criminology, Law and Society entitled Forensic Psychology. The pathway will consist of this course, plus Forensic Psychology and the Law as well as PSYC

Rationale

There is a large demand both by the students and from employers to have advanced knowledge of forensic psychology.

Relationship to Existing Programs

This is a partnership with the Psychology Department. Dr. Tran was part of the development committee.

Contribution to UST Curriculum

The new pathway will make the UST curriculum contemporary to student demands for knowledge.

This is the second course in the Forensic Psychology pathway in the Criminology, Law and Society degree.

The pathway will consist of, and in this order:

PSYC3337 Abnormal Psychology

CRIM 3331 Theories of Criminal Behavior

CRIM 3332 Forensic Psychology and the Law

All Criminology majors must complete one pathway in the degree plan. The current pathways are Human Trafficking, Terrorism and Homeland Security, Social Justice.

Student Outcomes

1. Explain the psychological foundations of criminal behavior, including cognitive, personality, developmental, and psychopathological perspectives.
2. Analyze how psychological processes such as learning, cognition, emotion regulation, personality traits, and mental health factors contribute to the development and maintenance of criminal behavior.
3. Evaluate the empirical support, strengths, and limitations of competing theories of criminal behavior as they apply to diverse populations and offense types.
4. Apply theories of criminal behavior to real-world case examples to assess implications for prevention, intervention, and criminal justice policy.
5. Distinguish between legal (e.g., not guilty by reason of insanity) and psychological explanations of criminal behavior.

CRIM 3371: Race, Ethnicity & Criminal Justice

This course examines different issues of race and ethnicity as they relate to the criminal justice system in America. One of the most important points that students should take into consideration, is that historically as well as in modern times, racism, differential treatment by the criminal justice system, and discrimination have been part of the structure of American society. This course further focuses on social, institutional, political, as well as economic factors that have contributed to racial discrimination and biases in the criminal justice system. Finally, this course considers different measures that have or should be taken into consideration in order to address the problems of the past and present.

Description

This course introduces students to the knowledge and skills needed for medical calculation for nursing. This course reviews basic math skills ensuring students have a foundation on which to build to more complex concepts in calculations. A step-by-step approach to solving calculations is provided in four methods which allows students to use the most relevant techniques for their success. The application of calculations and algebraic functions are addressed, including weight-based medication doses and critical care intravenous medication calculations.

Rationale

The course is reduced to a 1 credit course. The lab component has been removed due to redundancy in multiple nursing courses.

NURS 3391: Nursing Externship

This three-credit elective course provides students the opportunity to participate as a member of an international community of practice, focusing on the development of clinical reasoning, service learning, and professional development with the support of faculty and role models from the selected community of practice. Nursing as a profession is rooted in the belief that it is a spiritual calling committed to healing on a global level to matter where care is delivered. Nursing focuses on creating the conditions and relationships necessary for healing to occur by caring for the patient's body, mind, and spirit in a culturally diverse setting. Study abroad trips to selected countries provide an opportunity for nursing students to partner with international health care providers to deliver healthcare and community services in regions of the world. Students will participate in pre-training and debriefing sessions. This course provides a doorway of opportunity for study abroad externships and nursing research collaboration.

UNIV 3350: Ethical Leadership

This course introduces students to the foundational issues in the study of ethical leadership. The first part of the course will examine key theoretical problems that have occupied moral and political thinkers from Plato and Aristotle to St Thomas Aquinas and the American Founders: What makes a leader successful? What sort of characteristics and virtues are necessary for leadership? What kind of education and formation do leaders need? Is there a distinctly practical form of wisdom and how can it be acquired? Who are moral exemplars and how can we identify them? What kinds of societies and political regimes best serve to encourage good leaders and to constrain bad ones? How might power tempt and corrupt leaders? How might this be resisted? What is the relationship between leadership and morality? What functions does leadership fill, and what challenges do leaders face, in modern democratic states? How do the various forms of leadership (business, political, military, moral, and spiritual) relate to one another? The second half of the course will look at leaders in action, charting the efforts of politicians, intellectuals, grassroots activists, and moral and spiritual leaders to respond to the challenges of their time and shape the worlds in which they live.

The course will teach students the skills of writing and research processes. Students will develop ideas and synthesize primary and secondary sources within focused academic arguments, including one or more research-based essays. Analyze, interpret, and evaluate a variety of texts for the ethical and logical uses of evidence. Students will learn to write in a style that clearly communicates meaning, builds credibility, and inspires belief or action. Apply the conventions of style manuals for documents (APA or MLA).

Description

Fundamental principles of living organisms will be studied, including physical and chemical properties of life, organization, function, evolutionary adaptation, and classification. Concepts of cytology, reproduction, genetics, and scientific reasoning are included.

Lab Description: Laboratory activities will reinforce the fundamental principles of living organisms, including physical and chemical properties of life, organization, function, evolutionary adaptation, and classification. Study and examination of the concepts of cytology, reproduction, genetics, and scientific reasoning are included.

Rationale

The course was originally approved as a lecture-only format. To align with current academic standards and enhance the rigor and comprehensiveness of the curriculum, a laboratory component is now required. This addition will ensure the course meets the highest educational standards and supports students' ability to successfully transfer the course toward advanced degree programs.

Student Outcomes

Upon successful completion of this course, students will demonstrate an understanding of fundamental biological principles and processes that form the foundation for advanced study in the life sciences. Students will be able to:

- Explain the molecular, cellular, and genetic basis of life.
- Describe the structure and function of cells, including energy transformations and cellular reproduction.
- Apply the principles of Mendelian and molecular genetics to analyze patterns of inheritance.

- Interpret experimental data and apply the scientific method to biological investigations.
- Relate biological concepts to health, environmental, and technological applications within applied science fields.
- Communicate scientific information effectively through written, oral, and laboratory-based formats.

GENS 1440: Fundamentals of Chemistry I

Part of GENS AAS program

Student Outcomes

Learning Outcomes: Upon successful completion of this course, students will demonstrate a foundational understanding of chemical principles and their practical applications in scientific and technical fields. Students will be able to:

- Explain fundamental concepts of matter, atomic structure, chemical bonding, and periodic relationships.
- Apply principles of stoichiometry, chemical reactions, and states of matter to solve quantitative and qualitative problems.

- Interpret and analyze data from laboratory experiments using appropriate measurement techniques and safety protocols.
- Relate chemical concepts to real-world processes relevant to applied sciences and industry.
- Communicate scientific information effectively through written reports, calculations, and laboratory documentation.

Rationale

This course is part of a program designed to provide students with the skills needed for employment as a Psychiatric or Mental Health Technician and pass the MHTC exam offered by the American Medical Certification Association.

Relationship to Existing Programs

Students interested in employment in mental health environments. This course will address the needed mental health knowledge and skills as well as an enhancement for addiction studies program

Contribution to UST Curriculum

1) Provide program that is required for newer certifications in field of mental health treatment

2) Provide a Catholic principled based education for a growing field need for entry level mental health workers needed nationally

3) Offer program being offered in other college campuses outside the area that will allow for the many opportunities for entry level employment in mental health environments in Harris County.

Student Outcomes

Critical Thinking Skills	Creative thinking, innovation, inquiry, and analysis, evaluation and synthesis of information
Communication Skills	Effective development, interpretation and expression of ideas through written, oral and visual communication
Empirical and Quantitative Skills	Manipulation and analysis of numerical data or observable facts resulting in informed conclusions
Personal Responsibility	Ability to connect choices, actions and consequences to ethical decision-making
Social Responsibility	Intercultural competence, knowledge of civic responsibility, and the ability to engage effectively in regional, national, and global communities
Teamwork	Ability to consider different points of view and to work effectively with others to support a shared purpose or goal
Content Knowledge	Recall facts, explain principles and theories, apply factual knowledge and skills based on ethics, principles and theories to solve problems in mental health settings
Employment Skills	Conduct a job search, demonstrate behaviors that increase the likelihood of receiving offers of employment, describe strategies for career advancement

Description

This course provides an overview of the social work profession, including its history, values, ethics, and roles in supporting individuals, families, and communities. Students explore the principles of case management, client advocacy, community resources, and culturally competent practice. Emphasis is placed on understanding the social, emotional, and environmental factors that influence mental health and substance use, preparing students to collaborate effectively in interdisciplinary care settings and promote holistic, client-centered support.

Rationale

An Introduction to Social Work course is essential in a Mental Health and Addictions Associate Degree program because it provides students with foundational knowledge of social work principles, ethics, and practices that are closely aligned with mental health and substance use care. The course equips students to understand the role of social workers in assessment, advocacy, and intervention, enhancing their ability to collaborate effectively within interdisciplinary teams.

By exploring topics such as case management, community resources, client advocacy, and culturally competent care, students gain practical skills for supporting clients' social, emotional, and environmental needs. Offering this course strengthens the program's emphasis on holistic, client-centered care, prepares students for professional practice, and fosters ethical and compassionate responses to complex social and behavioral health challenges.

Relationship to Existing Programs

Related to Substance Abuse Counseling program and Human Services Associates degree

Contribution to UST Curriculum

Social workers are the fastest growing human services profession and all students entering any human services profession should have basic knowledge of the differences between field of sociology, social work, addictions counseling and psychology.

Student Outcomes

Potential Student Outcomes: Upon successful completion of the course, the student will:

1.Understand the history of the social work profession and the American social welfare system.

2. Demonstrate awareness of personal values and their potential impact on social work practice.

3. Develop an ability to see one's own life and problems in a broader social systems context and see the linkages between individual problems, social issues and the general theories and methods underlying the social work profession.

4. Analyze, explain and identify the gaps in current social services designed to meet modern social problems

5. Develop an understanding of the relevant ethical issues, professional organizations and regulatory agencies within the discipline.

6. Demonstrate understanding of differences between social work and psychology professions and appropriate use of various human services disciplines

Description
Course Description: A course that applies sociological principles to analyze major social issues in contemporary society. Students learn to identify, explain, and address problems like inequality, crime, substance abuse, deviance, and environmental issues using sociological perspectives. The course typically uses scientific and empirical methods to examine these problems from a social and cultural viewpoint, recognizing that social problems are conditions with negative consequences for large numbers of people.
Rationale
This course explores major social issues—such as inequality, crime, substance abuse, family problems, environmental challenges, and deviance—through the lens of sociological theory and empirical research. Students analyze the root causes, consequences, and societal responses to these problems at individual, community, national, and global levels.

The course develops critical thinking, research, and analytical skills while fostering social awareness, ethical reasoning, and civic responsibility. Integrating principles of Catholic Social Teaching, students learn to approach social problems with compassion, respect for human dignity, and a commitment to justice.

By combining theoretical understanding with practical applications, this course prepares students for careers in mental health, social services, criminal justice, and other professions where addressing societal challenges with knowledge and empathy is essential.
Relationship to Existing Programs
Related to the Sociology, Social work and Addictions programs currently offered

Contribution to UST Curriculum

The Sociology of Social Problems course enhances the university curriculum by fostering interdisciplinary understanding, critical thinking, and analytical skills. It develops students' ethical reasoning, civic engagement, and cultural awareness while preparing them for professional careers in mental health, social services, public policy, and related fields. By addressing social issues at local, national, and global levels, the course supports general education goals, promotes applied learning, and equips students to engage thoughtfully and responsibly with complex societal challenges.

Student Outcomes

Upon successful completion of this course, students will:

1. Acquire and utilize information within the social sciences, specifically relating to social problems.
2. Engage in creative thinking, make informed decisions, and apply reasoning when recognizing and interpreting deviant behavior.
3. Explain the nature and scope of crime as a social problem.

Description
This is a course that will be offered to any interested students regardless of major, and an audition will not be required. It will be a chance for students to learn how to perform music for the Catholic liturgy, and it will involve performing in one or two daily Masses per week.
Rationale
This is a course that we used to offer at St. Thomas, and a current music faculty member would like to revive it to make a class available to any interested students who would like to learn to perform music in a liturgical context. It can also help attract students to major or minor in music.
